GOULD SLATE FOR ROAD BOARD GOES

Independent Faction Among Missouri Pacific Stockholders Wins.

ONE MAN VOTES FOR SELF

R. Lancaster Williams Gets Highest Vote of Any Director--Kuhn-Lock Interests Make No Opposition to Him.

ST. LOUIS, March 14 .- An independent faction among the stockholders in the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain Railroads broke the Kuhn-Loeb-George J. Gould slate at the election of direc-J. Gould slate at the election of directors of the two roads today four men not on the original list being among those chosen. One of these was R. Lancaster Williams, leader of the "independents," who received the highest vote of any director. He obtained proxies for $2,029 shares of stock and voted each share 12 times for himself, making a total of 1,066,507 votes.

Each of the other 12 directors re-Each of the other 12 directors re-ceived 621,746 votes. Of the $30,000 shares of stock, 655,900 were voted.

Election Is Quiet.

Beside Williams, the new directors not on the slate are E. B. Pryor, now fourth vice-president of the Wabash; S. F. Pryor, former purchasing agent of the Missouri Pacific, and Charles I. Clark, first vice-president of the road. The election of directors, which a month age threatened to be exciting, passed off quietly. It means a reorganisation of the railway and the retirement of George J. Gould from the presidency to chairman of the board.

The independents won representation on the board without opposition. The Kuhn, Loeb Company and allies, when they saw Williams had sufficient votes to elect himself, made no protest.

Charles I. Clarke cast the votes for the Kuhn, Loeb-Rockefeller interests. Mr. Clarke took J. J. Slocum's place on the directorate. It is helleved that Mr. Clarke will retire as director in favor of the new president, when he is elected.

Changes Are Announced.

Changes Are Announced.

Soon after the polls opened it was announced that several changes would be made in the slate proposed in George J. Gould's scheme of February 15. The votes of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and allies of the independents were cast for the following:

following:
George J. Gould, Frederick D. Gates,
Cornelius Vanderbilt, E. T. Jeffrey, Edgar L. Marston, Paul M. Warburg, Edwin Gould, Kingdon Gould, E. D. Adams, E. B. Pryor, S. E. Proyor, C. S. Clark and R. Lancaster Williams.
W. K. Bixby and O. L. Garrison, of St. Louis, and J. J. Slocum, of the Sage Interests, retired and said they did not meak to be directors.

He intends to travel over every line in the city and over every suburban road of the company before he outlines his prothe company before he outlines his pro-gramme for service.

Mr Hild's acceptance of this important position will relieve Mr. Josselyn of a multitude of duties. Since the de-parture of F. F. Barbur, assistant to the president, Mr. Josselyn's responsithe president, Mr. Josselyn's responsibilities have increased, but since then he has been looking for a capable man to take the office of general manager of the entire business. Mr. Hild will have charge of the lighting and power departments as well as of the street railway service. His past experiences in Havana and in other places where he has served as an operating official well qualify him for his many responsibilities. In Havana Mr. Hild had charge of the reorganization of the service and of the practical reconstruction of much of the system. He is qualified as an engineer as well as a manager and in outlining new work his services here are expected to be of unusual value. Before going to Cuba unusual value. Before going to Cuba he was established as a consulting en-gineer with headquarters in Chicago and during this time aided in the construction of many important railway projects in Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois and other middle western states.

Mr. Hild will become a resident of Portland at once. He says he is de-lighted with Portland and will send for Mrs. Hild to come here as so convenient. She is at present in Havana, having remained there with the expectation of Mr. Hild's return. When he left Havana he did not anticipate that he would arrange to remain

Judge Insists He Will Get Jury for Camorra Case.

MEN FLEE FROM DUTY

Fear That Condemnation of Members of Band Will Be Avenged Strikes Terror-Four Are Secured. However.

VITERBO, Italy, March 14.—Cavaliere Bianchi, president of the court, set about getting a jury to try the 38 members of the Neapolitan Camorra by methods that promised results despite the terror that has filled the hearts the terror that has filled the hearts of the citizens at the possibility of being obliged to condemn those whose deaths would be pretty sure to be avenged, unless the whole dangerous element of the society was wiped out. When sourt opened the president at once imposed heavy fines on those known to have left town to escape jury duty, and threatened that he would have others who had made excuses for not appearing when summoned brought to the bar by carbineers. The whole forenoon was taken up in an attempt to fill the jury benches.

It was a nervous day in Viterbo. The residents, who had hailed the trial as a boon because it would bring to town residents, who had hailed the trial as a boon because it would bring to town thousands of strangers who must be sheltered and fed, have found themselves confronted with an alarming situation. No one familiar with the workings of the "beautiful reformed society" has anything but sympathy for those who shrink from the civic duty imposed.

Nevertheless, progress was made.

Nevertheless, progress was made, and early in the day all but four of the necessary jurors had been secured. At this point the resources of the court falled and an adjournment until tomorrow was taken.

OGDEN REID IS MARRIED

Ambassador's Son Takes Mother's Secretary as Wife.

RACINE. Wis. March 14 .- In Racine College Chapel, at noon today, Miss Helen Miles Rogers, daughter of Mrs. Benjamin Talbot Rogers, of this city, and Ogden Mills Reid, of New York, son of Ambassador Whitelaw Reid, were united in marriage. Rev. Dr. 1. Taibot Rogers, of Fond du Lac. Wis., brother of the bride, performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid were present.

Simplicity marked the affair because of the Lenten season and no reception followed the ceremony. Miss Mary Eaton and James R. Miller, of New York City, acted for the bride and groom, respectively.

Among the many gifts was a huge silver piece inscribed "Ogden Reid, from the men who worked with Mr. Reid on the New York Tribune."

This afternoon the bridal party and out-of-town guests left for Chicago on a special train, whence Mr. and Mrs. Reid will go to Mexico for a six weeks' honeymoen. They will reside in New York.
