

M'FARLAND HAS BEST OF MORAN

Chicago Fighter Outpoints Englishman in Fast 10-Round Bout.

"PACKEY'S" WORK CLEVER

American Rains Body Blows on British Pugilist and When Later Comes Back He Eludes Vicious Thrusts.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Packey McFarland, the Chicago lightweight, outpointed Owen Moran, claimant to the English lightweight championship, at every stage of their 10-round fight before the Fairmont Athletic Club here tonight.

It was a clean, hard-fought battle throughout, in which the Chicago boy fully demonstrated his superiority in boxing over the Englishman. McFarland was always there with a clean punch and when Moran reached for him he found him most elusive.

Both fighters were weighed in at 135 pounds at 5 o'clock, but those at the ringside gave the Chicago man a slight advantage in weight, when the fight began.

McFarland depended chiefly on body blows, reaching Moran with rights and lefts before the heart. At close quarters he had a distinct advantage over the Englishman.

Neither suffered much punishment until the seventh round, when McFarland reached Moran with a stiff body blow, and sent him reeling across the ring. Following this with two rights to the jaw, he had Moran staggering and the crowd began to cheer. McFarland hit Moran's body, right and left, with vicious punches.

Although outclassed, Moran put up a good fight and gave McFarland a stiff one, but could not stand. McFarland hit and again jumped away from his punches with a smile of assurance.

LEAGUE SEEKS SPECIAL RATES

Dugdale and Cohn in Portland to Deal With Railroad Officials.

Joseph P. Cohn, president of the Spokane, Indiana, and D. B. Dugdale, of the Seattle club, of the Northwestern League left for their respective homes last night. It was learned yesterday the object of the visit to Portland was to persuade the North Bank Railroad officials to grant the league a special rate for the use of the North Bank western League one and one-third fare railroad rates in Washington. Whether they were successful in this particular quest they did not say.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Or., March 14.—(Special.)—The basketball team of the Gamma Delta Gamma Sorority won the silver cup offered by the editor of the Oregon Emerald, for co-ed basketball, defeating the Kappa Alpha Theta team Sunday by 9 to 8.

This is the first year that the women of the University of Oregon have played basketball extensively, and the first time that a trophy has been offered for inter-sorority athletic contests, with the exception of the prize awarded annually for women's tennis. Seven sororities had teams in the field in the contest for the Emerald cup.

BEAVERS HIT BALL

GOUGH IS BATTING STAR

He Gets Home-Run, Double and Single—Hard Hitting Is One of Features of Contest at Training Camp at Santa Maria.

SANTA MARIA, Cal., March 14.—

(Special.)—Reinforced by the addition of Irvin Gough, who arrived here this morning, and the substitution of Bill Rodgers at second base for Eddie Mensor, who was switched to the Coyote team, Manager McCredie's Beavers finally won a practice game, by the score of 8 to 4.

Gough is 20 pounds heavier than when he played with Portland in 1909. The Portland players continue to reiterate the home-run habit, for two more circuit swats over the fence were seen in today's game, which was hotly contested until Al Arlett blew up in the sixth inning and the Beavers landed on him for four hits and five runs, one of which was a "home" by Gough, with two on base.

Previous to that time, the Coyotes had a three-to-one lead, and Ryan felt certain of victory, as Sam Griffith had been pitching gilt-edge ball for four innings after which he was relieved by Arlett, who was bombarded hard in the fatal sixth.

Gough was the batting hero of the day. He scored a single and a double in addition to his "home," in four times up. Walter Kuhn ran him a close second, with two doubles and a single. McCredie also negotiated three hits. Ryan hooked up one out of the lot in the eighth and is now a full-fledged member of the home-run club being organized among the Portland players.

This is the first game won by a club piloted by McCredie in the interclub contest during the Spring training in three years and the manager is tickled tonight for getting back at Buddy Ryan for all the "kidding" the "clever" outfielder has indulged in at "McCreedie's" expense.

Ryan maintains that he would have beaten McCredie again if the latter had left Griffith in the box or had allowed Buddy to use any twirls he wanted to.

The Coyotes found Pitchers Archer and Russell of McCredie's team for six innings.

IRVINGTON CLUB NAMES NEW HEAD OF TENNIS COMMITTEE.

Walter D. Brewer.

Walter D. Brewer, among the most prominent tennis players of Portland, and formerly well-known as one of the cleverest hockey players of the city, was yesterday appointed chairman of the Irvington Club tennis committee by President Woodward of the club.

Mr. Brewer's appointment will meet with the hearty approval of the tennis players of the city as well as the Irvington club members, as the new chairman has long served on various tennis committees, and is an earnest worker when tournaments are on and require capable handling. It is probable that before the week is out, Chairman Brewer will name the members of the committee who will work with him in the coming season, which promises especially bright for the Irvington Club.

ROADSTERS NOW COMING

PLAYERS TO BE PRECEDED BY NICK WILLIAMS.

Arrangements Not Yet Made for Training Grounds for Portland Northwestern League Team.

Bringing with him several California recruits, Nick Williams, manager of the Northwestern League team, representing Portland, will probably arrive in Portland Saturday or Sunday. Hugh McCredie, secretary of the Portland Baseball Club, received a communication from Manager Walter McCredie yesterday to that effect.

Immediately upon his arrival there will be a call issued for all Portland recruits to assemble. Manager Williams has several business transactions to make before everything is ready for his "Roadster" recruits. Contrary to earlier reports no arrangements have as yet been made for the use of the Columbia University campus and coliseum for training quarters. Columbia University is willing that the professional players should use the grounds.

George Ort, one of the men Williams depends upon, has been engaged as coach at Columbia University, and is eager for the Columbia lads and the Northwesterners to meet in a series of games. Williams' team has been booked for several exhibition games with the fast Portland semi-professional teams, Gresham being one of the ones to be played.

One of the men Williams will probably bring North with him is Fred Amey, the little fellow who worked for Danny Long on the San Francisco Club last season. He and Williams have been battery partners, and Amey is expected to be one of the mainstays in the box, along with Jesse Garrett, the Beaver lad, who opened the local season against Oakland last year.

Transportation will be telegraphed to about 20 men when Williams gets here, and the men will be ordered to report by Saturday, March 25 or 26, at the latest. Secretary McCredie does not expect any trouble from players in reporting late.

"Dolly" Gray, the ex-Los Angeles southpaw, has reported to Washington in the best condition he ever began a season. Gray played in the outfield for a California League team for several weeks before leaving for the training camp.

"Bobby" Groom, the tall lad who pitched for Portland several years ago, has been studying medicine at St. Louis. By playing basket ball all Winter Groom kept himself in good condition, and is experiencing no difficulty in getting into condition. Groom was center on the Medical College quirt.

"Happy" Hogan, of Vernon, is more optimistic over this season's team than he has been since the Los Angeles suburb was accepted as a member of the Pacific Coast League. "Hap" says his team is 50 per cent stronger than last season. He hopes it out that the Beavers were more than 75 per cent stronger than the Villagers last year, and no stronger this season, and therefore, with a 50 per cent stronger team, clear sailing for the Villagers will be had to the pennant.

The contract has been let by Hugh McCredie for several new gates in Recreation Park. Congestion at a lone gate, as last year, will be no more, it is thought.

WASHINGTON HIGH WINS CITY TITLE

Columbia University Basketball Tossers Lose Deciding Game of Season.

FINAL SCORE IS 33 TO 24

Teams Battle Hard on Even Basis Until Near End, When Spurt Carries Victors to Interscholastic Championship.

Throwing four baskets in the last two minutes of play, ending the most sensational basketball game ever played on the Y. M. C. A. floor, Washington High School yesterday afternoon won the interscholastic championship of Portland by defeating Columbia University, last year's champions, 33 to 24. Washington was superior at all stages of yesterday's game. Only once did Columbia threaten to take the lead when the score was tied during the latter part of the second half.

Fighting for every point, the players seemed only able to make baskets on consolation shots with men virtually hanging about their necks. The passing was superb and the shooting was good, with the champions having the better of the argument.

Columbia lacked its old dash and vim and Washington repeatedly beat the Columbia men at speedy play. Working in good harmony throughout the earlier moments of the game, Captain George McLaren, Foster, Parsons and Irie ran up a score of 18 to 12 on Washington by the time half time was called. Washington took the lead immediately after the game began with two baskets quick as a flash.

When the second half began Columbia started a game uphill fight and tied the score at 23 to 22. Washington scored a basket and Columbia duplicated the feat, but when Captain George tossed a foul Columbia was put behind and the Washington men ran in four baskets in less than two minutes and a championship was won and lost.

Captain George played a sensational game and by his showing yesterday can be ranked as one of the best forwards in Portland. He alone scored 15 points, many of which were made from fouls accurately tossed without hitting the rim of the basket. Parsons and McLaren each contributed eight points toward the aggregate of 33, while Foster made the remaining two.

For Columbia Kellner was the best point-guard, scoring five baskets from guard position. Reed and Fitzgerald got eight and six points respectively.

The largest crowd of the season was out to see the game and the several hundred persons were kept on their feet continually by the repeated brilliant play. The final game of the interscholastic basketball series will be played Thursday afternoon between Jefferson and Lincoln high schools. The players in yesterday's game were:

W. H. S. George (captain) ... F. Fitzgerald (captain) ... Kellner ... Reed ... Parsons ... G. ... Kelleher ... Livingston ... Livingstone ... Umpire—Charles Mackie.

Pope Hartford. A Larger Valve and a Longer Stroke Than Ever Before. It means more reserve power for emergencies. You have noticed that one after another many other makers of high grade cars have come to the conclusion that the large valve and the long stroke is THE THING. That is why so many of them are discarding their old style of motor for the large valve, long stroke style. Motors have been of the large valve, long stroke style ever since 1906. Every year since then this style of motor has been retained. They have been successful from the very start. They have been improved along these same lines until with the 1911 Model-W, listed at 50 H. P., you get an abundance of reserve power, this motor developing considerably more than 50 H. P. As a result the Pope Hartford is extremely easy riding. Model W. is a $3000 car. For the price there is no car on the market that will give its owner the perfect satisfaction that is evidenced by the words of praise from Pope Hartford owners.
