TACOMA VOTES TO ABOLISH TREATING

Ordinance Passes at First Special Election on Referendum.

WOMEN OPPOSE MEASURE

Under New Law Husbands May Be Prohibited From Buying Wives Even Glass-of Beer In Cafes Where Liquor Is Sold.

TACOMA, Wash, March 21 .- (Special.)-With more than half the registered vote cust, the anti-treating or dinance carried today by a comfortable majority in Tacoma. Henceforth it will be unlawful to buy a friend a drink in be unlawful to buy a friend a drink in any saloon in the city. It may even be unlawful so much as to take your wife into a cafe where liquors are sold and buy her a glass of beer or a glass of champagne, unless the courts shall hold that a man and his wife are "one." Out of a registration of 21,587, including between $990 and 7000 women, the total vote cast in 72 precincts out of 73 in the city was 13,492. Of these $123 voted in favor of the anti-treating ordinance and $279 voted against it. The missing precincts will not affect the result.

the result. The vote was unusually heavy for a special election, but much interest was manifested in the freak measure, added to which is that it was Tacoma's first referendum election and the ordinance referendum election and the ordinance must now stand as a law until repealed by a majority vote of the people and cannot be repealed by the commission. Women were at the polis in goodly numbers. So many men were seen on the streets in company with their wives as to existe comment, husbands and wives going to the poils together. According to reports from election officials a goodly share of the women were against the ordinance, regarding it wholly as a politi-cal scheme framed by Mayor Pawcett to help offset his recall at the recall election due April 4. For example, in the Tenth Precinct of the Second Ward a well-to-do North End district, there were 114 votes against the ordinance and 61 in its favor, 55 women voting in

ANOTHER EDDY HEIR FOUND

Grandnephew of Mrs. Eddy Claims Share of Her Estate.

CONCORD, N. H., March 21,-John P. grand-nephew of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, today filed a petition in the Superior Court asking leave to intervene in the suit now pending in that court in the suit new pending in that court against Henry M. Haker, executor of the Eddy estate.

In this suit, brought by George W. Glover, of Lead, S. D., Mrs. Eddy's son, and Dr. E. J. Foster Eddy, of Waterbury, Vt., her adopted son, the plaintiffs claim that the residuary clause of Mrs. Eddy's will bequeathing $2,500,000 to the Christian Science Church is void and ask that the court order the residue of the estate to be given to them as next of kin.

John P. Baker wishes to intervene because, if the court should declare the residuary clause invalid, he would be entitled to a share as one of the next of kin.

of Kin.

George W. Baker also filed in the United States District Court today a petition to intervene in the suit brought in that court against Executor Henry M. Baker by Dr. Foster Eddy. The issues are practically the same as those involved in the suit in the state court, but George Baker says that George W. Glover and Dr. Foster Eddy forfeited ctically the same as those their rights to any part of the estate by their agreement with Mrs. Eddy whereby she settled certain sums of money on them.

GIVE SURVEYORS' IDENTITY

Crew on White Salmon Employed by Pacific Power & Light Company.

HUSUM. Wash. March II.—(Special.)
—The identity of the mysterious crew of surveyors who have been working along the White Salmon River for the past 50 days has been clearly defined by President Talbot, of the Pacific Fower & Light Company, with head-quarters at Portland According to Mr. Talbot's statement given to The Oregonian, the recent purchasers of the plant of the Husum Fower Company and the owners of the power sites now being surveyed, belong to the Pacific Power & Light Co.

River men nasert that logs cannot be successfully floated down the river where high dams are to be contended with. This fact they declare will compel the Wind River Lumber Company, or any other company, to build a ralireed up the valley should the lumber industry continue to exist.

Citizens here are sanguine that the power company will ultimately use part of the power for electric rallway purposes, and that a line up this valley will be one of the projects contemplated.

LEBANON FIR TREE IS MOST PECULIAR PREAK OF NATURE.

Pir Landmark Owned by Albany

ALBANY, Or., March 21 .- (Spe Albany, or, March 21.—(special.)—A fir tree so pruned by nature that a mass of branches forms a ball at the top of the tree stands on a hillside four miles south of Lebanon. It is a most peculiar freak of nature, and, so far as known, no other tree bus ever been found like this one in all the millions of fir trees in Oregon. The tree etands on a ranch owned by J. G. Crawford, of Albany, who made the ac-companying picture when at the

The tree is a second growth fir, apparently about 40 years old. It is about 50 feet high and old. It is about 50 feet high and probably 20 inches in diameter at the base. It has ordinary branches most of the way to the top, when the branches grow out into a thick bunch, forming a ball about 17 feet in diameter. The most peculiar feature of this freak is that this ball of foliage is symmetrical and is pruned by nature as neatly as a carefully-pruned shrub, on a well-kept lawn.

The bunch of foliage on this tree is accordingly notable and out of the ordinary for four rea-sons. In that it is almost twice as large as such bunches have ever before been known to grow in Oregon, in that it is on an in Oregon, in that it is on an ordinary fir tree, and also at the top of the tree, and because the growth is even and uniform all over the foliage, thus forming a

NEWPORT, Or., March 21 .- (Special.) NEWPORT, Or., March 21.—(Special.)
—Word was received here this afternoon that another row on the Siletz Reservation near Cance Landing, four or five miles from the agency, has aroused the Indians. Loyal Chandler, a white homesteader, is said to have shot Jim Warner, an Indian, through the head with a 25-caliber Colt's antomatic pistol. The builet struck Warner over the right eye, passed out through the back of his head and lodged in a wall of the room where the shooting took place.

After a physician from the Agency dressed the wound. Warner walked about Chandler, it is said, then went to the home of another homosteader named Bradfield and threatened the whole family with death, boasting that he had already killed one man and wounded another. Bradfield, armed with a shotgun, forced Chandler to go away.

Shooting was heard last night at Chandler's cabin and it is thought he may have killed some one. He is still at large, armed with a rifle and an automatic pistol.

Sheriff Geer and a posse are searching for him, but the rough and heavily timbered country makes his capture a difficult task. After a physician from the Agency
