Willamette Sewing Machines Have Stood Test of Time

Sewing Machine Dept. Fourth Floor

FOR ten years now we have been selling Willamette Sewing Machines—Every part of Portland and the Northwest is dotted with thousands of homes where there's a "Willamette." Go into any one of them and you'll find the machine practically as good as the day it left our hands. But why? Listen, here's the reason: Willamette Machines can't be compared with any other brand at equal prices! They're made for us on contract—according to our own specifications and ideas—by one of the world's largest Sewing Machine factories. Willamette Machines incorporate all the best points of other makes. Come in today and let us explain fully the merits of our famous Willamette Machines. Read the full descriptions of the various models below.

Willamette "C," Model 124—$23.50

THIS model supplies a long-felt want for a strictly high-class sewing machine at a very modest price. We have no hesitation in fully indorsing it to our friends and stand ready to guarantee that it will give long and satisfactory service. Description—Mission design, quarter-sawed oak drop cabinet with automatic lifting device for raising sewing head to position. The Stand, which is ball-bearing and easy-running, is attractively designed and well finished. Mounted with the highest model Willamette sewing head, which has no silencers and few equals, and accompanied with a splendid set of nickel-plated steel foot attachments. Priced at $23.50

Willamette "C," Model 104—$26.50

HERE is another attractive model which is certain to greatly please you. It is serpentine design and the finish is quite equal to that applied to the best grades of pianos. A sewing machine agent would charge you from $40 to $50 for a sewing machine actually inferior to this one. Description—The Sewing Head is the easy-running, perfect-stitching Willamette "C." The Case is an automatic drop head and is built of extra fine quarter-sawed oak with mirror finish. Mounted on the easy-running ball-bearing Willamette "C" Stand, equipped with a magnificent set of steel foot attachments. Special at only $26.50

The Willamette Cabinet Machine

YOU will fall in love with this exquisite Art Desk Cabinet Willamette "C" Machine. It is fully enclosed and when not in use it in no way resembles a sewing machine and may be utilized as a desk or table. Description—This Cabinet is built of the choicest selected quarter-sawed oak with beautiful flaky grain. The Sewing Head rests inside the cabinet, from which position it is raised to position by means of an automatic lifting device. See description of the Willamette "C" Sewing Head. The attachments are supplied entirely free of charge.

Willamette Cabinet $35 Machine, golden oak $35 Willamette Cabinet $40 Machine in Mission $40

Willamette Rotary, $31.50

HERE is a Rotary Sewing Machine at a price actually less than you will be obliged to pay elsewhere for the common type of machine. Notwithstanding this fact this rotary is strictly reliable, most satisfactory and durable. Description—High arm improved rotary sewing head, well finished and equipped in every detail; golden oak embossed cabinet of attractive design with automatic lifting device. Improved easy running ball-bearing stand and attachments are included at this price. The Willamette Rotary, $31.50 Model 1410 A, at $31.50

Willamette "D," Priced at $20.00

WE OFFER in this Willamette "D" the very best low-priced Sewing Machine the market affords. It is an up-to-date model of handsome design and we take pleasure in recommending it to those requiring a reliable, durable family Sewing Machine at a very low price. Description—High arm double lock-stitch sewing head with many improvements. Improved oak drop head of excellent quality, equipped with an automatic lifting device for elevating sewing head to position. It is entirely unlike anything you have ever seen and its severely beautiful mission lines will strongly appeal to the discriminating. With one of these machines in your home you will be the envy and despair of your neighbors. Description—Mission design, full drop front, quarter-sawed oak case with piano finish. Automatic lifting device for raising head to position. Mounted with the highest grade Willamette "C" sewing head and equipped with complete set of nickel-plated steel foot attachments. The stand is ball-bearing, and it runs easily and quietly. $35.50; in mission, only $35 The price in beautiful golden oak is

WEDDING POINTS MORAL OF SERMON

Ceremony in Church Follows Address on "Marriage--Science or Lottery?"

LONG COURTSHIP ADVISED

Rev. D. H. Trimble Believes That "Love at First Sight" May Be Deceiving--Young Often Do Not Know Own Minds.

Rev. Delmar H. Trimble, pastor of Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, East Ninth and East Pine streets, established a new custom last night when he preached a sermon on "Marriage: Is It a Science or a Lottery?" and concluded by performing a wedding ceremony. Daniel H. Amason, of the Home Land Company, and Miss Mary P. Young were the principals in this unique service.

the bird shines, may be exceedingly unsafe. It may be well for young people to be interested in one another, but they ought to know why. Well to love, but they should know what they are loving. The basis for interest should be something deeper than an attraction of the mere outward person. True love invests its object with a character and its current is no passing shallow thing, but runs as deep as the human soul and is as divine in character as God's own love.

Love at First Sight Doubtful. "Love at first sight? Mere fancy and will-o'-the-wisp; love finds its basis in character and character is not revealed at first sight. The time and nature of courtship then should be such as to give the principals an adequate knowledge of one another in character."

"The basis of union being character, the folly of entering into this contract in youth is apparent. The tastes and ideals change vastly from 18 to 25. Manhood and womanhood should first be attained, until then our mothers should always be cognizant when we are out. The law regards those not of age as incapable of entering into a civil contract. How, then, are they qualified to enter into that contract on the home posterity and all things vital depend? Courtship is no mere child's play."

This service was the first to be held under the auspices of the Centenary Brotherhood, organized last Wednesday. This organization has outlined for itself a programme of service, in the semi-downtown district in which Centenary is situated, and proposes to make a specialty of work in the Sunday evening service.

Fiction Leader Worth While. Big among the fiction merit of the month is the cleverly written story of "The Mask of Truth," by Katharine Metcalf Roof, in the Smart Set magazine for April. It is the leading feature and a good appetizer to the entertaining list of other stories and poetry that follows. The Smart Set business direction has now passed into the capable hands of John Adams Thayer and his friends.

FEDERAL PLUMS NOT DISTRIBUTED

Interest Keen in Appointment of Customs Officials and U. S. Marshal.

ONE POSITION IN DOUBT

Malcolm and Colwell Thought Sure of Places--As Customs Appraiser Johnson Is Opposed--Carl S. Kelly May Be Named.

Canadian reciprocity and tariff revision at the hands of the special session of Congress, which convenes one week from tomorrow, April 4, are not the only topics of absorbing interest to Oregonians. Almost paramount in the distribution of three eagerly sought Federal plums--Appraiser and Collector of Customs and United States Marshal.

That President Taft, early in the session, will send to the Senate appointments for each of these offices is expected. Who the appointees will be is the question that concerns the respective applicants for the positions, and at the same time perplexes an interested public. There is a strong suspicion here that President Taft will again send to the Senate for confirmation the appointment of P. S. Malcolm as Collector of Customs and Elmer B. Colwell for United States Marshal. Nobody assumes to know who will receive the indorsement of the President as successor to the late General Owen Summers as Appraiser.

Names Are Withdrawn. Following unfavorable reports from committees of the nominations of Malcolm and Colwell to the respective offices they now hold, President Taft, in the regular session of Congress, recalled their names. In the meantime Malcolm will continue in office until his successor is appointed and qualified. With Colwell, the situation is slightly different. Just before the regular session adjourned, the President sent Colwell's name again to the Senate, which adjourned without having further to consider the nomination. By that action of the President, Colwell has received a commission covering the recess appointment which holds until the close of the special session.

The action of the President in sending Colwell's name back to the Senate at the last minute of the regular session is taken to indicate his preference for Colwell. It is accepted as a further evidence that the appointing power is not ready to desert either Colwell or Malcolm at this time and for that reason it is confidently expected by the friends of these men that Taft will again send their nominations to the Senate during the extraordinary session. The only other name mentioned in connection with either of the two offices is that of John B. Coffey, who has been suggested as a successor to Colwell, should the Senate refuse to confirm Colwell's appointment. Three Named for Appraiser.

The situation attending the appointment of a new Appraiser is more complicated. Senator Bourne has indorsed L. H. Adams for this place. Representative Hawley some time ago gave his indorsement to C. V. Johnson, of Corvallis, Carl S. Kelly, of the newspaper man, is being supported for the appointment by Representative Lafferty. Johnson also has the indorsement of R. E. Williams, National Congressman for Oregon, who is inclined to stand with Hawley because of the latter's activity in securing the enactment of legislation for the relief of the Siletz settlers, in which Williams is said to have been largely interested personally.

In the meantime letters and telegrams have been forwarded by many Republicans to members of the Oregon delegation and the President at Washington, protesting against the appointment of Johnson. Kelly will be in a good position to ask for the support of the entire delegation. All three of these appointments belong to the President himself. It is only due to the fact that it has been customary for the Chief Executive to consult the wishes of the members of the delegation in making these appointments that Oregon's Senators and Representatives have figured so prominently in their determination of the delegation to the Senate to be recommended, because of factional differences, there is a growing disposition on the part of Republicans to urge the President to proceed with his appointments independently of individual recommendations of the members of the delegation from this state.

Kelly's Position Good.

An especially active campaign is being waged at this end of the line in the interest of Kelly. The newspaper man has obtained the indorsement of indorsements from prominent Republicans urging his appointment. With Johnson eliminated from the contest, it is believed Kelly will be in a good position to ask for the support of the entire delegation. All three of these appointments belong to the President himself. It is only due to the fact that it has been customary for the Chief Executive to consult the wishes of the members of the delegation in making these appointments that Oregon's Senators and Representatives have figured so prominently in their determination of the delegation to the Senate to be recommended, because of factional differences, there is a growing disposition on the part of Republicans to urge the President to proceed with his appointments independently of individual recommendations of the members of the delegation from this state.

TROOPS TO BE REVIEWED

Governor West and Staff to Inspect Third Oregon and Battery A.

Governor West will review the Third Oregon Infantry and Battery A, Wednesday night for the first time. He will appear as Commander-in-Chief of the Oregon National Guard, with his military aides, at the quarterly inspection of the regiment at the Armory, Tenth and Couch streets. The review in honor of the Governor will occur immediately after the inspection. Colonel T. N. Dunbar, commanding the Third, has ordered assembly for 8:15 P. M. The regiment will turn out in dress uniform with the regimental band in attendance. An unusually large attendance is looked for, as the various company commanders have been recruiting their organizations for some time past, and interest in the regiment has never been more intense among officers and men. Following the review the guests of the occasion will be entertained informally in the officers' quarters. A military hop will occur at the same time in the big ballroom at the Armory.

VOTERS HUNT OUT MEN FOR COUNCIL

Republican Committee, Municipal Association and Mass Meetings Are Agencies.

OFFICES SOUGHT BY MANY

Scores to Enter Race for Nine Places in Civic Body--Seven Already File Announcements in Seventh Ward.

Greater interest is being taken this year by the voters in candidates for Councilmen and what they advocate than has been manifested in years. The qualifications of every such candidate as to residence and citizenship will be inquired into by the Republican City Central Committee. Each aspirant will be scrutinized further by the Municipal Association and, if found objectionable, this organization will bring out other candidates. In addition to these tests, men seeking election to the Council must measure up to the requirements of an exacting constituency or find opposition in other candidates recommended for nomination through the medium of mass meetings which are planned in different sections of the city. With these several mediums for identifying candidates and ascertaining what they stand for in municipal administration, voters will be enabled intelligently to make their selection of candidates and to vote accordingly. While the executive committee of the Republican City Central Committee has emphatically disapproved of mass meetings for bringing out Councilmanic timber, these meetings probably will be held anyway. The action of the party committee, however, in repudiating such gatherings because of their resemblance to assemblies and the suspicion that they are being inspired by forces inimical to the best interests of the city, will have the effect of causing all candidates suggested at such meetings to undergo a most thorough scrutiny.

Nine Councilmen to Be Elected.

Nine Councilmen are to be nominated in the primaries May 6 and elected in the municipal election on June 6. Of that number four are Councilmen-at-large and five are Ward Councilmen. Of the former, John H. Burgard, who was elected by the Council to fill the unexpired term of Thomas C. Devlin, will be a candidate to succeed himself for the remaining two years of Devlin's term. The other retiring Councilmen-at-large are: John Annand, George R. Collins and M. J. Driscoll. Driscoll will seek re-election and Collins may also ask for another term of four years. The Ward Councilmen whose terms will expire

July 1, are: First Ward, T. J. Concanon; Fourth, George L. Baker; Sixth, H. A. Belding; Seventh, A. G. Ruhlright; Eighth, K. K. Kubli. Of these Concanon, Belding and Kubli are candidates to succeed themselves. Baker will try for Councilman-at-large. Driscoll, George L. Baker, retiring Councilman for Mayor; Second Ward, H. W. Wallace; Third, G. D. Dunning; Fifth, E. E. Watkins; Ninth, R. E. Menzies; Tenth, Joseph T. Ellis. Petitions are being circulated asking for the recall of Ellis who has two years to serve.

Announcements Come Slowly.

Including Burgard, four Councilmen-at-large are to be elected. Only four candidates thus far have announced their candidacy for these nominations: Burgard, for the short term; Driscoll, for Councilman-at-large; he has not filed that announcement with the City Auditor. Dr. F. A. Brown, who is being urged by the Municipal Association to run for Councilman-at-large, has also failed to make the required filing in the Auditor's office. In seeking re-election from the First Ward, Councilman Concanon, the only Democratic member of the present Council, will be opposed in the primaries by Tom N. Monks (Dem.) and two Republicans--Ed Haiseth and Jordan V. Zan. All three have filed announcements. W. C. Hazeltine, of the firm of Hazeltine & Company, is the only candidate now in the field to succeed Baker as Councilman from the Fourth. In the Sixth Ward, from which Belding will run for re-election, no other candidates have entered the contest. Belding has filed a formal announcement of his candidacy.

Seven File in Seventh.

It is in the Seventh Ward that the crop of candidates to succeed Ruhlright is prolific. Seven candidates already have filed their announcements while a mass meeting of Sallowood citizens, scheduled for Wednesday night, will suggest another man. There are yet other candidates in sight, two or three residents of the Lents district considering entering the race. Of the seven candidates who have filed announcements, Walter Adams is the only one who has qualified as a candidate by filing a nominating petition. The other six candidates are: William R. Lake, W. G. Uffer, A. C. Wagner, A. A. Hoover, Frank M. Cuba and J. E. Shears.

A lively contest is in prospect in the Eighth Ward from which Kubli, who was elected by the Council to fill the unexpired term of the late Frank S. Bennett, will run for re-election. He will be opposed in the primaries by C. V. Howard and W. S. Halvor, Republicans. Frank M. Kelly has also filed a nomination for the Democratic nomination. It is from this ward the Municipal Association is urging J. T. Wilson to become a candidate.

Thirty-one Candidates in Field.

A complete list of the candidates for the different offices who are filing their announcements with City Auditor Barbur, follows: Mayor--J. E. Werlein (Rep.) and George H. Thomas (Dem.) City Treasurer--O. P. Miller (Rep.) City Attorney--Frank S. Grant (Rep.), M. C. King (Rep.) and J. A. Jeffrey (Dem.) Council Judge--Edward D. Williams (Rep.), John D. Mann (Rep.), Major J. P. Kennedy (Rep.) and George Tazwell (Rep.) City Auditor--Edward M. Lance (Rep.) and A. L. Barbur (Rep.) Councilmen-at-large--M. J. Driscoll (Rep.), John H. Burgard (Rep.), George L. Baker (Rep.) and Will F. Daly (Rep.) Councilman, First Ward--Ed Haiseth (Rep.), Jordan V. Zan (Rep.) and Tom N. Monks (Dem.) Fourth Ward--H. C. Hazeltine (Rep.), Walter Adams (Rep.), W. G. Uffer (Rep.), A. C. Wagner (Rep.), A. A. Hoover (Rep.), Frank M. Cuba (Rep.) and J. E. Shears (Rep.) Eighth Ward--Frank M. Kelly (Dem.), C. V. Howard (Rep.), K. K. Kubli (Rep.) and W. S. Halvor (Rep.)

$900 NEEDED FOR FUND

Mr. Selling Will Try This Week to Complete Famine Offering.

Beginning with today Ben Selling will make an additional effort to raise $900 this week to complete the second installment of $5000 for the suffering Chinese in the famine district on the borders of Manchuria. Mr. Selling is confident that the money can be raised, and that he will next Saturday be able to Hongkong an order for $5000, making $10,000 in all which Portland and Oregon have contributed to the cause of alleviating suffering. "I find," said Mr. Selling, "that even on Sunday the people cannot refrain from contributing, for I have had several telephone calls regarding the fund and notifications that today there would be several who would call upon me with their checks."

Word from China by the latest steamer is to the effect that the conditions in the famine district are worse than they have been at any time in the past.

A new and exclusive line of genuine homespun received Saturday, and open for inspection today.
