Young and Old, Rich and Poor, They Are Campaigning for Seymour.

ANTI-TREATING LAW JOKE

Saloons Keep Small Change on Hand and Refreshment Seekers Slip Money to Their Guests at Popular Bars.

TACOMA, Wash., March 26.—(Special.)—Something entirely new and interesting in the past political campaign is that now being waged preliminary to the recall election to be held April 4, when the people of Tacoma will vote whether Mayor Fawcett is to remain in office or whether he is to be recalled and W. W. Seymour take his place as Mayor. Women are active in the campaign and have been working to elect W. W. Seymour, the wealthy Tacoma man who was induced to enter the race as the candidate of the Public Welfare League.

Prominent Women Campaign.

The most prominent women of the city have campaigned in automobiles to Seymour's behalf the past week and their more humble sisters have traveled by streetcar and worked just as hard. The women are not slinging any mud in their campaign.

Automobile loads were conducted by such well-known women as Mrs. S. R. Balkwell, Mrs. Overton Hills, Mrs. James H. Dyer, Mrs. A. R. York, Mrs. Everett G. Griggs, Mrs. Dan Callins, Mrs. I. B. S. Isted, Mrs. Dixon Trippe and other very prominent club women.

When the Rose City left here she had on board some grain that was to be discharged at the sea wall in San Francisco. She was due to go from San Francisco to San Pedro before returning to Portland, had she not met with the accident yesterday.

Business in cafes, restaurants and wine rooms has taken fresh impetus owing to Mayor Fawcett's declaration that he will interpret the ordinance as it applies to such places.

Next Wednesday the Municipal Commission will set a date for the recall election for the four commissioners.

There are candidates galore coming out for the commission. Some of the prominent among the new-comers who will file for nominations is James C. Drake, who will oppose Commissioner Lawson of the Department of Light and Water.

Frank M. Lamborn, a former member of the Council from the Second Ward, will be one of the chief candidates against Commissioner Ray Foster Freeland of the Department of Finance.

Architect Wilson is also preparing a plan for a new $40,000 brick school to be built on the east side of the city.

bulkhead while entering the slip at Pier 40. This accident was due to a misunderstanding of signals in the engine-room. The steamer, another of the same fleet, ran down and sank the Norwegian freighter, Solva during a heavy fog off port several months ago.

The Rose City is one of the steamers that searched for the vessel reported to be on fire off Table Bluff on Friday night. That the lookout at the station was in the opinion of Captain Mason.

The fog which prevailed would have the effect of distorting the glare into a burning ship to an imaginative mind, said Captain Mason.

Steamship Company Officials Surprised to Hear Report.

The first news received by the local officials of the San Francisco and Portland Steamship Company yesterday of the accident of the Rose City was through the Merchants' Exchange, which received a telegram early in the afternoon telling of the mishap.

J. Walter Ransom, who is the local agent for the Harriman lines, was unwilling to believe that Captain Mason had been charged at the time of the accident, as he is considered one of the best captains entering this port.

MADRAS THROUGHED WITH COLONISTS

Estimate Is That Every Oregon Trunk Train Brings 80 New-Comers.

HOMES SUPPLY LODGING

Central Oregon Town Welcomes 3000 Settlers Since Cut-Rate Period and Realty Dealers Are Busy Showing Farms.

MADRAS, Or., March 26.—(Special.)—With all Central Oregon records long since broken, and with the slightest sign of any let up, homeseekers continue to pour into Madras. Oregon Trunk Railway officials estimate that since trains of that line have been running on regular schedule they have brought an average of 80 passengers into Madras daily, or nearly 3000 passengers in the last month and a half.

Half of Visitors Invest.

While many of the visitors are sight-seers, it is safely estimated that more than 50 per cent of those who have made the trip up the Deschutes River on the new railroad have stayed in Central Oregon. The percentage of speculators has been small, for those who have not taken up land, or gone into business with the intention of making this their permanent home, have sought other parts of Oregon.

Local real estate men are all busy. Every firm has a large force at work in the city and in the farming districts. While most of the colonists have taken up Government lands, all the realty firms report business, and many deals have been closed.

At times during the rush Madras has found it difficult to accommodate the visitors, and it has been found necessary to call on private homes to provide rooms for newcomers.

Though the demand for farm lands has never been equalled before, the prices have remained steady. Lands in the vicinity of Madras are being offered at $25 an acre. Some of this land has water. Water can be obtained at shallow depths in places, and on other ranches the water possibilities are extremely doubtful, but the dry-farming process has proved so successful in this region that the water feature does not figure in the price of the land.

ALBANY, Or., March 26.—(Special.)—After a three day's career as "Jack-the-Grabber," during which he attacked three young women and beat a small boy, Budd Holcomb, 17 years old, is in the Lin County Jail here tonight. He has made a complete confession.

Riding up behind his victims on a bicycle, Holcomb created terror on East Fifth street last Wednesday night by attacking three young women in less than an hour. In each case he encountered strong resistance and jumped on his bicycle and rode away.

He rode up among a crowd of children playing at Fifth and Jackson streets, about 8 o'clock Thursday evening, to induce a young boy to follow him. He then rode up to the home of a year-old girl to go with him to the home of Russell Bussard, the 9-year-old son of M. Bussard, on the handle-bars of his bicycle.

About The Time It Takes For A Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet To Work On The Food and Bring Relief.

TRIAL PACKAGE SENT FREE.

There is no long wait between the time you take a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet and the feeling of relief it will bring to an overloaded stomach. It gets busy in a jiffy and quickly sets things to rights in that tired and disordered stomach. It goes right at the work of digesting the food it is lodged there and in no time at all has things on the move—the gases cease forming, the breath is sweetened, the coating on the tongue disappears and you are no longer conscious that you even had a stomach.

That is one of the chief recommendations for Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets that they don't take forever to accomplish the purpose for which you need them. It is just as if you put an extra amount of power to work in your engine. You can't continually overload your stomach and expect it to always smile. It is going to get rebellious and sulky after awhile and refuse to go on being driven to do double work.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists everywhere. Price, 50 cents per box. A trial package will be sent if you will write F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.
