

CAMORRISTS MAKE UPROAR IN COURT

Trick Used to Discredit Man Who Betrayed Murderers of Cuocoelos

JUDGE SUSPENDS TRIAL

Prisoners Deny Charge Never Made, but Abbatezaglio Raises Voice Above Din—He Receives Money to Conceal Crimes.

VITERBO, Italy, March 29.—Gennaro Abbatezaglio's examination in the trial of the Camorristi against whom he turned informer was interrupted today by Corrado Sorino, one of those alleged to have killed the Cuocoelos, who asserted that the informer had declared that Sorino's brother was a member of the Camorra. Rising from his seat in the prisoner's cage, Sorino shouted:

"You are a liar. My brother is one of the world's greatest sculptors. He lives in Paris, where he is the intimate of notables."

This gave excuse for a tumult, the other prisoners and their lawyers crying out:

"Abbatezaglio is a scoundrel."

The informer, recognizing a trick to impair his testimony, raised his voice above the din and said:

"I never said that Sorino's brother was a Camorrist."

Trick Used to Discredit Witness.

The confusion continued and the president was compelled to suspend the sitting.

The policy of the accused is to catch Abbatezaglio in contradictions or untruths, if only in secondary matters, and so discredit his whole story.

Strictly speaking, Abbatezaglio's revelations are nothing more than side-lights in the confession of his original story, as told to the authorities and published before the trial began. In his formal statement, the informer told how Cuocoelos had been murdered because he had betrayed other members of the Camorra, and also because there was jealousy of his increasing power on the part of Enrico Alfano, the actual head of the body, and others.

Cuocoelos's wife was killed to conceal the first crime.

Informer Paid for Silence.

Asked about the $200 which had been paid to the assassins of the Cuocoelos, the informer replied that Alfano had divided the money, giving $50 to the witness and distributing the remainder among the actual assassins.

Ferdinando di Matteo, one of the assassins, protested against the giving of so large a share to Abbatezaglio, who had not participated in the killing, but he was silenced with a wink from Alfano.

Abbatezaglio saw the winks and understood its meaning. His associates were aware that he knew many of their secrets and could betray them at any moment. Accordingly, no sum of money was too great to pay for his silence until the opportunity came to put him out of the way.

Abbatezaglio read the feeling toward him, and this, with a revival of honest impulses, induced him to make the first revelations, which were followed by a determination to tell all and so redeem himself.

Trick Used to Escape Army.

The president of the court, Signor Bianchi, interrogated the witness at great length during the afternoon concerning contradictions in his statements made at different times. To the president as to whether he suffered from epilepsy, Abbatezaglio replied in the negative.

"Here is a medical certificate," said President Bianchi, "stating that you left the army after three attacks of epilepsy."

"Then I did it purposely to be sent home from the army," said the witness. The lawyers for the defense jumped to their feet, shouting: "Then you deceived the military and now you are trying to deceive the judicial authorities."

During the questioning of Abbatezaglio by the president, the prisoners were radiant, in the belief that the severity with which the president selected disputed points for explanation was a good omen in their behalf.

Giuseppe Salvi, who is one of those charged with being directly responsible for the murder of Cuocoelos and his wife, kissed his hand to the president, while Friscone, the Camorrist leader, exclaimed:

"The cylinder of the photograph is exhausted."

WAR HELD TO BE CRIME

(Continued From First Page.) sent, through Mr. Reid, my congratulations to those who, in the mother country, are commemorating so signal and historic an event as the publication of the King James version of the English Bible. This book of books has not only reigned supreme in England for three centuries, but has bound together, as nothing else could, two great Anglo-Saxon nations, one in blood, in speech and in a common religious life.

"Our laws, our literature, our social life owe whatever excellence they possess largely to the influence of this our chief classic, acknowledged as such equally on both sides of the sea."

"American must, therefore, with unfeigned satisfaction, join in thanksgiving to the God of the Bible who has thus bound together the old and the new world by so precious a tie."

"I can speak, I am sure, for my fellow-countrymen in congratulating you on so significant a commemoration."

"WILLIAM H. TAFT."

POLICE MAN'S KEEN EARS BRING DEATH

"Black Hand" Kills Him Because He Overhears Truth About Murder.

4 ARRESTED AS SLAYERS

When He Learns Name of Woman's Assassin, Officer Realizes He Is Marked Man—He Is Shot From Ambush After Week.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 29.—In a little room in a house in the Italian section detectives today arrested Lorenzo Messina, Nick Debernardo and Sam Gonnuso, Sicilians, in connection with the assassination last night of Joseph Raimo, an Italian policeman. Shortly afterward a fourth man, Joe Penusic, was arrested.

The police declare they are members of the notorious "Black Hand," which was also responsible for the murder of Mrs. Pauline Pizano, an Italian woman, who was mysteriously slain December 14 last.

Shotguns Are Found.

In the room where the men were found were three shotguns, like those found last night near the dead policeman. Mrs. Pizano was killed with the same kind of a gun.

Patrolman Raimo is believed to have paid his life to the "Black Hand" for the knowledge he had of their workings and membership. It dated back to the murder of Mrs. Pizano, who kept a little grocery store in Campbell street. Signor Raimo was shot and killed by men hidden in a vacant lot.

According to an Italian friend, Patrolman Raimo said last week: "The cops who killed Paulina Pizano. That's what's the matter. And they know I know. Some day they will get me."

Canada, in which innocent purchasers in the United States have been the ultimate losers, has been discovered by Chief Wilkie, of the Secret Service, Houston, Me., is said to have been the base of operations, and the case came to the attention of the customs officers because of the unusually great amount of express matter shipped from Houston, which is comparatively a small station.

Chief Wilkie says the plan has been for dealers in Montreal and other Canadian cities to sell furs to Americans, collecting their pay in advance and promising to deliver the goods duty free.

PARTY FARE TO CHANGE

RAILROADS PLAN RAISING MINIMUM NUMBER IN PARTY.

Making Number 25 Instead of Ten Will Not Hurt Theaters, but Will Block Brokers' Game.

CHICAGO, March 29.—(Special.)—Railroads in the West are considering a proposition that, effective June 1, 1911, the basis of granting party fares be raised. Consideration is being given to various lines to a recommendation that the minimum number on a solid ticket entitled to the reduced party fare be 25 instead of 10, as at present.

The subject will come up for disposition at a meeting to be held in Chicago at an early date.

For years the railroads have been accustomed to granting party fares $1 less than the individual fare between certain points in Western territory, such as St. Paul and Chicago, and good for 10 or more on one solid ticket. It is stated that the only interests which are greatly benefited by the special rates are theatrical people, who usually move in greater numbers than would be required by the increased basis.

On the other hand, the railroads say, ticket brokers are able to reap a benefit by getting up parties of 10 or more moving toward a certain point and so secure the reduced party rates. With the minimum increased from 10 to 25, it is said, it will be more difficult for the ticket broker to follow this practice, while making it no more burdensome for the people who really are entitled to and usually get the benefit of the reduced rate.

JOHNSON SENTENCED AGAIN

Judge Forecloses Question of Legality—Habeas Corpus Refused.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—Ordered into the Police Court today, prizefighter Jack Johnson was again sentenced to serve 25 days in the County Jail by Acting Judge Treasler. Judge Treasler stated that he took this action to forestall any question of the legality of the original sentence from which Johnson appealed to the Superior Court. An additional charge of speeding against Johnson will be heard on April 4.

Soon after Johnson was recommended to the County Jail, his attorney filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus with the Appellate Court, declaring that his client was unlawfully deprived of his liberty without due process of law, but that court refused to grant the writ. The only recourse now left for the prizefighter is to appeal to the State Supreme Court.

THE STRONGER EYE

Are you aware that almost everyone is equipped with unequal eyes? That is to say, the right eye is stronger than the left, or vice-versa.

We rarely realize this, because the stronger eye takes upon itself all the work—and the weaker one scarcely ever attempts to do anything.

Every organ or faculty which is not made use of for a considerable length of time, becomes gradually but surely useless. And this is the effect on the eyes; work keeps the strong eye in good order, but lack of work causes the other to grow worse.

So long as you can see distinctly, you do not trouble much about one of your eyes being weak—likely enough, you remain completely ignorant of it.

So you go on, perhaps for years suffering all the drawbacks and hardships which had vision entails, maybe never reaching the level that you ought to do, because you do not suspect your eyes' faults.

We take care of your eyes in the way of lens changes for one year from date of purchase. No extra charge for this service.
