

VERDICT AGAINST HYDE IS REVERSED

Appeal Court Grants Doctor New Trial and His Hope Again Rises.

EVIDENCE NOT CONCLUSIVE

Change of Counsel for Prosecution Likely, Also Change of Venue and Mrs. Swope's Falling Health May Remove Impetus.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 11.—Action in the B. Clark Hyde murder case, which the Supreme Court of Missouri today reversed and remanded to this court for new trial, tonight awaits the arrival of the official mandate from Jefferson City.

Attorneys for both the state and the defense can make no definite plans for the future until they have read this document.

That the case will be retried is certain, said Prosecutor Virgil Conkling, who also said that action might be brought against Hyde on one of the other charges, as, for instance, the charge of first degree murder in connection with the death of Chrisman Swope.

While no definite statement can be obtained regarding whether the special counsel retained in the first trial to assist Mr. Conkling will again be available, it is said on good authority that he will not.

Heirs of Colonel Thomas H. Swope, other than Mrs. Logan O. Swope, Dr. Hyde's mother-in-law, were always averse to hiring this special counsel on account of the great cost entailed. At one time during the preparations for the first trial these attorneys threatened to withdraw from the case when an effort was made to reduce their fees.

Frank P. Walsh, head counsel for Dr. Hyde, said tonight that, if the case is retried, it will be before Judge F. E. Porterfield, who presides over the second division of the Criminal Court. Dr. Hyde's attorneys may take a change of venue to Judge Porterfield, if they desire, and his intention is to have the case retried before Judge Porterfield.

Both sides are anxious for an early retrial. Mr. Walsh is ready to begin the second trial any day, he says. Mr. Conkling is of the opinion that the state will be ready for trial within two weeks.

When the trial will begin, however, depends upon the condition of Mrs. Logan O. Swope, who is in Los Angeles. Although the secret has been carefully guarded, she is in much poorer health than in generally admitted. And she is the guiding light in the prosecution of Dr. Hyde.

Mrs. Hyde, who had been waiting for the decision at her lawyer's office, appeared at the jail 10 minutes after its receipt. She was admitted immediately to the cell, and rushing to that occupied by her husband, embraced and kissed him.

Soon husband and wife were joined by the physician's attorneys, Frank Walsh and Mrs. Cleary, and an earnest conference ensued.

Later, both Dr. and Mrs. Hyde each gave out a statement. Dr. Hyde said: "Of course I am disappointed that my case was not reversed outright. I shall, however, struggle on with an unbroken spirit, confident that the law, but the world, of my complete innocence of the terrible charges laid against me. In the darkest, darkest hour of my life, I have been sustained by the loving kindness of countless friends who believed in my innocence, as well as a firm belief in the idea that under our system of laws, while mistakes of judgment upon the part of court and jury may temporarily intervene, yet in the end justice is sure to prevail."

"I look forward with serene confidence to my acquittal in my next trial. I have learned that a man can stand anything with a wife like mine believing in him and sustaining him."

Mrs. Hyde's statement follows: "I was sure that the Supreme Court would free my husband. The law is a mystery to me. I was with Dr. Hyde during every hour he was charged with committing these offenses against those who were near and dear to me. I know the utter falsity of the charges against him. I know the law will give my husband back to me, not because I love him and he loves me, but because he is innocent."

The decision, which was written by Judge Franklin Ferris, reaches the conclusion as to the death of Colonel Thomas H. Swope that "if we were to lay aside the testimony of one witness for the state, Dr. Vaughn, we would find it difficult to reach a satisfactory conclusion that there is sufficient proof to make a prima facie case of death by poisoning. According to the authorities, the symptoms as detailed in the evidence are not clearly and unmistakably those of strychnine poisoning nor of cyanide."

Dr. Bennett Clark Hyde was convicted on May 13 last of the murder of Colonel Swope, the physician's uncle by marriage. On July 4, after denying Dr. Hyde a new trial, Judge Ralph Letshaw sentenced him to life imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Employers of Girls Trapped in Fire Indicted.

MANSLAUGHTER IS CHARGE

Charred Piece of Door With Bolt Shot Is Evidence That 145 Girls Lost Lives Through Carelessness of Employers.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Isaac Harris and Max Blanck, owners of the Triangle Waist Company, were indicted this afternoon by the grand jury investigating the Washington Place fire on March 25, as a result of which 145 employees lost their lives.

The indictments, four in number, charge each man with manslaughter in the first and second degrees, the maximum penalty for which is 20 and 10 years imprisonment, respectively.

Harris and Blanck were arrested at their homes, arraigned and, after entering pleas of not guilty, were released under $15,000 bail.

The defendants are charged with being responsible for the deaths of Rosie Grasso and Margaret Schwartz, whose charred bodies were found on the ninth floor of the burned building. The District Attorney hopes to prove that the girls tried the door on the ninth floor in an effort to escape, but found it locked and were found crowded against it.

The charred piece of the door, with the bolt shot, was shown to the grand jury, as well as a part of the burned stairway. A few minutes afterward the indictments were returned. Other indictments may follow.

Judge O'Sullivan gave the defendants until April 25 to withdraw their pleas of not guilty. Both men took their arrest calmly. The grand jury investigation will be resumed next week.

While the grand jury was engaged in perfecting the indictments a special matinee for the aid of sufferers from the fire was held at the Metropolitan Opera-House under the auspices of the Association of Theatrical Managers of Greater New York. The sum of $5350 was realized.

FEDERAL AID IS SOUGHT

BANK EXAMINERS COULD TRACE LORIMER SLUSH FUND.

Helm Committee May Ask to Have Them Put to Work—Illinois Scoured for Witnesses.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 11.—The aid of the Controller of the Currency, with the National Bank Examiners at his command, in searching Chicago banks for trace of the alleged Lorimer slush fund, is to be sought by the Helm bribery committee, according to reports here.

Politicians say members of the committee believe a corps of bank examiners could do more in tracing the alleged slush fund in a short time than any employee of the committee might accomplish in six months.

Chairman Helm said that his committee will not meet until Thursday. In the meantime members of the committee refuse to talk.

Although process-servers have been scouring the state with subpoenas for two weeks, the names of only five persons who are to appear as witnesses are known here. These include Edward Tilden, president of the National Packing Company, Chicago; ex-United States Senator Albert J. Hopkins, of Aurora; Carl S. Burgett, a member of the lower house in the 6th General Assembly, and now doorkeeper of the House, and ex-partner store on State street, Chicago, and William Blair, of Jefferson County.

A story was in circulation today that the Helm committee had the names of two persons mentioned by Edward Hines as contributors to the slush fund. These are said to be manager of a large department store on State street, Chicago, and the president of a Chicago bank.

thing," the woman continued. "I have desperate men behind me, and this is not the end. They will never take these children from me."

"What have I done that I should be persecuted this way? Haven't I a right to my own children? They tried to get me arrested on three different charges up in Seattle but they failed."

"I am not afraid of guns or men, but I am afraid of the law. There is no justice in the law; none. My experience in Seattle taught me that."

She turned to Kelley and said: "Will we go to San Quentin, Foster?"

"No, you bet we won't. We'll fight as long as we have any money left, won't we, dear?"

"I suppose that thing up North (referring to her former husband) thinks he will get these children, but he won't."

They were nearly drowned.

Mrs. Henry refused absolutely to discuss her movements except to say that she had traveled some, but did not know where. She denied knowing Cochrane, Bogan or any one who assisted her in getting her children. She denied the trip across the bay, but little Albert spoke and said:

"Yes, we nearly got drowned, didn't we, mamma. And mamma couldn't swim, could you, mamma?"

"Oh, yes, we could all swim," answered the mother.

Mrs. Henry wanted to telegraph her Seattle attorney, but the Deputy Sheriff would not allow it.

Then she wanted to go to the Hotel Savoy and get new clothes for her appearance in court. This also was denied.

Gun Ready for Metson.

"Well, I don't care," she said. "I led that fellow Metson a merry chase. He'd better look out or he'll get hurt. I had a gun, I always have one and I was funny to see Metson's detectives bowled over."

"Yes, their heads hit the sidewalk," laughed little Albert. "Ha, ha. My mamma ain't afraid."

Kelley seems very much depressed. A close watch is being kept on him, for the charge of contempt preferred against Miss Pearl Wyckoff, the nurse who had charge of the children when they were taken away, was dismissed by mutual consent, but the charges against Mrs. Henry, Kelley and the five chauffeurs, said to have been concerned in the kidnapping, were heard today.

Mrs. Henry Gets Bail, Kelley Can't.

Mrs. Henry was released tonight from the city prison on bail aggregating $700. Kelley is in county jail, unable to furnish $2000 bail.

The couple were lodged in jail early tonight, after a day's stormy proceedings in two courts. The children are being cared for by Juvenile Court officers.

Mrs. Henry secured the $500 cash bail required for her release on the contempt charge. She immediately was rearrested on another warrant, charging the obstruction of the service of a writ of habeas corpus, and late tonight secured the $200 cash bail required. A similar warrant will be served upon Kelley, if he secures bail on the charge now pending against him.

While being taken to jail tonight, Kelley was served with notice of a suit for $100,000 brought by Henry, who charges alienation of his wife's affection.

Not Enough Colonists Won.

"We believe that the section in the interior has not received its due share of colonists to which it is entitled. We desire to explain to them why it is so and show them the method employed to get more. It is a sort of evangelizing work that Mr. Sayer will be engaged in. He will make an effort to revive commercial clubs where they need them and to establish new ones where they are needed. Mr. Sayer is thoroughly acquainted with the conditions."

Mr. Sayer is to become a sort of Peter Cartwright of Oregon in his work of going from village to village and in preaching the gospel of sound publicity for Oregon's benefit. He will travel across the plains of Eastern Oregon, through the Malheur Canyon, into the wheat fields of the John Day country, and expects to rest for a brief time on the shores of Goose Lake. He will visit Shaniko, the home of the rockfoster; he will travel along the rugged Deschutes River and take a glimpse here and there of the Devil's Woodpile, which is only a portion of the weird and wild scenery of the world's greatest canyon—the Deschutes. He expects to travel by stage over the new wagon road from Bend to Burns, which, it is asserted, will change the line of travel from the central portion of the state to the nearest railway outlet for its product.

"We send Mr. Sayer," said C. G. Chapman, manager of the promotion committee of the Portland Commercial Club, "through the outlying districts where the railroad has not yet entered for the purpose of encouraging and educating the people in those sections as to our methods."

Oregon Development League Sends Envoy on Tour.

HAMLETS TO BE TAUGHT

James J. Sayer to Leave Saturday to Preach Progress in Central Oregon and Other Parts—Long Trip is Outlined.

Saturday James J. Sayer, of Portland, field representative of the Oregon Development League, will begin one of the most remarkable journeys known in the history of industrial development of the West and a journey which, it is believed, has no parallel in the line of commercial evangelism conducted in this country.

He will cover 200 miles by train, trolley, automobile and stage, all within Oregon and all of it through a sparsely settled section of Eastern Oregon.

Some of the Oregon towns which he proposes to visit will for the first time receive an emissary from the larger sphere of industrial activity to tell them how to organize a commercial club and become an integral part of the Oregon Development League. The object of the league is to obtain home-builders for Oregon through the medium of advertising to furnish authentic information to inquirers and to aid homeseekers so that upon their arrival they may become located to their advantage and be made to feel at home in their new environments.

All State to Be Roamed.

In many of the towns commercial clubs already exist, but often the clubs do not realize the full benefit to be derived from a persistent and more modern method of utilizing the forces at hand. This particular line will be pointed out to them by Mr. Sayer and at the same time he will do plenty of missionary work for business interests of the state.

Sallowness

How to cure it—a stimulant for sluggish skins

If you are sallow, it indicates an inactive, lifeless skin and poor circulation. A clogged condition is often evident first in the face. It indicates that the skin on your whole body is inactive.

Through its miles of tiny pores your skin discharges new pounds of waste matter every day.

Now unless these pores are active, unless they are properly performing their work, this waste matter stays in the skin. From this you can realize the necessity of keeping your skin in good working order. You can see that any defect in its activity leads to serious skin troubles.

Woodbury's Facial Soap used in the following way exactly counteracts this effect.

Wash your skin slowly and carefully with a very hot lather of Woodbury's Facial Soap. Do this several times, until your skin feels like it has been stimulated. Then dash cold water, very cold water on it for fully ten minutes. Then every night massage it firmly with Woodbury's Facial Cream, which nourishes and whitens the skin.

Use this treatment regularly, not spasmodically, and watch the gradual improvement in your skin. Don't think that sallowness or a sluggish skin is chronic. Don't slight this treatment, and in time you will have an active, clear, glowing skin, a complexion that shows the delicacy and coloring of a child's.
