BRIDGE BONDS SOLD

Council Awards $500,000
Block to Boston Bank.

MAYOR'S VETOES UPHELD

H. J. McGinnis Elected Councilman—at-Large in Place of Gay Lombard—
Engineer to Prepare Trunk Sewer Plans.

Broadway bridge bonds to the extent of $500,000 were sold to the National Shawmut Bank, of Boston, yesterday morning by the City Council. The rate paid is 5 1/2 per cent, or $512.49 for each $1000 of the bonds.

No attention was paid to a letter to the Mayor and Council from an attorney warning them against selling the bonds below par. It is believed that the Shawmut Bank will accept the bonds as its attorneys approved before, when the institution bought $250,000 worth of them. This will enable the city to proceed with construction work without delay.

H. J. McGinnis, a contractor, was elected to succeed Gay Lombard as Councilman-at-Large. He received 32 out of 41 votes.

Lombard resigned when he announced his candidacy for Mayor.

Mayor Simon's vetoes of the ordinances relative to fenders and Council Crest dancing license were unanimously sustained.

A resolution, authorizing the City Engineer to prepare plans for a trunk sewer for the Vernon and Woodlawn district, was adopted after the Council heard statements from residents of those places. It had been called to order by Councilman Ellis, who introduced the resolution, explained that this was a matter of public health and safety, and that the city was bound to take action.

Dr. Calvin S. White, secretary of the State Board of Health, entered a vigorous protest against any resolution being introduced by the City Engineer. Dr. White said he had seen a report that a typhoid fever epidemic was spreading in the city.

The proposed increase in salaries, recommended by the city employees' committee for city employees, were referred to the committee, upon motion of Councilman Burgess.

"Lombardism" was a word coined by Councilman Baker when a special permit was under consideration for allowing a moving picture house on Union street, and a resolution to be introduced without an alleyway from the rear to the street as wide as called for in the building code. Councilman Menzies introduced the resolution.

Mayor Simon asked him if he favored passing it in spite of the stand ex-Councilman Lombard has taken. He made no reply.

Dr. Baker said he favored it, but said: "There is no question it is a special permit in every sense of Lombardism." It was held on the table until the next meeting.

Dancing Not to be Permitted.

The license for Council Crest Park was decreased from $1000 to $500, and no dancing is to be allowed there.

Councilman Menzies tried to increase the license to $1000 a year, saying that A. Duchamp, the proprietor, had cleared that he made $1000 profit last year, but the Council declined to do so.

An ordinance, authorizing the Mayor and Auditor to pay Dan Kellahan and other $1000 for vehicle tax collected under an illegal ordinance three years ago, was passed.

Councilman Baker introduced a resolution, starting proceedings to fill Morrison street from Chapman to Stout streets, and fixing a district to pay the cost, which will be about $25,000.

Parson, Sons & Co., Chicago bond buyers, asked the Mayor and Council to enter into a plan to secure another opinion from bond attorneys, Frank Richter of the Broadway bridge bonds, and to return a certified check for $15,000, but by his firm when it had upon a block of the bonds recently. The Council refused to consider his proposal, as it had disposed of the bonds to another firm earlier in the day.
