Red Lopez Makes Sudden Descent on Border Town.

FEDERALS ARE DRIVEN OUT

Rebels With Rushes Take Buildings Held by Enemy, Who Blow Up Cuartel in Retreat—Deeds of Daring Done on Both Sides.

AGUA PRIETA, Mex., April 13. (Special.)—During a battle which lasted all afternoon and which resulted in the capture of this city by rebels led by "Red" Lopez, American troops crossed the border and induced the federals to surrender.

The action was taken after one man had been killed and several wounded in Douglas and while continued firing was endangering the lives of Americans on United States territory.

Agua Prieta is the terminal of the Nacozari Railroad into Sonora and is the most important point on the border between El Paso and the Pacific Ocean.

Following are the American dead and injured:

Dead: Robert Harrington, J. C. Edwards.

Injured: E. E. Crow, will probably die.

A. R. Dickson, shot through thigh, condition serious.

Forest Rutherford, shot in foot.

Carles Lennon, shot in leg.

Genevieve Cole, shot through arm.

W. Singleton, flesh wound in arm.

How Americans Are Hit.

Robert Harrington was a switchman employed in the yards of Douglas and was on his train at Fourth street. A bullet struck him in the head and he tumbled from the car. He was picked up and taken in a wagon to the Copper Queen Hospital, where he died within an hour, never regaining consciousness.

E. E. Crow, another switchman, was on the same train and the same volley that killed Harrington swept him from the car also. He is shot through the body from side to side and will probably die. Crow's family reside in Colorado.

A. R. Dickson, half owner of the Washington Mine in the Arizpe district, is shot through the thigh. The bone is broken and the wound may prove fatal. Dickson is single and lives in Douglas.

Forest Rutherford, assistant superintendent of the Copper Queen Smelter, when the battle opened went to his home, which is located near the smelter. One of the many bullets which entered his home struck him on the foot. The injury is slight.

Carles Lennon, a baker from Bisbee, was among the sightseers when a bullet, partially spent, struck him in the leg, passing through the flesh. He turned and started towards Douglas, when another struck him in the back. His wounds will not prove fatal.

J. C. Edwards, a young man of about 25 years, was fighting with the insurgents and was killed. His home is in Virginia.

Genevieve Cole, 16 years old, daughter of A. W. Cole, ex-warden in the Douglas City Council and prominent as clerk of the Arizona constitutional convention, was sitting in her father's home when a federal bullet passed through her arm.

W. Singleton, chemist at the Copper Queen smelter, was shot in the arm, sustaining a flesh wound that is not serious.

Rebels Begin Fight Instantly.

Lopez captured the Nacozari train on its southbound trip yesterday and held it near Fronteras until today, when, with his troops aboard, numbering 150, it steamed back to Agua Prieta. Scarcely had the rebels detained when the firing began.

The rebels deployed their firing line up and down the Nacozari railroad tracks from the Agua Prieta station to the American custom-house. With the opening of the battle began a mad rush of Americans from Douglas toward the international line, the greater number meeting at the custom-house. The rebels, with little rushes, their backs bent to protect them from the fire, kept moving northward toward the custom-house till they were within its shadows. The custom-house is surrounded on three sides facing Agua Prieta with a veranda, which was crowded with Americans and Mexicans from Douglas.

One rebel attempted to break from the embankment to gain an adobe house a few feet to the rear. He doubled up in his tracks. Another followed, dropping at the door and entered only to swing back out of the door and fall dead.

Lopez Shoots Deserter Dead.

Another, losing heart, threw down his gun and broke for the American line only a few feet away, when Commander Lopez leveled his gun at the fugitive, fired and brought him to earth. A faithful dog throughout the battle lay by this man's side.

The rebels swung up along the interna-

KEITH'S BRUSH IS STAYED BY DEATH

CALIFORNIA'S MOST DISTINGUISHED PAINTER GONE.

As Wife Reads Newspaper Account of Illness, Artist of International Fame Passes Away.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—(Special.)—William Keith, California's most distinguished painter, and an artist of international fame, died in his 72d year today at his Berkeley home. Death was caused by cardiac complications following an attack of sciatica.

Keith was compelled to take to his bed two weeks ago, but displayed remarkable vitality and there was hope up until a short time before the end that his illness would prove transient.

Death came to the eminent artist while Keith was reading to him from a newspaper account of his illness. Feeling suddenly stricken, he became ill. Mr. Keith was taken from his bed and placed, according to his wish, in a large armchair.

During the reading of the item Mrs. Keith noticed that the artist suddenly experienced difficulty with his breathing. Death came in a few seconds.

As a painter he reproduced the wonders of this state upon canvas as no other painter has done. He possessed the distinction of never having to place his product upon the market, there always being a steady demand for the creations of his brush as fast as they were taken from the easel. The loss of a magnificent collection of paintings in the San Francisco fire proved a terrible shock to the great artist and it is believed by his friends to have been the indirect cause of his death.

LOST ARM WORTH $7500

Jury Allows Injured Mill Employee Full Amount Sought.

For the first time in the memory of local court employes, a jury yesterday returned a verdict in the Circuit Court for all the damages asked. The case was tried before Judge Gatens, and was filed against the East Side Lumber Company by H. L. Jackson, for $7500 loss of an arm, taken off by machinery of the company's mill.

What is known as the "factory law" passed by the Legislature, provides that the limit that a man may sue a factory of any kind in the way of damages is $7500. Thus Jackson sued for the limit of $7500 by law, and the jury allowed him the entire amount.

The case went to the jury a little while before noon, but the jurors did not enter into deliberation until after their lunch. It was about 20 minutes after the jury began deliberations that they returned their verdict in favor of the plaintiff.

MOLECULES' SPEED SHOWN

They Are Always Moving as Fast as Cannon Ball, Says Scientist.

CHICAGO, April 13.—(Special.)—That molecules composing all material substances are constantly in rapid motion, ricocheting against each other in the manner of a collection of billiard balls suddenly stirred up, the speed of the air's components being about half that of a cannon ball, was the subject announced today from the University of Chicago as a further development of the experiments by R. A. Millikan, which for the last year have been attracting the attention of scientists from all parts of the world.

The discovery is the second of international importance to be made by members of the physics department of the University of Chicago, the other being a method of measuring the speed of light, made by Professor A. A. Michelson, for which he was awarded the Nobel prize.

TOT EATS DRUG FOR CANDY

Eugene Girl Swallows Digitals in Tablet Form; Nearly Dies.

EUGENE, Or., April 13.—(Special.)—As the result of eating half a bottle of digitalis tablets, the 4-year-old daughter of Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Davis nearly lost her life last night and is still in a precarious condition.

Late in the afternoon the little tot got hold of the bottle containing the tablets, ate a number of them and then put the bottle away without being discovered. An hour later, when the family was at dinner, the little girl suddenly fell from her chair, writhing in convulsions.

The cause of the trouble was not known until the little lady recovered sufficiently to tell about "eatin' some candy out of a bottle."

Rev. Mr. Davis is the pastor of the First Baptist Church, and has been here less than a year.

MAN HAS UNLUCKY RIB

Centralia Resident Sustains Four Fractures in Succession.

CENTRALIA, Wash., April 13.—(Special.)—For the fourth time since last September, Frank L. Travena of this city has broken a rib. His first mishap occurred in the woods last Fall. A few days later he was kicked by a colt and suffered a fractured rib. Christmas eve he met with an accident at Coal Creek while removing rock, and yesterday afternoon he was crushed by a log in the camp four miles north of Centralia.

Travena's record, however, is broken by another Centralia man named Charles Pennyacker, who has not been without broken limbs for over a year. Pennyacker has broken both legs and both arms, as well as his collarbone in a succession of six accidents.

TILDEN IS RECALCITRANT

Refusing to Show Bank Books, He May Be in Contempt.

HINES' BOAST RELATED

He Crowed Over Lorimer's Election, Said He Raised Much Money and Object Was to Assure High Tariff on Lumber.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 13.—Two important developments occurred in today's hearing of the state Senate committee, which is investigating the election of William Lorimer to the United States Senate.

The first was the disclosure of a campaign by the attorneys and investigators of the committee for the apparent purpose of discrediting Edward Hines, Chicago lumber man, charged with having collected a large fund to elect Lorimer. Mr. Hines testified two weeks ago that he had no knowledge of any such fund.

The second development was the practical refusal of Edward Tilden, Chicago packer and banker, to produce before the committee his bank accounts.

Tilden Must Show Bank Account.

Mr. Tilden's attitude on the witness stand resulted in the issuance of a second subpoena by the committee. This was served as he stepped from the witness chair. The subpoena commands Mr. Tilden to produce before the committee next Thursday the records of his various bank accounts in the year 1909.

Refusal to do so, Mr. Tilden was given to understand, will result in an order of contempt being issued by the committee against him.

When Mr. Hines' testimony has been contradicted by a dozen or more men, it is said that the Chicago lumberman will be recalled to the witness stand and cross-examined as to each story disclosed before the committee.

Attorney Healy considers the testimony given a week ago by Clarence S. Fink, general manager of the International Harvester Company, was today corroborated to a degree by Herman H. Hettler, H. Hettler, Chicago, president of the Herman H. Hettler Lumber Company.

More subpoenas were placed in the hands of deputy sergeants-at-arms of the Senate. A dozen former members of the Legislature, it is said, will be served with committee subpoenas in various quarters of the state tomorrow.

James Forester, of Duquoin, Ill., manager of the Muddy Valley Mining Company, was the first witness. He was asked if he met and held a conversation

DIRECT ELECTION GOES WITH RUSH

House Passes Resolution, 16 Opposing.

CANNON STILL STANDS PAT

Votes No Because Congress Will Not Run Elections.

LAFFERTY PUTS IN WORD

Abolition of Congressional Power Over Senatorial Elections Is Sole Cause of Difference in Debate on Measure.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The House of Representatives, by a vote of 298 to 16, late today passed the Rucker resolution proposing a constitutional amendment for the direct election of United States Senators.

This is the first of the Democratic programme measures passed by the House. It went through without modification and with a speed that brought protests from the Republicans.

The resolution, as the House approved it, is in the form in which the Borah resolution was reported out of the Senate judiciary committee in the closing days of the last Congress. Republican opposition to the Rucker resolution in the House was based on the fact that it did not contain the changes afterwards made in the fight in the Senate, which assured to Congress continued control over elections in the several states.

After six hours of debate, in which many demands were made for this change in the resolution, all but 15 Republicans voted for the resolution. The majority of them had stated during the debate that they would support the resolution because convinced the public wanted such a constitutional amendment submitted to the country as quickly as possible.

Cannon Leads Standpaters.

Those who opposed the resolution on the final vote were:

Republicans—Cannon, Mann, Illinois; Danforth, Malby, New York; Dods, Fordney, McMorran, Michigan; Harris, Lawrence, McCall, Wilder, Massachusetts; Hinds, Maine; Sulloway, New Hampshire; Utter, Rhode Island.

Ex-Speaker Cannon, Mann, the Republican leader, and others of the Republicans who voted against the measure, declared that its form was such as to threaten the Federal Government with the loss of control over Senatorial elections in the states, given to the people by the Constitution.

They insisted, as did other Republicans who ultimately voted for the resolution, that the direct election

HERO TAKES BOY'S CHANCE FOR DEATH

SEATTLE FIREMAN SNATCHES LAD FROM AWFUL DOOM.

Little Jimmy's Lucky Star Shines When Signalman Realizes Result of Collision.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 13.—(Special.)—Bewildered when he leaped from a delivery wagon in front of three city fire horses drawing a big aerial truck, with a collision between the truck and an East Queen Anne streetcar impending, Jimmy Beggs, 12 years old, closed his eyes on his apparently certain doom at Second avenue and Wall street tonight. But Jimmy's lucky star was shining. He felt a pair of powerful arms thrown about him and a moment later he was hurried violently aside.

A minute later his rescuer, Signalman W. J. Mountain, of truck company No. 4, was dragged out from under the truck, his left arm broken at the elbow. He had been crushed under the very wheels from which he had saved Jimmy Beggs.

The company was making a run to a small fire. Jimmy Beggs was sent home after an examination revealed only a bruised knee.

BOY SAVED, BABE BURNS

Father Compelled to Choose Between Two Children in Fire.

REPUBLIC, Wash., April 13.—(Special.)—Thomas Wheeler, who lived with wife and two children on Kate Bell Creek in Okanogan County and who went to Spokane to have burns treated, was forced to choose between his small son and baby girl as the child to be rescued from burning to death in the family's home. He saved the boy and left the babe.

Monday evening while Wheeler and his wife were gathering firewood, they saw their dwelling on fire. They hurriedly fled and found inside their two children, a boy of five and a girl of two years.

Wheeler rushed in, caught the boy hurriedly and got him out, but the baby girl was burned to death. How the fire originated Wheeler did not know. His wife had laid straw all over the floor of one room, preparing to lay a carpet. While Wheeler was getting the boy out he was severely burned about the head, face, neck and arms. The house was totally destroyed.

Wheeler was left destitute and a subscription was taken up and money raised for present needs. The remains of the girl will be brought to Republic for burial.

MANEUVERS DEplete FUND

Troops Must Remain at Posts, for Want of Appropriations.

VANCOUVER BARRACKS, Wash., April 13.—(Special.)—An order suspending the movement of all troops for the next six months, at least, was received from the War Department today at Department of Columbia headquarters.

The order is presumed by officers to mean that the appropriation for transportation has been depleted by the maneuvers on the Mexican border and that the Army will be compelled to wait until another appropriation by Congress can be made before troops can be transported from post to post.

This order will affect the First Infantry in that it will be here until October or longer, instead of sailing to the Philippine Islands in September, as had been planned.

BAN ON BROTHER'S WIDOW

Canadian Court Decrees Marriage Is Not Legally Made.

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 13.—It is unlawful in British Columbia to marry your brother's widow, according to a decision rendered in the County Court here today by Judge Lampman, in the case of Herbert Baker.

After being refused a marriage license in Vancouver, Baker went to New Westminster and secured one by making a declaration that there was no legal impediment to the marriage. The court declared the marriage illegal, but allowed Baker to go on suspended sentence upon his paying the costs of prosecution.

KNIFE CURES KLEPTOMANIA

Doctors Say Woman Will Stop Stealing Since Operation.

OAKLAND, April 13.—At a local hospital today surgeons operated upon Mrs. Jean Turnbow, of Berkeley, who has been afflicted with kleptomania and has recently been released from San Quentin, where she served a term for burglary. A piece of bone one and a half inches square was removed from the skull, thereby relieving a pressure on the brain due to an injury she received in her youth.

The surgeons are confident that the operation will relieve her of her aberration.

CYCLONE'S WRATH GREAT.

Following is a summary of the deaths and injuries reported in the tornadoes which have swept the Southwest during the last 48 hours: Cadot, Mo.—Five dead; score hurt. Valles Mines, Mo.—Four dead; three missing, several hurt. Lawrence, Kan.—Two dead, two seriously hurt. Big Heart, Okla.—Two dead; 60 injured, some fatally. St. Louis, Mo.—Three dead, two from fright. Checotah, Okla.—Babe killed, mother seriously hurt. Plummersville, Ark.—Three dead, 25 injured. Delaware, Okla.—Three dead. Reserve, Kan.—One dead; many hurt. Hiawatha, Kan.—One dead; three hurt. Shistook, Okla.—One dead; three hurt.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 13.—Tornadoes, which yesterday caused about 20 deaths and spread devastation in Oklahoma and Kansas, today attacked Missouri, causing three deaths and immense damage in this city, nine deaths in other Missouri towns.

The storm here was a terrific wind, accompanied by hail two inches in diameter, a heavy downpour with thunder and lightning.

The dead include a driver of a team of mules, a woman who succumbed to fright and another woman who was killed in a runaway.

Elevator Blown Into River.

Houses were blown down in the outskirts of the city and in the extreme north end and an eight-story elevator, containing 1,600,000 bushels of wheat valued at $750,000, was blown into the Mississippi River. Windows in the Bryan Hill and John Marshall public schools and two churches were broken by the wind and hail.

The damage was particularly heavy to the west and north sides and in St. Louis County, where many greenhouses were demolished by the hailstones, which measured more than two inches in diameter. The city parks were denuded of plants, and flowers in the city's greenhouses were destroyed.

The storm came as thousands were on their way home from downtown. As windows in the streetcars were broken the excitement approached a panic. Persons in various parts of the city were reported stunned by falling hailstones, though no serious injury to anyone from this source was reported.

The storm put an abrupt end to the American League game between the locals and the Cleveland team, when the steel flagpole was snapped by the wind and the players were driven from the diamond.

Frightened Horses Kill Woman.

Telephone service was interrupted and reports from the stricken districts were received slowly. The dead include: Harry Foster, electrocuted. Mrs. Regina Mayer, 70 years old, who was run over by her carriage. She was alighting when the horses took fright from the hail, and was injured internally.

Almost every manufacturing plant in the North Side was left without windows after the storm.

Five persons are reported dead and a score injured in the demolition by today's tornado of the town of Cadet, 12 miles south of DeSoto, Mo. Cadet has 600 inhabitants. Wires are down and it is impossible to learn details.

Four negroes were killed and a number injured when the wind wrecked the town of Valles Mines, Mo., 40 miles southwest of here at 2 o'clock this afternoon. In addition to the known dead, three persons are missing.

First news of this disaster was received at Festus, Mo., when a train crew raved over the rails of the Mississippi River & Bonne Terre Railroad from Valles Mines, carrying terrified passengers out of the danger zone. They knew only that a disastrous storm had occurred.

Relief parties from Festus tried to reach the stricken town, but found the roads blocked by high water. No word has come out of Valles Mines since 5 o'clock. It is believed that a second storm visited the place, as the one which demolished Cadet, Mo., 10 miles south of Valles Mines, was reported from De Soto as sweeping in that direction at 4 o'clock.

The four negroes were killed when the Valles Mines postoffice and general store crashed in upon them. Postmaster
