

GREAT CATHEDRAL IS CONSECRATED

Episcopal Church Dedicates Church of St. John Divine in New York.

IT IS AMERICA'S LARGEST

First Section of Building, Which Will Be World's Fourth Largest, Is Opened—$10,000,000 Will Be Cost, Capacity Immense.

NEW YORK, April 19.—With solemn ceremony, and in the presence of a notable gathering of clergy and laity, the completed portions of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine were consecrated today according to the rites of the Protestant Episcopal Church. The impressive offices were presided over by Right Rev. David H. Greer, bishop of the diocese of New York.

Among the guests invited to witness the function were Archbishop Fairley, representing the Roman Catholic Church; Archbishop Landon, of the Greek Church; and the representatives of many other communions, presidents of universities and officers of city, state and nation.

The ceremony was begun with the procession of ecclesiastics, preceded by the vested choir of boys, across the walk from the synod-house to the huge mass of gray stone, still outwardly crude, but representing an important step in the work of making the Cathedral of St. John the Divine the fourth largest cathedral in the world.

Cathedral Fourth Largest.

Within the structure, where many beauties of decorative scheme already have been worked out, the procession passed under the great dome, and with impressive ceremonies the presentations of the chapel of St. Saviour and St. Columba, and altar, organ and choir, were formally made, and the consecration ceremonies performed. Music from the great organ and choir played a notable part in the ceremonial.

Bishop Greer preached the sermon of the day, dwelling on the value of the present-day cathedral as a force for righteousness in modern life. The cathedral is the largest ecclesiastical structure in the country and the fourth largest in Christendom, although only partially constructed. It has already been 29 years in building, at a cost of $2,500,000, and it may take as much longer to complete it, at a total estimated cost of $10,000,000.

Seating accommodations are now provided for about 1700 persons, but, although consecrated for present use, four-fifths of the work remains to be done, and the full capacity will approach 3000.

Chapels for Seven Nations.

The choir and the crossing are practically finished, and the great organ given by Levi P. Morton is in place. The roof is supported by wonderful columns of granite 60 feet tall and 18 feet in circumference, and weighing 120 tons each. These pillars cost $25,000 each and came from Maine. The recesses are of white French marble. It is 45 feet high and 32 feet wide. In the center is a figure of the savior, on the right Moses, and on the left the figure of St. John; while the figures of the apostles appear in small niches. This was the gift of Mrs. Levi P. Morton.

There are to be seven chapels, known as the Chapels of the Tongues. In these services are to be held each Sunday in German, Spanish, French, Swedish, Italian, Armenian and Chinese. Only two of these are completed—St. Saviour's, the gift of Mrs. August Belmont, and St. Columba's, the gift of Mrs. Edward King. The choir is roofed and partly cased with limestone, which will later finish the entire interior.

The great crossing at the intersection of the nave and the transepts, designed for the main assembling place of the congregation, is roofed over, and with the unfinished transepts and the nave shut in from the weather by concrete screens, the remaining windows and work on the lantern and towers above can go on without annoyance to worshippers, each finished unit of the edifice being thrown open as it becomes ready for use.

Central Crossing Is Main Feature.

In style the cathedral is late Romanesque, with strong traces of Byzantine influences. The architect is C. Grant La Farge, a son of the late John La Farge.

The site is the most commanding in the city, on what once was the field of Harlem Heights. It occupies three city blocks. The cathedral itself is a cruciform structure 300 feet long, 185 feet wide across nave and aisles, 225 feet wide across transepts, having two western towers in angles made by arms of the cross, with a central tower and spire planted on a base 100 feet square and rearing its final cross to a height of 425 feet.

Largest in America.

The central tower of Trinity Church, Boston, hitherto the most massive in America, could stand within St. John's crossing and leave three-quarters of its area bare. The dome is of almost equal span with that of the mosque of St. Sophia at Constantinople and nearly 200 feet higher. The dome of St. Paul's, London, is slightly wider, but 35 feet lower. The rotunda of the Capitol at Washington is of the same superficial area, but the ceiling stands 153 feet above the floor, and that of St. John's 252 feet.

The total superficial area is 99,500 square feet, while that of St. Peter's, the greatest of all cathedrals, is 227,000 square feet, a little less than double that of the next largest, at Seville, Spain, which has 124,000. St. Onofre, of Milan, is fourth with 107,000 square feet, and St. John's is fifth.

The construction is everywhere designed for all the uses. The outer walls are of cream-colored granite from Lake Mohogah, N. Y., faced inside with a beautiful, buff limestone from Frontenac, Minn. The grained vaults above the choir will be brilliant with primary colors, and the lofty dome of the crossing will blaze with mosaics and gold.

Duty on British Spirits Annulled.

CLERGY FREE TO MARRY

Pensions Will Be Given Them and Churches Will Be Free for Worship—Patriarch Denounces Decree—Letter Is Proscribed.

LISBON, April 19.—The cabinet has finished the decree of separation of church and state. This will be promulgated Friday or Saturday.

The state secures entire liberty of all creeds, the Catholic creed ceasing to be the state religion from the date of the promulgation. Henceforth all churches will be maintained by the faithful. The beneficed clergy will continue to receive stipends until July 1, after which they will be paid pensions. The property necessary to the celebration of public worship will be ceded to the clergy free of cost. All the Portuguese and foreign clergy engaged in religious work will continue as hitherto, but all others must obtain authorization.

All the religious property which is proved to belong to private individuals, either Portuguese or foreign, will be respected. British and other foreign seminaries will be allowed to remain, but persons connected with the seminaries will not be allowed in the streets in clerical garb.

As the Catholic will no longer be the state religion, priests may marry. In case of death, pensions will revert to the parents, widow or children.

The separation of church and state was announced in a decree issued by the provisional government last October. Details of the separation were left for the consideration of the cabinet.

The announcement by Foreign Minister Machado last January that the decree would be promulgated within a month led to the issuance of a pastoral letter signed by the patriarch of Lisbon to the archbishops and bishops of Portugal. This letter, while it acclaimed the government for certain measures, criticized it harshly because of the dissolution proposal.

The government ordered the provincial Governors to forbid the reading of the pastoral letter and the arrest of several priests followed for disobeying.

DEATH LURKS IN AUTO

ONE DYING, WOMAN AND MAN SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Motor Stops and Car Backs Down Hill, San Francisco Cafe Owner Being Crushed in Smash.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—(Special.)—Frank Dunn, well-known as a down-town saloonkeeper and cafe-owner, was fatally injured this morning, shortly after midnight, and two other persons were slightly injured when an automobile in which the party was riding stopped on the grade at Coit and Haight streets, backed down almost to Divisadero street and overturned as the chauffeur attempted to swing it to the sidewalk to avoid an approaching car.

Dunn, according to the other members of the party, attempted to jump from the machine. Just as he was throwing himself out of the door the machine, which was a limousine, overturned and he was caught between the door and the side of the automobile, receiving a fractured skull. He was hurried to the German Hospital and an operation was performed in the hope of saving Dunn's life, but physicians today said there was little hope that he would live.

The most seriously injured in the party aside from Dunn was Mrs. W. W. MacDonald, wife of an employee of the S. G. Chapman Automobile Company. Mrs. MacDonald received a fractured rib, M. M. Little, another member of the party, a fractured arm.

Little declares that the fault was due to the chauffeur, who failed to swing the car to the sidewalk immediately upon the motor stopping.

STAYS GRANTED BY JUDGE

Men Will Not Begin Five Days in Prison Until This Afternoon, in Kidnaping Case—Woman Guilty but Court Is Lenient.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—Superior Judge Morgan pronounced judgment today in the cases of all the principals concerned in the kidnaping of her two children by Mrs. Albert J. Henry.

James W. Cochrane, attorney for Mrs. Henry, was found guilty of contempt of court and sentenced to five days in the County Jail; Mrs. Henry was found guilty but sentence was suspended; S. Foster Kelley, in whose company Mrs. Henry was discovered, was found guilty and given five days in the County Jail. The court demanded that Peter Deane, accused of furnishing the house that gave shelter to the kidnaped children, should be acquitted because of the testimony he furnished. Four chauffeurs who were charged in the complaint were acquitted.

The court granted Cochrane and Kelley, sentenced to imprisonment, stays of execution until 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Referring to the conviction of Mrs. Henry, Judge Morgan said that he had no intention of imposing any sentence, but would allow her to go free on her own recognizance.

CAMORRIST TRIAL MAY BE HALTED

New Action Likely to Be Ordered Because Informer Was Accomplice.

PRIEST IN HIGH SPIRITS

"Guardian Angel" of Neapolitan Organization, as Well as Other Prisoners, Feels Better After Holy Week Recess.

VITERBO, Italy, April 19.—The trial of the Neapolitan Camorrista may be halted, and a new investigation into the murder of Gennaro Cuocolo and his wife ordered, on the ground that the informer, Gennaro Abbate, was an accomplice in the crime.

This possibility rests on the truth of a sensational report, circulated on the resumption of the case today, to the effect that if the evidence already prepared by the state appears insufficient to convict the accused persons, Abbate will confess complicity in the assassination of Cuocolo.

It is said that he will swear that while he was not one of those who struck the death blows, he witnessed the proceedings in the role of a person who, by religious exercises which he gave him strength to endure every suffering.

Prisoners Troop In.

After a respite during holy week the band of shackled Camorrista trooped into the Court of the Assizes today, and again faced their accusers from within steel bars of the cages which occupy the right arm of the huge cross that shapes the interior of the ancient church of San Francesco.

The priest Cirro Vittozzi, whose flights of oratory and exhibitions of passion have enlivened the murder trial, was perhaps the most cheerful of the lot today. As he was led into court, bound but still wearing his priestly garb, he declared that during the Easter recess he had engaged in fervid religious exercises which had given him strength to endure every suffering.

"I am," he proclaimed, "the guardian angel of the Camorra, spiritually armed against everything and everybody."

Fucci Denies Charges.

Luigi Fucci, who is described as the fictitious head of the Camorrista, and given a nominal office in order to protect Enrico Alfano, the guiding spirit, was called for interrogation. Fucci averred that he was neither the real nor the nominal head of the organization, and denied that he was even a Camorrist.

"It would indeed be most strange," said the prisoner, "if this society were to choose for its leader a man like myself. Why, through my life I have been condemned but once, and then to only two months in prison because I had mixed in a row during which I was well beaten."

"It is true that I attended a banquet with a party of friends at the Alda Tavern in Bagnolo in the Spring of 1907; but it is absurd to assume that Cuocolo was sentenced to death on that joyful occasion."

PRISONER DENIED FREEDOM

Quick Action by Los Angeles Police Praised by Judge.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 19.—(Special.)—In denying Milo W. Kimm his freedom on a writ of habeas corpus today, Judge McCormick, of the criminal department of the Superior Court, praised the police department for the alacrity with which it acted in the case.

Kimm began habeas corpus proceedings and Chief Sebastian immediately telegraphed to Sheriff Stone, of Spokane, asking for details so that he could fight the writ. They were sent him, together with the information that A. H. Jellist, Stone's deputy, is
