

HOPKINS KNEW OF LORIMER BRIBERY

Ex-Senator Tells of Money Offered for Votes at Time of Election.

DEMOCRATS' AID REJECTED

Candidate for Senate, Not Penitentiary, Said Hopkins, When Told How to Get Democratic Votes. Jackpot Is Found.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 20.—Reports of bribery being adopted to elect William Lorimer United States Senator were related by Albert J. Hopkins, the ex-Senator who was nominated at the primaries for re-election, but was defeated by a combination of Republicans and Democrats in the Legislature.

Hopkins, testifying before the Senate committee on the Lorimer bribery charges, related the incidents which surrounded his nomination for Senator early in the year 1909 and events in the period of the long deadlock.

Hopkins stated that Lorimer's candidacy was not made known to him until the day before Lorimer's election.

"$2500 Offered for Vote. Previous to this, a week or so," said Hopkins, "I had heard a rumor regarding Lorimer, but I gave the matter no credence."

Attorney Healy then questioned Hopkins regarding reports that money had been used to elect Lorimer.

"Senator McCormick," said Hopkins, "told my private secretary that he had been offered $2500 to vote for Lorimer."

Hopkins recalled a conversation he had with Senator Landis.

"What was that?" asked Attorney Healy.

"I told Senator Landis that I was a candidate for the Senate, and not the penitentiary, and that I was not looking for Democratic votes," replied Hopkins.

Weibe Put $10,000 in Jackpot. William Burgess, an electrical contractor from Duluth, Minn., told of a rail journey on a train between Duluth and Virginia, Minn., in March, 1911.

Burgess said a man named Johnson; Randolph, John and Carl Weyerhaeuser, C. E. Weibe, a brother-in-law of Edward Hines, and another man, were in the smoking compartment of a car.

Burgess testified that Weibe said Lorimer never spent a cent, but that a jackpot was raised by Lorimer's friends to effect the election.

"I know what I am talking about," Weibe was quoted by Burgess as saying, "because I put up $10,000 for that jackpot."

Weibe is secretary of the Edward Hines Lumber Company.

EACH CANDIDATE TARGET

(Continued from First Page.) employe of the city at $150 a month who could not earn $75 a month anywhere else.

Again quoting statistics, Mr. Werlein said that the present outstanding indebtedness of the city is $2,745,000, with other bond issues authorized which will bring the grand total up to $14,481,500. Under the provisions of the charter, which provides that the total bonded indebtedness of the city shall not exceed 7 per cent of the total assessable value of property, Mr. Werlein pointed out that the maximum of bonded indebtedness in this city was limited to $19,270,000, or only $5,725,500 more than has been issued.

He promised that as Mayor he would keep the expenses of the city within the present tax levy.

Crematory Removal Urged. Discussing the present charter further, Mr. Werlein pointed out that there was no provision in that instrument fixing the location of municipal garbage crematories. Such institutions, he said, could be located outside of the corporate limits of the city, where they belonged, ridding the city of the menace of bubonic plague imminent under the present unsanitary system.

After commending the bank deposit feature of the city charter, which earned the city $24,000 in interest on city funds, last year, Mr. Werlein said that if elected he would "protect the young manhood and the young womanhood of the city from the dives and pitfalls with which they have been confronted by seeing that everyone of these hell-holes is wiped out of existence."

Three Needs Seen. "Three things are needed in Portland," said Mr. Lombard, who followed Mr. Werlein and likewise spoke for 20 minutes. "They are a clean Council, a commission form of government and an efficient business administration. Given the first two, the third will follow as a natural result."

"When the present charter was adopted, Portland had a population of 100,000 and one office building, the Chamber of Commerce. The charter may have been practicable and sufficient to meet all needs of the city nine years ago, but conditions have changed greatly in the meantime. The result is that today this charter is obsolete and old-fashioned and a general demand exists for a commission form of government. Since our charter was adopted in 1902, over 100 cities in this country have adopted such a system, and none of them has gone back to the old plan."

Paving Trust Rapped. "Our present charter is obsolete if for no other reason than that it makes and creates the paving trust by the very system that is prescribed for making street improvements. Under the charter the Council is directed to designate the kind of material with which the improvement is to be made, doing away altogether with competition."

He argued that the only way to insure having the city's business properly and intelligently administered was to place it in the hands of a few men who would give their entire time to the work and be remunerated adequately by the city.

CONTESTING CANDIDATES FOR PRESIDENT OF D. A. R.

MRS. WILLIAM CUMMING STORY AND MRS. MATHEW T. SCOTT, INCUMBENT.

The City of Portland public office is a private trust. There is no bigger trust in Portland than the City Council. The Mayor's power is negative. The Council has greater powers. The Mayor cannot institute a reform or expend a cent of money unless it is ordained by the Council.

"Third House" Scored. Mr. Lombard reiterated his charge against the "third house," consisting of representatives of the paving trust and public service corporations, that in important matters it influences and controls the City Council against the best interests of the people. He advocated the Ellis paving amendment, but opposed the $1,000,000 bond issue for a municipal paving plant.

"I would like to know who are going to be elected to the Council, anyway, before I would be willing to vote for another $1,000,000 to be expended by the Council," he said.

"No Graft" Is Promise. "The detective force in this city needs readjustment as badly as the Police Department. There will be no graft in Portland with me as Mayor if I can find it. I stand for clean government and not for graft. As a candidate for Mayor, I stand on my record as an ex-member of the Council and as a business man."

In the ten minutes allowed Mr. Werlein to conclude the discussion, he pleaded for a thorough airing of the present charter, although he agreed that among his first acts as Mayor would be the appointment of a committee of 15 citizens to investigate and report to the people a plan for commission government.

TWO NATIONS DISAGREE

FRANCE AND SPAIN NOT IN ACCORD ABOUT MOROCCO.

Spain May Join Hands With Germany in Plans to Suppress Revolt Menacing Sultan.

MADRID, April 20.—Persistent reports of differences between Spain and France relative to the handling of the Moroccan situation are emphasized by various newspapers which criticize the Franco-Spanish entente regarding Morocco, and foresee a rapprochement and even accord between Spain and Germany.

This is the attitude of the administration organ, Manana, the Conservative Mundo and the Catholic Debate.

On the other hand, the Republican El Pais expresses the opinion that an understanding with Germany would be fatal as a certain cause of reprisals on the part of France and Great Britain.

With the development of the revolt in Morocco threatening the security of the Sultan's government, and the preparations of Spain and France to protect their interests in the event that order were not soon restored, have come rumors that the two countries were at odds over the measures to be taken, and that Germany had intimated to Madrid that it was not in sympathy with the French plan.

On Jan. 20, 1908, the representatives of 23 governments met at Algiers and subsequently adopted an international agreement concerning reforms in Morocco.

MORGAN'S MAN IS AT HEAD

(Continued from First Page.) Mr. Morgan is desirable, viz: in a manner that will avoid protracted litigation or substantial reduction of the free surplus of the society, and that the committee on mutualization continue to cooperate with the Superintendent of Insurance, the trustees and Mr. Morgan to that end.

Mr. Morgan is now in Europe and his 502 shares of the stock are held by George W. Perkins, ex-Justice Morgan J. O'Brien and Louis Cass Ledyard as trustees. He is understood to have paid $5000 a share and the policyholders will have to make a corresponding disbursement for his holdings.

The committee on mutualization met late today and sent word to Superintendent Hotchkiss that soon they would communicate with him in writing.

None of the trustees spoke at the meeting today, but a letter from them was read, urging that the election of a president be deferred until some plan of mutualization had been adopted.

Grants Pass Essayist Wins. GRANTS PASS, Or., April 20.—(Special.)—Rubix Richey, a graduate of the high school here has received word that he is the winner of the first prize offered by the Oregon Revolution for the best essay submitted by students of the high schools of Oregon. He took for his subject "Foreign Officers in the American Revolution." Richey was editor of the high school paper here, and is talented in pen-sketching.

ELECTION FIGHT HOT

Both Sides Claim Presidency of Daughters of Revolution.

RESULT NOT KNOWN YET

Tellers Work All Night Counting Ballots at Convention in Washington—Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Story Are Contestants.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—With both "administration" and "opposition" parties claiming victory for their candidates, balloting for the election of National Officers of the Daughters of the American Revolution now in 25th continental congress here, closed about 8 o'clock tonight. The tellers will be occupied all night counting the vote, the result of which will be announced tomorrow morning.

The managers of the campaign of Mrs. Matthew T. Scott for re-election as president-general of the organization claim that she will have about 200 majority, while the advocates of Mrs. William C. Story, of New York, say she will win.

Ten vice-presidents-general are to be chosen. Mrs. John Leary, Washington; Mrs. Amelia W. Truscott, California; and Mrs. John Campbell, Colorado, are on the anti-administration ticket.

Campaign Has Not Lagged. Two years ago Mrs. Scott, after a bitter fight, won over Mrs. Story by a small majority. The campaign has never lagged since then, and has been marked by much rivalry. It is believed the contest will be close. "Administration" candidates are:

Mrs. Henry L. Mann, vice-president-general; Mrs. Florence New Piles, South Carolina, chaplain-general; Mrs. Frank Bold, District of Columbia, recording secretary-general; Mrs. W. F. Dennis, corresponding secretary-general; Mrs. G. B. Brumbaugh, registrar-general; Mrs. W. D. Hoover, treasurer-general; Mrs. C. W. Bassett, historian-general; Mrs. E. S. Thompson, assistant historian-general; Miss A. Gillett, librarian-general. All are from the District of Columbia, except Mrs. Bassett, Maryland, and Mrs. Thompson, Massachusetts.

Opposition Ticket Formidable. The "opposition" candidates are: Mrs. Miranda C. Tulloch, vice-president-general; Mrs. W. E. Callender, South Carolina, chaplain-general; Mrs. Frank Bold, District of Columbia, recording secretary-general; Mrs. W. A. Smoot, Virginia, corresponding secretary-general; Miss G. M. Pierce, New York, registrar-general; Mrs. H. P. Blount, District of Columbia, treasurer-general; Mrs. C. A. Thomas, New Jersey, historian-general; Mrs. C. H. Blaisell, Connecticut, assistant historian-general; Miss Aline Solomons, District of Columbia, librarian-general.

Great applause greeted the nominating speeches of "administration" and "opposition" candidates. Both Mrs. Scott, nominated by Mrs. Lawrence W. Boyer, of Illinois, for reelection as president-general, and Mrs. Story, named on the "opposition ticket" by Mrs. L. K. Torbett, regent of the Chicago Chapter, were applauded for several minutes.

DOG SHOW BIGGEST YET

Over 350 Already Entered for Portland Kennel Club's Exhibition.

At the regular weekly meeting of the executive committee of the Portland Kennel Club, held in the offices of Dr. Alan Welch Smith, the president, last night, Secretary McCarthy reported the largest entry list ever known at a Portland dog show.

Approximately 350 dogs of all breeds and classes have been entered. The exact number will not be definitely known until all of the entries received have been classified and listed in the programme. Dogs have been entered from all points of the Northwest, and many from New York, Michigan, Illinois, Colorado and Utah.

Sixty-two silver trophies have been received by the club and several more have been promised. The show will open next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock and remain open until Saturday night. The show will be held in the old Olds, Wortman & King building, Fifth and Washington streets. Charles G. Hopton of New York, will be judge.

BIDDERS FIGHT, BOTH LOSE

Vancouver Council Will Likely Buy Own Road-Oiling Machine.

VANCOUVER, Wash., April 20.—(Special.)—The City Council tonight refused to open the bids of R. J. Helder, of the Oregon Road Oiling Company, and E. L. Shipperd, for the oiling of city streets and the probabilities are that the city will purchase a road-oiling machine of its own. The refusal came as a result of a controversy between the two bidders.
