CHOICE IS DELAYED

Dock Commission Not Ready to Name Engineer.

ONE HAS MADE SELECTION

Another Member Has Group of Several in Mind, and Two Wish to Obtain Further Information Before Voting.

Selection of an engineer by the Dock Commissioner will meet with an-other delay at the meeting of the Com-mission to be held next Thursday. This mission to be held next Thursday. This developed yesterday, when a poll of the members was taken and it was found that of the four members now in the city, two will not be prepared at the next meeting to name an engineer. One has made his selection and the fourth has gone only so far as to determine that he will vote for one of a selected group of four or five.

When the commission meets next Thursday it will be five months since the members were appointed. As soon as they organized, it was agreed that nothing in the way of the establishment of public docks should be done until an expert engineer had been employed. When they will accomplish this seems as indefinite now as it did several months ago.

everal months ago.

F. W. Mulkey, chairman of the Commission, said yesterday that he had made his selection and would be on the question.

Ben Selling said he would not be ready to vote on the selection of an engineer by Thursday. He said he engineer by Thursday. He said he wanted more time in which to investigate the candidates.

Henry L. Corbett said also that he would not be ready to vote on the selection of an engineer at the meeting next Thursday. He wanted, he said to learn something more about some engineers who had not yet announced themselves as candidates.

George Cornwall, the other member of the Commission, is out of the city, but it is expected that he will be back It is expected that he was commis-in time for the meeting Thursday.

It was expected when the Commis-sion was first appointed that the se-jection of an engineer would be accom-pitshed early this year, and thus by Summer the Dock Commission would be in position to begin carrying out the plans of its engineer. The next meeting of the Commission after next Thursday will be on June 1.

YUCATAN'S FUTURE DECIDED

North Pacific Steamer Will Not Be

Repaired Until End Alaska Season. From the office of the North Pacific the stipes of the North Pacific Steamship Company came the official announcement yesterday that when the Yucatan completes its three trips to Alaska this Summer it will be fitted by in Postland in up in Portland to go on the Portland-San Diego route.

San Diego route.

Much of the passenger fittings on the Yucatan, which were torn away when she was wrecked off the Alaska coast, will not be replaced before the vessel goes into commission on the Alaska trips. It is planned, however, to have the steamer docked in Portland to the whole her last trip is complete.

When the Yucatan is added to the route between this city and San Diego the company will maintain a five-day chedule, the same as maintained by Francisco & Portland Steamship Company.

Schooner President on Run.

MARSHFIELD, Or., April 30.—(Special.)—The North Pacific Steamship Company will put the 40-ton gasoline schooner President on the run between Coos Bay and the Coquille River. She will be run in connection with the steamer Alliance, which will give the company the opportunity of making a through freight rate from Portland to Coquille River cities. Freight from the Alliance will be transhipped on the President and the President is of such draught that she can go up the river and reach Coquille, the county scat, and Myrtle Point at certain tides.

Burned Steamer Mascot Moved.

WOODLAND, Wash., April 39 .- (Spe cial.)—The United States Engineers snagboat Mathloma, Gaptain Graham in charge, succeeded in raising the hull of the steamer Mascot sufficiently to allow removal of the wreck 200 feet below the dock at Pekin to make room for the steamer Undine. Close watch was kept on the hull while the work was in progress to discover the remains of Sidney Illidge, who lost his life in the fire that destroyed the Mascot more than a month ago, but no trace of the body was found Steamer Needs New Propeller.

To have its propeller replaced by a new one, the steamer Anvil will go on the Oregon drydock today, if the dock can accept it. The French bark Marchal de Castries is on the drydock, and it is expected that it will be ready to be taken off today. If it is taken off today, if it is taken off today and the drydock. off the Anvil will be put on the dry-dock in its place. If the Anvil cannot go on the dock today the vessel will wait until its next trip into port to have the propeller replaced by a new FOREST GROVE, Or., April 28.—(Special.)—Already Diamond Assembly, of this city, is making plans for the entertainment of the hosts of United Artisans from every section of the state who will be here on May 20 to attend the annual state picuic held under the auspices of the order. Because of the strategic location of Forest Grove, on two railroad lines, and its proximity to Portland, Forest Grove was favored by the Supreme Assembly as a suitable place for the holding of the picnic. Several thousand Artisans are expect ed to gather in the College City on that date and the local assembly has selected chairmen of committees to prepare for the event. Naylor's grove, shaded by tall fir trees, has been obtained through had made his selection and would be ready to vote on his choice at any time. C. B. Moores said that he had determined that his choice would be one of four or five whom he had in view. He said it was possible for him to be able at the next meeting to vote on the question.

The Selling said he would not be able at the maximeters and the committee on preparation of grounds, and Dr. O. H. Scheetz will look after the concessions.

Extensive schemes of decoration are already planned by a special committee and the local Artisans who have the co-operation of the assemblies of the county, are determined to make the event one to be remembered in the an-

was really excellent, considering the short time the men have played together, and they all showed to good graceful movement is the scherzo. The musicians were on more familiar

People of District Affected Said to Be United in Opposition to Scheme Which They Say Would Injure Them.

All the push clubs on the Peninsula will join the Woodlawn Club in fighting any attempt to empty the sewer systems of that district into Columbia slough. The clubs also will oppose even an overflow into Columbia slough. Woodlawn and Piedmont clubs have special committees watching proceed-ings on the sewer question for the Peninsula closely.

Peninsula closely.

"We are not opposed to construction of a sewer," said G. H. Hamilton of the Woodlawn Push Club, "but we are opposed to using Columbia slough for opposed to using Columbia slough for the discharge of the sewer, or even for the overflow. The Board of Health is opposed to using Columbia slough for that purpose. The problem where to empty the sewer is a serious one. A trunk extending to Oregon slough would serve only a limited district, and would be expensive. However, it would seem that the natural route for a sewer would be along Columbia boule-vard to the Willamette River. Such a Irunk line would serve the whole of the Peninsula and all would be called on to pay for the sewer. Eventually all will be taken into the city. If Columbia slugh should be dredged out and a current established it might be safe to use it, but even that is doubt-

"We must have sewerage," said J G. Stephens, a well-known resident and property owner," but the authorities might as well understand now and for all that the people will resist the use of Columbia slough to empty sewerage in. It would ruin the district and endanger the health of the city. Sewerage discharged into Columbia slough would be spread over the low lands and breed typhoid. It can be seen that the current flows eastward part that the current flows eastward part of the time, and there are only two or three months in the year when there is a current westward strong enough to carry out the sewerage. It will pay the property owners to have the trunk line empty in the Willamette River. Portland will be a great city. It will grow faster than ever after the completion of the Panama canal, and we cannot afford to do anything now that will endanger the health of FOUR UNIONS JOIN IN DEMONnow that will endanger the health of the city by spreading sewerage over the Columbia slough district."

"There is no urgent necessity for sewerage on most of the Peninsula," said George P. Lent, president of the Piedmont Improvement Association, "and it would be better to delay a little rather than use either the Columbia or Oregon slough. I am opposed to the use of either. I made examination myself this week and found hardly any current in Columbia slough, A rough exper slong Columbia bouleyard trunk sewer along Columbia boulevará to the Willamette River, it seems to me, is the only solution of the problem. St. John will certainly come into the city sooner or later and must have sewerage. Laterals may be extended to this trunk line from all points on to this trunk line from all points on the Peninsula. This would provide for the future, which must be done any-way. The city authorities might as well understand that the people are practi-cally a unit in opposition to the use of Columbia slough or the Oregon slough, and prefer to wait a while and pay more for a permanent trunk sewer which will empty in the Willamette River. As there will be a great territory to assess the cost would be comparatively small to individuals."

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

During the last 12 hours the barometer has failen quite decidedly over the North Pacific States. A high-pressure area overlies the eastern slope of the Northern Rocky Mountains and a storm of marked energy is central over Iows. General rains have occurred in nearly all of the Eastern and Southern States and cloudiness has increased in the North Pacific States. It is much colder in Wisconsin Minnesots, Eastern South Dakots, Nebraska, Kansss and Oktahoma. The temperatures as a rule have risen slightly in the Pacific States. The conditions are favorable for showers Monday in Western Oregon, Western and externe Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho. Elsewhere in this district fair weather will prevail. It will be cooler in Western Oregon, Washington and Northern Idaho and warmer in Southern Idaho.

THE SPOON FEED PREVENTS THE BLOT

The barrel of an average sized Waterman's Ideal holds a supply of ink that will ordinarily write about twenty thousand words. The ink is fed down to the point of the pen by the patented Spoon Feed, with the flow adjusted according to the style of the gold pen-a slight flow for a fine pen, a liberal flow for a coarse pen. If the heat of your hand causes the ink to flow faster than required, it settles in the pockets of the Feed and then back to the barrel-there can be no overflow. Ink is always at the point when you need it. If there is ink in the barrel of a Waterman's Ideal it will write. There is no other writing implement that has the same surety, safety or endurance.

Doan's Kidney Pills have brought sound backs and new life and strength to thousands of suffering women. This remedy is made of pure medicines, contains no poisonous nor narcotic drugs, nothing that would cause a habit. It cures backache, kidney and bladder troubles, also bedwetting of children. PORTLAND TESTIMONY.

Mrs. A. M. Hollabaugh, 328A Grant street, Portland, Oregon, says: two or three years I suffered from kidney complaint and inflammation of the bladder. I had considerable backache, but the worst symptom of my trouble was a difficulty with the kidney secretions. Donn's Kidney Pills relieved me soon after I began their use." (Statement given January 16, 1906).

RE-ENDORSEMENT.

Mrs. Hollabaugh was interviewed on March 26, 1910, and she said: "My health has been excellent during the past several years, due to occasional use of Doan's Kidney Pills."
