Washington, Students Rewarden.— In appreciation of their work in behalf of the school on the floor and on the platform, the members of the Washington High School banketball and debating teams were yesterday presented with gold-adorned watch-fobs. Some time ago the basketball players were given their "W" sweaters. Washington won stubborn, up-hill fight. The members of the team were: Captain George, Mc-Laren, Parsons, Irle, Poster, Gould, Apperson, Jackson and Darling. In recognition of their work in the de-partment of forsenics Messrs Wolford, Baidwin, Bradford, Miller, Haines and Herzog were given fobs. Washing-ton won the interscholastic debating championship.

IVANHOR WANTS MORE WATER.-The Ivanhoe Push Club has taken up the question of additional water supply and has appointed a committee to walt on the Water Board to ascertain what dis-contemplated to furnish Ivanhoe with more water and to prevent another shortage during this year. Ivanhoe is supplied from the Woodstock water plant. The committee will ask that the Woodstock system be purchased or that larger water mains be laid in Ivanhoe. "The city has paid $50,000 for the Woodmere water plant and is pre-paring to lay mains there," said James Smith, of Ivanhoe, "and the people out here think they are entitled to the same consideration." has appointed a committee to walt or same consideration

HOLEMAN MURDER SUSPECT NOT SLATER. -While en route from Crescent City, Cal., to Montesano, Wash., to answer a charge of forgery, H. F. Carr, a prisoner of Deputy Sheriff Royce, of Chehalis County, attracted the notice of local officers on account of his resemblance to the man who murdered Barbara Holzman, in a Russell-street rooming-house, it was learned that he was in Portland at the time of the murder, and Detectives Coleman and Snow caused him to be configured by Mrs. Bertha Nelson, the only person who saw the slayer. As she has done so many times before, the woman said that this was not the man.

RESTRICTIONS REMOVED FOR FIREHOUSE.

Building restrictions have been removed from a lot at East Forty-third and Sandy road, in Rose City Park Addition, where the city has determined to establish an engine-house. A petition was circulated and signed sufficiently to cause Hartman & Thompson, the general agents, to withdraw the regulations as to this one structure. The city contemplates erecting a creditable building there. It is situated where the firemen will be able to cover a large territory.

Committee on Complaints to Meet.—
Owing to the excitement pertaining to the city campaign and the desire of many of the members of the Committee of Fifty—which is investigating affairs of the Board of Education—to participate in its excesses, there have been no meetings held recently either of the committee or of the subcommittee on complaints. However notices were sent out yesterday by Chairman Hask ordering a session of the subcommittee on complaints on May 9 in his office in the Lumbermens building. Up to the present time there has only been one meeting of this committee and upon that occasion there was no business transacted. The meeting of May 9 will have up for consideration several matters, it is promised, which will be of interest.

CLOUDS OF VAPOR CAMES FIRE CALL—Clouds of vapor, pouring from the office of State Dairy and Food Commissioner Bailey, in the Breeden building, caused some temperamental citizen to telephone a hurry call to the Fire Detelephone a hurry call to the Fire De-partment, early yesterday. The down-town companies responded quickly and made ready to extinguish the fire, but found none. Accidental overturn of a vessel containing hydrochloric scid had haif stiffed the chemist in charge. PLAY. TEACHES ECONOMY

"The Spendthrift" Written as Rebuke to Feminine Extravagance.

"The Spendthrift," the latest dramatic work of Porter Emerson Browne, who wrote "A Fool There Was," will be the offering at the Heilig Theater for four nights beginning tonight, with a matinee on Saturday.

The scenes in "The Spendthrift" are laid in New York. Its characters are people of culture, active in the social life of the metropolis. Its most important two figures are a man and his wife who, while apparently are leading a life of ease and contentment, are in reality harassed by many misunderstandings and combinations of untoward circumstances. The play deals with the foolish, extravagant frivolousness of this kind of a woman. It points with emphasis to the tragedy resulting from the deliberate waste of opportunity.

Frederic Thompson, the producer, with his usual careful attention to the selecof casts, has chosen a company se dominant characteristic-considwhose dominant characteristic-considered individually or collectively—is efficiency. Doris Mitchell and Lionel Adams have the leading roles. Other characters are in the hands of such capable artists as those of Albert Sackett, Gwendolyn Plerk, Forrest Orr, Mattle Ferguson, William H. Sullivan and Alice Kelly.

AUTO CLUB ACCEPTS PLAN

T. Irving Potter's Idea of Raising Money for Home Is Approved.

The Portland Automobile Club, at The Portland Automobile Club, at its meeting Tuesday night, decided to adopt T. Irving Potter's plan for raising $50,000 with which to erect a club-house. The board now has $15,000 in sight, $4500 of which will be contributed by the members of the board, each member putting in $500. The property now owned by the club will sell for $6500, it is believed, and $4000 can be secured from bonds and other assets.

Two Locked Up as Witnesses in Chief Cox' Case.

COLLIER CONTINUES PROBE

Deputy Prosecutor Declares Former Police Official Will Have Fair Trial and That Inquiry Is Producing Results.

Having given to Deputy District At-torney Collier evidence which the prosecutor admits is of a startling na-ture, in connection with the pending case against Chief of Police Cox, two case against Chief of Police Cox, two women, giving the names Rosa Kline and Madeline Smith, were locked up at the County Jail yesterday morning, to be held as witnesses at the trial of the accused official, which is set for May 18. They are held under bond of $1000 each.

The two women were part of a concourse of underworld people who assembled in the ante-room of the District Attorney's office yesterday morning, in continuation of the inquiry begun by Collier the day before. After

"We are not seeking evidence of graft," said Mr. Collier yesterday.

"That is not a part of the case which I have to handle. I intend that the Chief shall have a fair trial upon the allegations in the indictment against him and that the whole trial shall go him and that the whole trial shall go to the merits of the case."

In answer to a question whather the inquiry he was conducting was pro-ducing satisfactory results, Collier re-plied emphatically that it was; that the women were giving evidence of much importance.

TSCHAIKOWSKY "SYMPHON"

The Famous "Pathetique" Will Be Played at the Thursday Evening Concert.

The programmes for the two appearances here of the great Russian Symphony Orchestra and their soloisis have been received and it is good news for all music lovers that the famous "Pathetique" is to be on the evening programme. There have been over 160 requests for that symphony after it was announced that one of the programmes would probably be composed of all Russian masterpleces. The afternoof programme will be unusually attractive too, for it will contain, instead of an entire symphony, excerpts from the Richard Straus music drama—"Salome," which takes nearly half an hour to give. The orchestra and their splendid vocalists have just been giving a fine series of concerts in San Francisco, in fact they do not close their season there until next Sunday, and the critics have been most employed. their season there until next Sunday, and the critics have been most emphatic in their praise of the organization and its gorgeous ensemble work. They will give but two concerts here at the Armory, Thursday afternoon and evening, May 11, and the sale of seats opeus next Monday morning, at 10 o'clock, at the Sherman-Clay Store. Mail orders now received by Lois Steers--Wynn Coman.

CLUB TO HOLD MEMORIAL

Newspaper Men and Friends to Honor Jack Barrett's Memory.

President Vincent, of the Portland Press Club, has announced that the memorial exercises for Jack Barrett, the Portland newspapes man who died in St. Paul this week, will begin precisely at 3 o'clock Sanday afternoon, in the club's rooms, Eiks building.

Mr. Vincent said that Mr. Barrett's friends, both men and women, were invited to the service. Every member of the club will be present if possible. Besides several addresses, there will be given a musical programme, under the direction of Professor F. W. Goodrich.

sentment has been expressed by those who have been compelled to pay fees required by law for its maintenance. The revenue from the public enjoyed by the fibrary amounts almost to $4000 a year, and as nearly all of this money is spent for the purchase of new books for the library, it is contended that the books should become the property of the county and not of the library association, which will have the right to dispose of them at any time without the consent of the county.

It has been suggested that either the library be made the property outright of the county, and thus maintained legally by the county for the use of all who may desire, or that it be made is branch of the Portland Public Library. Members of the library association are

"It is essential," he said, "for us to find a first-class man. The man who draws up the plans for the Fortland docks should be able to foresee the demands of 25 years hence—longer than that, perhaps. Portland will be a big city. Let us build on plans that will provide for all contingencies. The engineer I want to see appointed has not been suggested—or his qualifications have not been made known.

"There has been a tendency to complain of our inactivity. We have been organized four or five months and we have accomplished nothing. That is true, but we have not spent any money." I think that to date our entire expenditures have not exceeded $20 a month—a total of $30 or $100. I am not going to favor spending the money of the Portland property owner simply becase he voted $1,500,000 of bonds. We do not need to sell bonds until we have reached a conclusion requiring money."

There are 25 applications on file for the position of chief engineer. The applicants are from foreign countries, as well as the principal citles of the United States. The question of construction of new privately owned docks and the repairs of old ones will be reported upon today by President Mulkey.
