Their duit is not to deter-mine what the law shall be, but to deter-mine what the law shall be but to deter-mine what the law is. Their independence, their sense of dignity and freedom, is of the first consequence to the stability of the second is to set up the Mea that determina-tions of what the law is must respond to popular impulse and to popular judgment. It is sufficient that the people should have the power to change the law when they will. #### Corporations Tools of People.

Corporations Teels of People. The second power we fant is the control of our life through the wast privileges of corporations which use the wealth of masses of men to sastain their enterprise. It is a fundamental mistake to speak of the privi-leges of these great corporations as if they fell within the class of private right and of private property. These who administer the affairs of great joint stock companies are really administering the property of communities, the property of the whole mass and misculiany of men who have bought the stock or the bonds that sustain the enterprise. The stocks and the bonds are constantly changing hands. There is no fixed particerthip. ing Congress.

are constantly changing hands. There is no fixed partmership. What we need is to come to a common size which will not bring antagonism, but accommodation. The programmes of parties must now be programmes of enlightenment and readjustment, not revolutionary, but restorative. What we need in our politics is an instant alignment of all men free and willing to think and to not without fear upon their thought.

terday Madero Denies Anarchy.

A brief celebration of the battle of Puebla took place in the Madero camp today. General Madero presented Gen-eral Pascual Orozco, his commander-in-chief, with a silk Mexican flag. A few speeches were made by rebel lead-ers, and a band played martial airs. General Madero tonight received a message from a New York newspaper informing him that in the United States it was believed anarchy prevailed in Mexico, and that the situation was very Mexico, and that the situation was very grave. In reply he denied that anarchy existed, asserting, however, that the disturbed condition of the country was due to the fact that organized revolu-tion was triumphing. He relterated his views, as expressed in his ultimatum to Diaz, but added that, if President Diaz announced his intention of resigning. It blas, but added that, if President Diaz announced his intention of resigning, it would be possible to restore Mexico to peace within eight days, the time he al-flowed for communicating with all the rebel chiefs.

Diaz' Purpose Explained.

Explaining the intimation he had given Madero of Diaz' intention to re-sign. Senor Oscar Braniff, one of the federal go-betweens, issued h statement in which he said:

In which he said: "In my endeavor to fight the anti-Diaz bogey, which had been exploited by some for purposes which in due course of time we shall make public Hunyadi 🔒 with appropriate and sufficient proofs, I privately and confidentially told Mr. Madero that for a long time past Gen-eral Diaz was thinking of retiring from public life. I told him that now than ever Diaz was anxious to retire to private life, not only because he thought that he deserved a few he thought that he deserved a tow years' rest and freedom from the re-fiponsibilities of the last 30 years, but because he wanted to have the hap-piness of witnessing the consolidation of his country's stability."

Advices to the Herald from Monterey say that the federals and insurrectos at San Pedro, Coahuila, have signed a pact by which the federals retire with their arms and ammunition to Monte rey, and the insurrectos agree to pre-serve peace and order and assume the government of the district.
