ANDERSON-O'BRIEN GO DRAW

Bont at Vancouver Witnessed by Crowd of 2200 Persons.

VANCOUVER. Wash., May 5 .- (Spe cial.)—Bud Anderson, of Vancouver, and Danny O'Brien, of Portland, fought 15 rounds to a draw here tonight in their lightweight contest, over which the anti-prizelighting forces raised such a furore. Nothwithstanding the fact they were under heavy bonds not to participate in a contest in Vancouver the men went into the ring and fought a clean, fast and scientific bout.

No brutality was shown and the con-testatnis were but little marked at the conclusion of the contest. O'Brien brought blood to Anderson's mouth and nose during the middle of the bout and later almost closed his right eye. Blood also flowed from the Portland a knockout by clinching to his opponent to gain strength.

> KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 5 .- With a hard right swing to the jaw, Jim Flynn, of Pueblo, Col., knocked out Al Kaufman, of San Francisco, in the tenth round of their fight here tonight. Never before in his career had Kaufman suffered such punishment as he re-ceived tonight. Eight times Flynn floored him. Three times did the giant Capifornian take the count of nine, and each knockdown he saved himself from a knockout by clinching to his opponent to gain strength.

When the knockout finally came, a minute before the fight was scheduled to end, Kaufman was a bloody and pitiable sight. Blood streamed from his left eye, which was closed in the chird round. Other than a badly swollen face, due to Kaufman's left jabs, Flynn apparently was unhurt.

Flynn fought his usual buildog battle. He rushed Kaufman at every opportunity. With lowered head, the former fireman would charge his tailer and heavier opponent, swinging rights and lefts, which usually went home to Kaufman's head. Flynn used his left most frequently. He landed at least 20 hard swings with this hand alone. Kaufman was unable to ward off Flynn's blows when once he started a rush.

Kaufman was slow. He continually tried to shove Flynn away and make a long range battle of the affair. During two rounds, the first and the fifth, the Californian got the kind of battling he wanted, but then found his left jabs and right swings were not strong enough to affect his slugging opponent.

The result was never in doubt after the second round.
