The fight lasted until darkness came and furnished many a thrilling spectacle as well as continuous terror for Americans living along the river bank. About a dozen insurrector were seen to run toward Junez early in the day. They skulked along through the shrubbery toward the federal outposts, firing repeatedly at a squad of federals cooped in an adobe house

The version of the affair given at the Madero headquarters tonight is that the federals began the engagement. At any rate the federals soon left their adobe stronghold and fled, pursued by the insurrectos. At the head of the insurrecto band was a Canadian, W. J. McKenzie, whose pink shirt was plainly visible as he pressed close to Juarez. At his first few shots, two federals toppled over. Soon the federals abandoned their trenches and the rebels fired intermittently for a few hours without advanc-

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8 .- (Special.) -When the oldest of nine children in ne family is less than nine years old. that family has a record which Colonel Roosevelt can place at the top of the list of approval in his preachments against race suicide. And San Franisco has that family.

On Saturday morning, May 6, Mrs. H. C. Keyser, of 1462 Twenty-first street south, became the mother of twins-a boy and a girl. They made up a family of nine children that have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Keyser in eight years, seven months and seven days. This is the second set of twins and both are doing very well, to the astonishment of some of the doctors of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, who have been interested in the case. The survival of one set of twins is somewhat unusual, but for a second set to live is a record so extraordinary that it will find place in medical an-

Attorney Hughes, of Seattle, Reviews Efforts of Entrymen to Obtain Rights to Property and Which Have Been Withheld.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washngton, May 8 .- Cunningham coal entrymen of Alaska, through E. C. Hughes, of Seattle, their attorney, today made a final appeal for the issuance of their long-deferred patents by the General Land Office. Argument was made before Land Commissioner Dennett and his law officers, Secretary of the Interior Fisher sitting with them and participating in the hearing.

In his argument, which was exhaus tive and convincing, Mr. Hughes re-viewed the law applicable to the case, tracing its history and pointing out its application. He then at length re-viewed the evidence in the case, showing the utter lack of anything, he contended, which would justify the department in ruling adversely to the entry-

Mr. Hughes began his argument at 10 o'clock this morning and was obliged to conclude at 4:30 this afternoon, with a noon recess of an hour and a half. John Gray, of Wallace, Idaho, associate counsel, will be granted an hour and a half tomorrow to make the closing argument of the facts and evidence.

Mr. Hughes, in opening his argunent this morning, showed that at the time Cunningham first learned of coal deposits in Alaska and first undertook to interest others in it, the general oal land law of 1878 had been extended to Alaska, but was ineffective, as it permitted entries only on surveyed public lands. The Government had failed to make surveys in Alaska, hence no entries could be made in Alaska

INDIAN BELLE IS HONORED

New Boat to Be Named After Begutiful Yakima Girl.

Wah-kee-nah, an Indian belle of the Yakima tribe, who is reputed even among whites to have possessed unusual beauty and besides established a reputation for hunting that would abash her later-day sisters of the Caucasian race, is to be remembered for a number of years, at least by steamboatmen interested in the Clatskanie Transportation Company, who have adopted a suggestion of George H. Himes, of the Oregon Historical Society, and decided to so name a twin-screw gasoline barge being built for the lower river trade.

However, difficulty met with in the impliation of way bills; in filing claims and other clerical work, which might result in the cognomen of the illustrious Indian maid being mispelled, it has been concurred in that name shall be painted on the vesel in the phonetic ystem of the waterfront, "Wakena." Wah-kee-nah is said to have lived at Cathlamet 50 years ago and among other deeds of a valorous character credited to her was the saving of a white hunter's life in the face of great danger. The vessel is about ready to launch at the yards of the Portland Shipbuilding Company.

HILL WILL EXTEND LINES SOUTHWARD

INVASION OF CALIFORNIA PRE-DICTED BY STRAHORN.

Harriman Official Says Double Track Will Extend to Los Augeles, Thence to Denver.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 8 .- (Spe cial.)-James J. Hill, the rallway magnate, who has been carrying on a nation-wide war with the Harriman interests, is about to shift the seat of that war to California by entering this state from the northwest, where he is strongly intrenched, according to the statement today of Robert E. Strahorn, vice-president and general manager of the O.-W. R. & N. Company, Strahorn is the man who, in the employ of Harriman, built the mysterious 'romance" railroad in the Northwest, which after six years of construction work and completion of about 300 miles of track, was discovered to be a Harriman interest invading the Hill stronghold in the Northwest.

Strahorn says that the Hill interests will not invade California from Denver, one of the Western terminals of the system, but that a great double-track line will be laid from Seattle south through the vast lumber areas of Northern California down to San Francisco and eventually on to Los Angeles

This part of the construction will ome first, says Strahorn, and after that will follow the building of a connecting link in the chain of Hill roads which will give Los Angeles another through line to the East by connection with the Burlington at Denver.

Strahorn refused to say that he has information to the effect that Hill is contemplating the construction of this road from the northwest into Califor-nia and on down to the Mexican fronwork which may be looked for in a short time.

SEATTLE TRADE WARNED

Pioneer Mfner Declares Far North Investors Are Downtrodden Long Enough - Fighters Upheld. $100,000 Already Raised.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 8 .- (Special) Alaskans in Seattle are considering seriously a plan to raise $1,000,000 in cash to be used in directing a movement for their country's freedom. The plan as outlined is to back the 5000 volunteers already assembled in Alaska in their efforts to mine the coal fields of Katalla and Matanuska in de fiance of the United States Government. Details are being considered and it is probable that a general meeting of those interested will be held within the next 24 hours. The abrogation of the laws of the United States, the violation of every clause of the Declaration of Indepenience and the setting aside of many of the fundamental principles of the Constitution, Alaskans declare, can be borne no longer. Clearly, they contend, the present Administration and the one that precided it have forced them to desperate measures.

Nation's Delay Blamed. "The unfortunate part of the whole proceeding," said Falcon Joslin, a pioneer miner and investor of the North, is that the very people who are most vitally affected by the long-continued delay on the part of the Government of the United States, the rightful owners of this Northern coal, have been buffaloed by the agents of the Gov-They have cases pending ernment. before the Land Department and they are afraid of jeopardizing their inter-For years and years, it seems so long that 'the memory of man run-neth not to the contrary,' the people of the United States to enforce its own laws, its law Constitution and the precepts of the Declaration of Independence, upon which the Constitution was founded.
