Accused Heretic Takes Floor in Effort to Justify His Utterances.

PREACHER HOTLY GRILLED

Two of Most Sensational Counts Against Presbyterian Clergyman Are Withdrawn and Defense Also Plays Trump Hand.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 23.—(Special.)—Culminating in the adoption of a resolution declaring that the "church should not wash its dirty linen before the eyes of the public," the trial for heresy of Dr. William D. Grant, of Northumberland, Pa., rested late today after a remarkable summing up on both sides and the judicial committee of the General Presbyterian Assembly is expected to report on the case tomorrow.

Judge H. M. Hinckley, senior counsel for the prosecution, voiced an unopposed indictment of Dr. Grant. "This man made the statement," declared Mr. Hinckley, "that God had many sons, but that Jesus was the most conspicuous and therefore the son. When he declared that the Hebrews played games and danced with Christ and Lazarus, he was speaking of a worldly man and not of a scholar. Important Counts Retracted. "The act of a Presbyterian minister calling upon a Unitarian preacher to speak at a Christmas celebration is like calling upon Jeff Davis to eulogize Lincoln," pursued Mr. Hinckley, adding: "He (Dr. Grant) declares God would not sacrifice his son any more than an earthly father would. The retraction by the prosecution early in the day of two of its most sensational counts—disbelief in the deity and disbelief in the resurrection of Christ—because no tangible evidence to prove them had been discovered, turned the scales in favor of Dr. Grant, his supporters asserted. Charge Traced to One Man. The defense, too, played a trump card in declaring that the inception of the scandal had been traced to one man. The name mentioned was that of C. G. Van Allen, senior elder of Dr. Grant's church and superintendent of the Sunday school. Dr. Grant said that Van Allen's activities had driven his predecessor from the pastorate of the church. Surprise was occasioned when Dr. Grant took the floor in his own defense and attempted to justify his broad conception of God's nature. Dr. Grant referred to those prosecuting him as men "hot on the hunt for heresy."

Grant Makes Denial.

Dr. Grant denied that he is unworthy in his views and attempted to justify his broad conception of God, Christ and the miracles by quoting from sermons preached by Rev. Charles Litzsch, of Wash., Ind., moderator at last year's assembly, and from sermons from Dr. Jewett, the minister who was brought from England to fill the pulpit of the First Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York. According to Dr. Grant, himself, these sermons were during the present assembly referred to the broader conception of theology now prevalent, which was giving the people a better and clearer understanding of the deity. Dr. Grant's answer to the appeal would state, without any reservation, that his purpose and method has ever been, as it is now, to confirm men in the truth as it is in Jesus, and as presented in the doctrinal standards of the Presbyterian Church. All his life he has been a Presbyterian, and his ancestors for generations back in Scotland, have also held to this faith. It would be a great grief, therefore, to him, if through any misunderstanding of his position he should be defamed from continuing in a ministry that has the greatest joy for him, and to which more than to anything else, he gives his mental and spiritual development. "No one could be more deeply respectful than the appellee in anything said or written, could give offense either to his fellow ministers of the church or to members of his congregation. The church is certainly broad enough to encompass his position on matters not essential to salvation. The Rev. Dr. Little himself said as much as this."

Laurier's Words Stir

L. Griffiths, responded. He said it was a matter of gratification to the American people when President Taft struck the highest moral note of his generation, and he recalled with what sense of exaltation they received Sir Edward Grey's reply. "The imagination is profoundly stirred as we try to anticipate the beneficent results which would follow if England and America enter into a covenant of peace, which would govern the mutual relations of more than 500,000,000 people." He continued: "In the long interval since the clash of arms was heard on the islands, England has had the opportunity to develop her conception of law, order and power. She has been able to impress her lofty ideals of government on a larger aggregate of people than any one empire in the history of the world."

NEW YORK, May 23.—Henry J. and Benjamin J. Duveen, the international art dealers, appeared today in the United States District Court and pleaded guilty to an indictment charging them with undervaluation of imports. The District Attorney asked for a jail term, but the court postponed sentence until tomorrow. The plea of guilty was withdrawn until that time, and bail was continued in the amount now standing. Joseph J. and Louis J. Duveen, brothers and also members of the firm, pleaded guilty to similar indictments last March and were fined $10,000. The firm has already made a cash settlement of $1,200,000 with the Government, but at that time, the District Attorney said the possibility of criminal proceedings still impended.

Portuguese Republic Takes Vigorous Steps Against Revolt.

LISBON, May 23.—According to an official statement issued today, a number of persons in various walks of life have been arrested in the Northern parts of Portugal, charged with circulating alarmist reports. The prisoners were sent on board the Portuguese cruiser Adamastor, lying off Oporto. Marines from the cruiser have been landed to help the police guard the banks in the province of Entre Minho e Douro, bordering on the Spanish frontier. The bluejackets of the Adamastor, which were landed at Oporto, later proceeded to Caminha, on the river Minho, to prevent the monarchist conspirators at Tuy, a Spanish frontier town, from crossing the river into Portugal.

Colonel McGunnagle will have the First Infantry Band of more than 30 pieces give three military concerts a week, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, from 2 to 3 o'clock in the afternoon. It is expected that many people from Portland will attend these concerts, as the First Infantry band is the best one in the Department of the Columbia, having won the medal at the military tournament at Tacoma last July. The First Infantry ball team will meet the Springfield Blues on the post diamond Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The soldiers have suffered but one defeat this season. Fifteen recruits from Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, Mr. arrived today for assignment here. Gatewood Residence Robbed. R. M. Gatewood, of 1821 East Nineteenth street, reported to the police last night that between 7:45 and 8:15 someone entered his residence and stole $35 which Mrs. Gatewood had hidden under books in one corner of a room. The family left the house at 1:45, leaving the key under a mat. When they returned the key was in the door. This made them suspicious and the first look under the books for the $35 revealed the loss.

HORSEMAN IN JAIL

Prominent Pittsburger Held Here as Embezzler.

HE DENIES WRONG-DOING

Local Detectives Take Well-Known Dealer Into Custody on Telegraphic Warrant Charging Him with Crime of Embezzlement.

Harry Mullen, member of a prominent family in the East and one of the best known horse dealers in the United States, was arrested yesterday afternoon at Seventh and Yamhill streets by Detectives Hellyer and Maloney on a telegraphic warrant from Pittsburg, Pa., where he is wanted on a charge of embezzlement. Mullen made no protest over the arrest other than to assert that he was innocent of wrong doing. At the police station last night Mullen declared there was no legitimate charge against him and said he would fight extradition or any phase of the charge placed against him by Charles McGonigle, of the Riverside Horse & Mule Company, of which McGonigle is a member and with whom Mullen said he had dealings. It is said that Mullen disappeared from Pittsburg about two years ago and no one there knew where he went. "I have not been hiding," said Mullen last night. "I have lived in Portland with my family nearly two years, except such times as we took trips to San Francisco. I have been in correspondence with Charles McGonigle and only the other day wrote a letter to a friend of his. They all knew in Pittsburg where to find me. "I had dealings with McGonigle and he was my partner in business. A part of the time and was also associated with the Riverside Horse & Mule Company. I do not know why I was arrested, but there is nothing to the case and as soon as I am in a position to appear in court I shall prove it." Mullen's wife was heart-broken over the arrest. When she came to see him last night she wept bitterly, but Mullen assured her there was nothing to the case and that he would soon be free. PITTSBURG IS INTERESTED Man Under Arrest in Portland Is Prominent in Pennsylvania City. PITTSBURG, Pa., May 23.—(Special.)—News of the arrest in Portland of Harry Mullen, the former Pittsburger, on a charge of embezzlement, caused a sensation in this city tonight. Mullen was one of the best-known business men of Pittsburg and comes of an excellent family. Some time ago Mullen mysteriously disappeared from Pittsburg. His family seemed much worried and the aid of the police was asked in the search for him. The charge of embezzlement made against him by Charles McGonigle, also a prominent Pittsburger, was kept very quiet, however. The police had been quietly searching for him all over the country and he led them a merry chase. In the meantime it became rumored that his disappearance from this city was mysterious and many advanced the theory that he had met with foul play.

HOUSE LOSS UNEXPLAINED

James Graham Wakes in Morn to Find Structure Carried Away.

James Graham, of 230 First street, complained to the police department recently that someone had stolen the house he had erected on a lot on East Twelfth street and carried along the fence. Officers were sent to investigate and a series of reports on file show that the neighborhood is glad the house and fence were surreptitiously removed. Persons living in the vicinity were reluctant to tell the officers what became of the house and fence, but were unanimous in declaring a delight over the removal of the house. They told the officers that the building was a rendezvous for boys and men and was obnoxious in the extreme. They were loath to tell who removed the house, board by board, or who took away the fence, piece by piece, and a number of the residents said: "The police seem to want a lot of information."
