NEWARK, May 14.—I am here by order of the gentleman named above, to assert that I have arrived from the East to be present at the session of the Honorable Senate in its proper place and for proper purposes.

I am, therefore, here to represent the people of New Jersey and to perform the duties of my office as Senator from that State.

I have been instructed to speak on the subject of the so-called reciprocity measure.

It is my duty to point out the vestiges of the leases of private property which have been granted by the Government, and to show that they are not in the best interests of the country.
