

DEATH AND RIOTS STR MEXICO CITY

Police and Soldiers Battle With Mob--7 to 18 Killed, Is Latest Estimate.

with visitors, mostly personal friends, who had called to pay their respects and to show their loyalty in the hour of the decline of his power. There were not chairs enough in the palace for them, and they stood on the stairways, in the parlors and lined the corridors.

Ambassador Wilson Cheered.

Almost at the beginning of the demonstration the American Ambassador, Henry Lane Wilson, entered the palace to pay his respects to the President. He chatted for some time with Madame Diaz, the latter expressing her regrets that the President was too sick to receive visitors.

The call lasted 20 minutes. When the Ambassador emerged he found troops lined up in front of the palace and mounted police at both ends of the block. The troops which did the shooting reinforced the police later.

The shouts of the mob crying "Viva Madero" and "death to Diaz" could hardly be heard by the American Ambassador, although they did not penetrate so far as the president's chamber, save when some careless servant allowed the door to remain open for a moment.

The Ambassador's motor car moved with difficulty. During its progress at different times other hands were thrust inside and the diplomat was saluted with "Viva el Embajador" (Live the Ambassador).

When the crowd appeared, the guards were placed four deep. Pebble stones were made by the shouting mobbers, who up to this time were in the best of humor, to their steps toward the presidential residence, but evidently they thought better of it and contented themselves by waving their banners in the direction, shouting, "Revolucion, revolucion" (Revolution, revolution), and the usual plaudits for Madero.

While this contingent was making its way about town, several other similar aggregations sprang up and started independent tours. By nightfall—the original demonstration started soon after 5 o'clock—there were at least four separate bands in action.

Woman Leads Procession.

Leaving the vicinity of the president's residence, the original crowd marched through the center of the city and headed back to the Chamber of Deputies. It was a heterogeneous crowd. Behind the front ranks the girls in red and white street-wear carrying a half dozen "plumbers"—bamboo poles with tufts of feathers at the end for dusting ceilings. To the end she had fixed a lithograph of Madero.

Coaches loaded until the springs bent double, with here and there a woman crowded in among men and boys, followed Indians with blankets over their shoulders tramped and shouted side by side with smartly dressed young men. One of the latter, observing an American newspaperman in the crowd, shouted to him above the din:

Madero Is Popular Idol.

"Now, whom do you think the people want for president?"

"There would seem to be no question," was the reply.

"Then tell it to your country. Tell your people what you are seeing today. The people want Madero."

From the windows along the way handclapping and cheers answered the shouts from the streets. Here and there a picture of the people's new idol was waved, and the crowds went wild.

Squads of mounted police trailed the various detachments, but offered no opposition to their progress.

Madero's Pleading Ignored.

Forecasting the tragic possibilities in the demonstration Alfred Robles Dominguez, Madero's representative, at the beginning of the disorders secured the publication of a plea for moderation. In an extra of El Heraldo, in the name of Madero he urged the people to resort to no violence, assuring them that he had personal knowledge that the resignation of Diaz and Corral would be offered tomorrow. That they were not offered today is officially announced as due to a technical delay in getting that of Corral in proper legal form.

Copies of this extra were distributed to the mob free of cost, but the story which appeared to interest them more than the statement of Dominguez was that of the fall of Diaz and Corral to resign. They shouted their approval of El Heraldo, which is an American-owned paper, but continued their marching and shouting.

Demonstrations were reported today at Zacatecas, Guadalupe and Tehuantepec. The Governor of Jalisco was driven from Guadalupe and at Zacatecas four persons are said to have been killed.

In this city business was suspended at 8 o'clock. By 11 o'clock tonight, the streets were a scene of confusion, and several of which had been stoned, ceased running. Not a taxicab or coach was to be seen.

REBEL CHIEFS WITH MADERO

They Agree to Stop Fighting—Joint War on Bandits Delayed.

JUAREZ, Mex., May 24.—Most significant of the hundreds of telegrams that were received today by Francisco I. Madero, Jr., the rebel leader, from all parts of Mexico, congratulating him on the triumph of the revolutionary movement was a message from Ambrosio Figueroa, leader of the rebels in the immediate vicinity of the capital. The telegram is regarded here as convincing proof that Madero now controls all the rebels in Mexico and that they will abide by the peace agreement he has made. It says:

"I congratulate you on the triumph of the cause. I am participating in triumphant revolution in this state and have named as provisional governor Francisco Figueroa. The army of the liberator of the South awaits your orders."

Other messages of felicitation poured in at the Madero headquarters from military chiefs and Senator Madero, in explaining the nature of them said that not one showed a discordant note. "If there still is military activity anywhere," he declared, "it is because notice of the peace agreement has not reached everywhere yet. All those chiefs with whom we had direct communication have ceased hostilities."

"I am giving various instructions to insurgent chiefs to prosecute bandits as well as other chiefs who don't respect the agreement for the cessation of hostilities."

The revolutionary leaders are inclined to believe that falling into line with the federal government until De La Barra is in power and Madero is in Mexico City with him.

Upon learning that General Samuel Garcia Cuellar, the federal general, who fought against Madero at Casas Grandes, intended to retire, Madero sent a telegram to him asking him to remain in the service.

Both revolutionary and federal leaders each received $5 in Mexican money today from the provisional government.

MADERO FRIEND OF AMERICA

Future President Says Americans Are Mexico's Best Friends.

JUAREZ, May 24.—If F. I. Madero, Jr., is president of Mexico, the United States will have a good friend at the head of its neighboring republic. Madero told a delegation of city officials from El Paso, headed by Mayor Kelly, who called on the provisional president here today, that if he ever took any part in the government of Mexico he would make every effort to suppress anti-American sentiment, spreading the gospel throughout the country that the United States is and will be Mexico's best international friend.

Senor Madero said he was satisfied that the United States cherished no desire for territorial aggrandizement. He cited the instance of Cuba. It was Madero's first speech in English since he has been here. Thanking his American friends for their sympathy, he said that the strengthening of the relations between the United States and Mexico, Mexicans will forget any anti-American feeling they may have had, for we who know will show them that the United States is, indeed, a true friend.

AMERICANS TO BE LIBERATED

Prisoners at Chihuahua Soon Free, After Many Hardships.

CHIHUAHUA, May 24.—Preparations are being made to release the 14 American prisoners held in the penitentiary here as prisoners of war as soon as wire communication with Mexico City is resumed.

The Americans were captured in the battle of Casas Grandes on March 5 and taken on a memorable march, under guard of General Diaz and federal troops, to the penitentiary here. On the way the Mexicans, feeling they were being treated as prisoners, attacked the federalists in an attempt to release the prisoners, with the result that 40 insurgents were killed.

Since their arrival at the penitentiary, where they were to have been tried on charges of sedition against the Mexican government, the Americans have been visited regularly by United States Consul Marion Letcher, who has provided them with food and clothing.

The prisoners include two from New York City, two from Oklahoma, three from California and one each from Texas, Arizona, Colorado, Missouri, Minnesota, Indiana and Pennsylvania.

Word of the signing of a peace agreement reached this city just in time to prevent an attack. Five thousand insurgents are within a day's march of the city. Food supplies have almost been exhausted and although it may be a week or 10 days before relief reach here, the people are rejoicing over the termination of the war.

BOTH PRESIDENTS RESIGN

Resignations of Diaz and Madero Ready for Publication.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 24.—A local physician, a personal friend of Francisco I. Madero, Jr., residing here, who yesterday was Madero's guest at dinner in Juarez, said today that he was told by Madero that both Madero and Diaz had sent in their resignations at 10:30 o'clock yesterday, and that the resignations were being held up in Mexico City for political purposes. The resignations were sent in at the same time by agreement, and Madero expects they will be made public tomorrow.

He said that Madero's resignation was in the hands of Judge Carbajal for transmission to Mexico City and that Diaz' resignation was in the hands of Senor De la Barra.

REVOLT AGAINST MADERO ON

Lower California Rebels Put Him and Diaz in Same Class.

LOS ANGELES, May 24.—Not until the system under which the masses of Mexicans are exploited for the benefit of a few has been destroyed will we lay down our arms," was the statement made tonight by A. L. Figueroa, leader of the liberal junta responsible for the insurgent movement in Lower California.

Figueroa's statement was called forth in answer to an inquiry as to whether the local junta would abide by the peace pact. He said that any mission of envoys from Madero would be entirely useless as the speaker and his followers recognized no distinction between Diaz and Madero.

STATE CAPITALS HAVE RIOTS

Governor of Jalisco Expelled—Four Killed at Zacatecas.

MEXICO CITY, May 24.—Telegraphic reports were received tonight stating that demonstrations are in progress at Tehuantepec, Guadalupe and Zacatecas. The federal government of Jalisco, Manuel Cuesta Guillard, was driven out. At Zacatecas the troops fired on the mob, killing four. Further details are lacking.

Robbers Get $4 in Hold-Up.

Peter Dryman, 505 East Pine street, reported to the police that two men held him up at 11:30 last night and robbed him of $4. The robbery occurred at East Ninth and East Pine streets. One of the robbers carried a revolver, Dryman said.

PEACE CHIPPING ON

Carnegie Endowment Prepares Plan of Organization.

THREE DIVISIONS FORMED

Opening of Mohonk Lake Conference Marked by Announcement—One Division to Teach Justice, Another Study War's Effect.

MORONK LAKE, N. Y., May 24.—The plan of organization of the Carnegie endowment for international peace was announced today by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia University. He said in part:

"It has been determined by the trustees of the Carnegie Endowment to organize the undertaking in three parts or divisions—a division of international law; a division of economics and history; and a division of intercourse and education."

"The division of international law will be under the direction of Professor James Brown Scott. This division will aim constantly to inculcate the belief that intercourse between nations should be based on a correct and definite idea of international justice. The endowment will associate with Dr. Scott a consulting board composed of the most distinguished international lawyers in the world."

"The second division will be the division of economics and history and will be under the direction of Professor John Bates Clark, of Columbia University. This division will aim at the education of public opinion and at the formulation of conclusions that may serve for the guidance of governmental policy."

"It will be the business of this division to study the economic cause and effects of war; the effect on the public opinion of nations and on international good will of retaliatory, discriminatory and preferential tariffs; the economic aspects of the present huge expenditures for military purposes, and the relation of international well-being and the world-wide programs for social improvement and reform which is held in waiting through lack of means for its execution."

CAR DEMOLISHES AUTO YOUNG CHAUFFEUR LOSES CONTROL ON CURVE. Speed of 35 Miles an Hour on Fashionable Street Admitted—Injuries of Three Serious.

SPOKANE, Wash., May 24.—(Special.)—After losing control of the big automobile which he was driving down Pacific avenue, a fashionable residence street, at a furious pace tonight, "Bob" Bower averted to miss a streetcar going west, only to crash broadside into a streetcar going south, demolishing the council with the following members: Nicholas Murray Butler, Senator Theodore Burton, Dr. Samuel T. Dutton, Hamilton Holt, Theodore Marburg, W. E. D. Warfield, Miss James Addams and Mrs. Fanny Fern Andrews.

William J. Bryan led the general discussion. He contended that treaty meant peace and war, because it provided that all disputes, without exception, were to be submitted to arbitration. He contended that Japan would be included in the list of nations with which treaties were to be made. He attacked the sensational press, but he believed that the chief source of trouble was the armament industry.

Portland System Scored Rev. J. D. Corby Favors Municipal Collection of Garbage.

Portland has the most primitive method of collecting garbage of any city that I have ever been in," said Rev. J. D. Corby, in his talk last night before the Rose City Park League, on the proposed bond issue of $75,000 to establish a municipal collection of garbage. Mr. Corby argued in favor of the municipal collection, and contended that it will be cheaper and more sanitary. At the close of his address the league unanimously endorsed the measure.

The league condemned the no-seat-no-ride amendment to be voted on at the June election. C. B. Merrick spoke against the measure and pointed out that it would be fraudulent to award hardship for the entire city, and especially the East Side.

State Senator Keliher and Ben Riehl addressed the league in behalf of the city public service commission as prepared by the local committee. They received the thanks of the league and as the club has previously endorsed the measure no further action was taken.

Club Will Discuss Amendments. At the meeting of the South Portland Boosters' Club tonight at St. Laurence BENEFACTOR IS ROBBED R. V. Coventry Loses $12 When He Shelters Stranger.

Gross ingratitude and the theft of $12, which he had saved to pay next month's rent, was the compensation of R. V. Coventry, living at 782 Washington street, for being charitable to a stranger who knocked on his door and asked for shelter on a dark stormy night last week.

"I took him in," said Coventry to the detective last night, "gave him a hot drink and something to eat. In the morning I allowed him to sleep while I got my breakfast, and went to work. However, I took the precaution to remove $12 I had saved for next month's rent from my pocket and hid it. When I came home in the evening the man was gone and so was my next month's rent."

CHAUFFEUR SAVES VICTIM Driver Turns Man and Cash Over to Police and Companions Flee.

The fact that L. E. Banks, who was arrested last night for being drunk, had $10 charged to his account at the police station is due to Leland Townsend, a chauffeur for the Oregon Taxicab Company, who not only took care of the police, prevented two other men from getting it by bringing the entire party to the police station doors and reporting the matter.

Townsend said the two men with Banks wanted to take him to a hotel and put him to bed. As circumstances did not look good to Townsend he persuaded Banks to give him his money and when the two men became insistent on going to a hotel, the chauffeur drove the party to the police station. The two men immediately disappeared and detectives Craddock and Mallett are now looking for them.

Mr. Sloucm has also enjoyed marine experience as an engineer, and while he will be in charge of the plant, it is expected there will be an increased force over that maintained under Captain Blain's management.
