5000 WILL MARCH

East Side Festival Parade of Children Arranged.

ROSEBUDS OUT IN FORCE

East Side Business Men's Committee Completes Final Details—Girls' Band of Oak Grove Will Head Column.

There will be more than 5000 children from the public schools and parades in the parade of human rosebuds on Grand avenue Friday night of Rose Festival week. Robert Krohn, who has full charge of the children's parade, met the committee from the East Side Business Men's Club yesterday afternoon and completed the general arrangements. It was decided that the parade shall start from Holladay avenue promptly at 4 P. M. and move south to East Clay, where the children will be dismissed. Holladay avenue between Grand avenue and East Twelfth street will be vacated for the use of the children while the divisions are being formed.
Mr. Krohn said that the children would be formed in groups, those coming from four and five buildings which are near together being formed in a particular division, under a leader. From south of Hawthorne it is estimated that 2000 children will come. Led by Sellwood, Clinton Kelly and Arleta may turn out 200 each. Mr. Krohn reported that many special features not seen in former parades would be used, and would be spectacular and beautiful and intensify the interest. There will be four bands, besides the Girls' Band of Oak Grove, made up of girls between 8 and 14 years old, which will march near the head of the column. Mr. Krohn is leading a special company of 150 to lead the parades. There will be an escort of mounted police and a policeman on every block to keep the crowd back while the special drills are being given. Arrangements will be made by Secretary Walter with the street railway company to handle the school children coming in from the suburbs. The general committee will give several prizes in the form of silver cups.
Reports from the fraternal orders are all due today at the office of Assistant Secretary Hall.

The Rose City Park women will make a special rose exhibit during the Festival with the Portland Rose Association. They will make a special effort in this display and desire to have the co-operation of all the residents of the district in the collection of the finest roses grown.

MISS FORREST AGAIN GAINS

Contestant for Queen in Mount Scott Returns to First Place.
Miss Gladys Forrest proved the sensation in the Mount Scott Rose Festival queen contest yesterday. She gained 540 votes and took first position. Although starting late in the contest, she has gained steadily each day and this is the second time she has occupied the first place. Miss White showed a gain of 255 when the vote was counted.
Lucille Berry was third in the result of yesterday's vote. Her gain was 150. Much interest is being taken in the contest and a heavy vote for several of the candidates is expected. All have strong supporters and many of their friends are holding their votes back for the last week.
The vote at 6 o'clock last night was: Gladys Forrest, 1850; Nellie White, 1180; Lucille Berry, 800; Corinne Hane, 455; Josephine Langguth, 250; Nellie Starr, 210; Gertrude Nelson, 20; Maud Alvord, 15; Laverne Schang, 10; Fay Sechrist, 5; Erma James, 30; Edna Masters, 20; Mattie Brad, 25; Hilda Borman, 25; Lucy Lloyd, 25; Margie Dustin, 25.

WOMEN URGE CLEAN CITY

Volunteer Inspectors in Autos Detect Eyesores in City.
Women in automobiles have been making tours of the city in the interest of a Spring "housecleaning" in advance of the Rose Festival. Out-of-the-way corners and public thoroughfares are being inspected. No more tin-can alleys, offensive basements or unsightly vacant lots are to be tolerated.
Mrs. A. C. Newill, president of the Women's Club, is at the head of the movement for a "spotless Portland." The street cleaning department, the Rose Festival management, high officials in the city government and lot owners are supporting the women in their campaign.

BATTLE OF ROSES SUGGESTED

Women Offer Suggestions as Alternative for Discarded Masks.

PRIZES FOR ROSES ADDED

Trophies Offered by Enthusiasts Add to Interest.
In addition to the large number of prizes already offered for competition under the regular classification list of the Portland Rose Society, the following have been added by generous enthusiasts, and should add greatly to the interest already aroused:
Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett offers a handsome trophy for best 24 perfect roses, any named variety or varieties, shown in basket.
Mrs. Elliott Corbett offers beautiful trophy for five vases of perfect roses, six blooms in each, any named varieties.
Williams Elson presents a fine trophy for three perfect blooms of Mildred Grant.
The Lumbermen's Bank offers a fine cup for best rose, any named variety, from a garden having not more than 20 rose bushes. This is given to induce people having a limited number of roses, and who do not wish to enter for the general competition, to exhibit.
The Rose Society will welcome any further offerings from citizens who would like to give trophies for special exhibits.
The Secretary, R. B. Lamson, will, on application, furnish printed cards of registration size for labeling roses for exhibition to all who desire them.
The cups already offered are now on exhibition in the windows of Portland's leading jewelers.

PIER SHAFTS COMPLETED

Second Caisson for Broadway Bridge Floated Into Place.

Finishing touches were added yesterday to the shafts on the first pier of the Broadway bridge and in the afternoon men employed by the Union Bridge & Construction Company began tearing away the forms. The contractors will also erect steel cylinders on the shafts, which will be filled with concrete. A coping of the same material will be added and the top will be 30 feet above low water.
The second caisson was floated into position on the East Side yesterday and concreting was begun, but it will not reach bottom until today or tomorrow. When sand hogs begin work in the second caisson the contractors will have a force of about 300 men employed.
