LIFELONG-DEMOCRAT INDORSSES
SIMON

R. M. Thompson, who has never voted in city, state and National elections, called at Mayor's headquarters yesterday and wrote the following indorsement of Mayor Simon's candidatecy:

"In behalf of the citizens of the City of Portland, involving the whole State of Oregon, I most emphatically declare that the best interests of the City of Portland demand the election of Joseph Simon."

Something of the significance of the demonstration that attends the flashing of A. G. Roushligh's likeness in some of the downtown moving-picture shows is explained by the fact that the anti-Simon forces have in attendance at the performances a number of bored roustabouts and hoodlums.
These subsidized applauders are faithful to their employment and probably find greater favor with their employers by supporting the picture of Mayor Simon is shown.

Reports reached the citizens' committee last week that an unusually enthusiastic demonstration followed the appearance of Roushligh's picture on the screens in several nickelodeons.
This committee made a quiet investigation and ascertained that the applause was largely inspired and originated from men who made a business of attending the different performances.
That this sort of thing should be tolerated in these amusement-houses does not excite much curiosity with those who chance to know that among the most active opponents of Mayor Simon in this campaign are the owners of a number of moving-picture shows.
The opposition to Mayor Simon from this quarter is due entirely to the position the Mayor assumed some time ago when he sought to force the owners of these places to comply with the requirements of the building code as to sufficient and adequate exits for the protection of human life.

Exit Change Vetoed.

The recent building code of the city was drafted by a special commission, consisting of architects, builders and representatives of the Council, and was enacted as an ordinance by the Council.
That section of the code relating to nickelodeons and moving picture shows provided that all such places should have sufficient and adequate means of exit and egress to the rear of the structure for every place of 250 seating capacity or less. Each of these exits was to be at least six feet in width, one of which was to be a rear exit, and the other at least half-way down the side of the building fronting the street and to open directly into the street.

Human Life Before Expense.

"The language of the ordinance under consideration is somewhat obscure, but it seems to me it is intended thereby to eliminate the period of 12 months the requirement of a rear or side exit. The reason assigned for this by its advocates is that many of the moving-picture theaters are situated in buildings where no rear exit can be provided, and it is contended that large sums of money have been invested in these enterprises, and that if the provision of the building code referred to should be enforced rigidly, great financial loss would result to these concerns. The contention is moving-picture theaters that cannot be made to comply with the requirements of the building code.

Hostility Not Earned.

The controversy between the Mayor and the Council and the owners of the moving-picture theaters was compromised by the enactment by the Council last March of an amendment to the building code. This amendment provided that any moving-picture theater at that date in operation and licensed, and which could not comply with the provisions of the building code as to exits, either in the rear or on the side, should be allowed to continue in busi-

"I consider it my duty to co-operate with you in the re-election of our distinguished citizen, Mayor Simon, to the best of my ability."
"I am a comparative stranger in Portland, but, in the main, the situation here is as well as my vote, will be for Joseph Simon. I believe in a clean and progressive city government. Am a rock-ribbed Republican of the old school."
"Having lived in Portland during Mayor Simon's term of office, I know that it would be to the best interest of the city and its people to retain him as Mayor. Portland today is the only Pacific Coast city free from the evil influence of Schmitz, Gill or McCarthy.
I desire to see it remain such. I was glad to sign his nominating petition and will do all in my power to bring about his election."

CARDS ARE DESTROYED

SIMON LITHOGRAPHS TORN
FROM BILLBOARDS.
Several Hundred Copies Lost, but an Opposite Effect Has Been Accomplished.

Between Saturday afternoon and yesterday morning, miscreants, either inspired or deliberately malicious, tore from billboards and destroyed several hundred of Mayor Simon's lithographs.
The maliciousness of this vandalism is the more apparent from the fact that the cards of Thomas and Roushligh, exhibited on the same billboards, were not disturbed or mutilated.
Members of the citizens' committee attribute this work to Roushligh sympathizers, since it is about on a par with other tactics known by his adversaries to be employed by the opposition in the present contest.
By Simon's friends it is alleged the mutilation of Simon's lithographs has been done for the purpose of confusing the public mind as to the Mayor's situation. The evident purpose is to make it appear that the contest lies between Roushligh and Thomas.
This has not been the result. The real effect has been to incite the supporters of Mayor Simon to increased efforts in his behalf. They have redoubled their effective work of educating the voters and getting out the fullest possible vote until the polls close next Monday at 7 P. M.

AUTO RUINS BICYCLE

Message Nearly Killed by Collision With Rapid Running Machine.

A collision at East Nineteenth street and Hawthorne avenue about 8 o'clock last night between an automobile and a bicycle resulted in the death of the bicyclist. The automobile was driven by H. O. Peck, president of the H. O. Peck Auto-Wheel Company and a bicycle rider by Paul Orlow, a messenger for the Peck delivery company. The messenger and his bicycle nearly resulted in the death of the latter.

OREGON PIONEER DEAD

Henry Fuller, Octogenarian, Passes Away at Nogales, Ariz.

Word was received in Portland yesterday of the death of Henry Fuller, aged 82, an Oregon pioneer of 1845, at Nogales, Ariz. Mr. Fuller came to Oregon with one of the first parties of immigrants, settling in Polk County, where he married Miss Wallissa A. Williams. In 1849 he returned to California during the rush to the gold mines, later returning to Portland, associating himself with Amos King in the drug and grocery business. He was the first to own Portland, situated on the site now owned by the Multnomah Club. In later years Mr. Fuller opened the Full-ton Market on First and Yamhill streets. He was a volunteer in the Cayuse Indian War and he assisted in the burial of Marcus Whitman. In 1878 he moved to Arizona where he engaged in mining. Mr. Fuller is survived by his widow and three children: H. A. Fuller, of Knapah, Wash.; W. E. Fuller, of Arizona; and Joseph Fuller, of Nogales, Ariz., and many relatives in Portland, among them Mrs. Samuel Phelps.

CHINESE LOTTERY RAIDED

Police Arrest Two Suspects and Seize Tickets as Evidence.

Breaking down a door on their way into a concealed inner room Patrolmen Shaffer and Johnson plain clothes officers, last night raided a Chinese lottery establishment at 344 Gilsan street, arresting Me Lee and Charley Law, father and son, alleged proprietors of the place. They were released after furnishing $500 cash bail each.
The room in which the lottery tickets were found is the back of a Chinese grocery store. Customers for the most part negroes and white men, have been gaining access to the place, the police believe, through a tailor shop conducted by a negro, and a robbing shop, which have back doors leading to an alley from which there is an entrance to the room in which the police declared the tickets and were being sold.
While Patrolmen Wiley and Crawford watched in front of the building Shaffer and Johnson dropped through a hotel window into the blind alley and entered the room before the lottery could be destroyed or the lottery tickets several hundred of tickets many of them marked by numerals, were confiscated and will be used as evidence.

SPORTSMAN and TELEPHONE

EVERY TIME a man wants to get away from all connection with the busy world, the telephone is an important factor.
The Local Service is useful in arranging his affairs at home, and the Long Distance Service of the Bell System helps him to decide where to go and what to take.
By means of his Bell Telephone he can find out whether the fish are biting or the birds are flying, and whether guides or horses can be secured.
After he has been out awhile, if he wants to get word from the city, the nearest Bell Telephone is a friend in need.
