Steen "Blows Up" in Morning Game, but Locals Make It Up in Afternoon.

PORTLAND'S HITS COUNT

McCredie's Men Play Superior Ball at Matinee, Getting Five Runs to Visitors' Three-Before Lunchcon Affair 9 to 4.

BY W. J. PETRAIN.

After blowing up like a punctured by balloon before the Oakland invaders in the morning game, resterday and losing that contest by a 4 to 2 score, those Beavers of ours came back in the afternoon engagement and made il an even break with Wolverton by annexing the second holiday game, 5 to 2.

Tom Seaton was delegated to slab in the afternoon engagement and he was pitted against Kilroy, the former St. Faul American Association flinger. It was up to Seaton to redeem his team after the exhibition of how not to pitch put up by Bill Steen in the morning. Sizes did splendidly until the fag end of the A. M. contest, hobling the "Protesters" to two hits and two runs in seven innings, during which the Portland players scored three runs. But in the eighth Steen went up in the air and his exhibition in that session was painful as well as disastrous. om Seaton was delegated to slab

Afternoon Is Better.

Afternoon is Better.

Stung by this defeat and the exhibition they had made of themselves in the morning, the Heavers behaved postry well in the afternoon. They did not play perfect hall by any means, but they played better than the visitors. Seaton was hit often, but not as hard as was Kilroy, and the Beavers made their hits count for five rans, one of which was a home run delivered by Budely Ryan, who was "some" hitting thap during both engagements. However, the state of the plate in the morning and the particular of the plate in the morning and mame right back in the afternoon with two bingies out of three trials.

The Oaks started off with a run in the opening canto, which was a gift variety, as it took a wild pitch and a passed hall after Pfyl had singled to put him over the register.

Fortland got after Kilroy in the second, when a couple of bingies and a souple of errors gave us two runs and the lead. Krueger was safe on an infield tap and traveled all the way to the plate on Bill Rapps corking double to the left field fence. Rapps scored the plats on Hill Rapps' corking double to the left field fence. Rapps scored on Peckinpaugh's hit and an ensuling quot of a throw to the plate by Pearce.

Beavers Get Two More.

Seaton got three bases.

In the next inning Buddy Ryan drove the ball out of the lot for a home run. This was the last score for the Beavers. The Cake bunched three hits in the eighth and scored two runs and after Seaton walked the first man up in the ninth Henderson was substituted and the game was mayed.

The good-sized morning crowd which went out to greet the Beavers and the Protesters was greatly disappointed at the eighth-inning blowup.

This Kilroy person is some fancy at fielding his position, for he gets over the ground quite actively. He pitched a fairly steady game, but his support was wabbly at times, and the Beavers were sore at the way things turned out in the morning.

With "Rabbit" Wares and "Bunny" Pearce in the lineup, the Oaks ought to be some fast combination if nomenclatures are significant. The appellation fits Wares, but Pearce is more of a bear than a bunny. He is also somewhat shy of hair, therefore "bare" is probably more appropriate.

ROADSTERS BREAK EVEN AT TACOMA

TIGERS TAKE FIRST GAME

Sound Fans Think Afternoon Contest Is Safe Until Tourists Spring Surprise-Home Team Does Same Thing in Morning.

PACOMA, Wash., May 10 .- (Special.)-Tacoma and Portland played two games today, both being of that variety which should do much towards enlarging the practice of those physicians who make a specialty of heart trouble. Both were won and lost a number of times and the fans were on the tips of their toes the greater part of the five hours which the two contests required. Tacoma won the morning game in the ninth inning by a score of 7 to 6. The Roadsters took the afternoon pastime in the 13th inning, the final count being 5 to 2.

If the morning game was filled with incidents, the afternoon contest had a super-carge of brand-new thrillers. The Tigers took the lead early and when the Portland hitters came to bat in the eighth the local fans were breathing easy, as they believed that President Shreeder had already locked the game in the bir safe.

Shreeder had already locked the game up in the big safe.

Far was it from so. Four hits in a row put Speas over the plate with Ort following in his wake, tieing the score. Then came four innings of heart-rending struggle. It was a question of which pitcher weakened first and "Doc" Higgins was the one who wobbled. With, one out Speas tripted, while Miller was safe on Rockenfield's error, Speas counting. Ort doubled, scoring Miller and a single off the bat of catcher Harris brought in the third run, while the bleschers and grandstand groaned in agony.

The finish of the morning game was filed with the same sort of excitement, but did not go into extra innings. The Tigers practically threw the gams away in the middle stages of the contest through listiess playing, but they pulled it out of the fire by a sensational butit out of the fire by a sensational bat-ting rally in the last half of the nonth
