Peerless One Uses Strong Language in Speaking at Party Banquet in St. Louis-Makes No Presidential Prediction.

BT. PAUL. Minn., June 1.—William J. Bryan, at the banquet of the Northwest Democrats, did not indicate his preference for a Presidential candidate in 1912, nor was any action taken by the delegates from the Northwestern states, showing their preference.

Mr. Bryan, however, spoke in high terms of Governor Burke, of North Dakota, and ex-Governor Folk, of Minsouri, both of whom were present. He referred to them as "candidates for the Presidency," and said should either be nominated, he would travel about the country and work in their behalf.

Colonel Bryan denounced the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States on the Tobacco and Standard Oil cases, saying that Chief Justice White had been waiting for years to write Party Leaders Criticised.

Mr. Bryan said conditions in the United States are still bad, although not Senator Martin, the minority leader

"Senator Martin, the minority leader, spends his time trying to lead the Democrats into the Republican net.
"If Democrats are going to stand for protection, let them be honest everywhere and let them not be scared by a few men. If they are scared by the blests of a few sheep, what will they do at the roaring of the bulls and lions of Wall street."

Wall street? In speaking of the Presidential possibilities in his address, Mr. Bryan said:
"If the people of the East knew the people of the West as well as the people of the West know the people of the East, it would not be hard to nominate a man like Governor Harmon for the Presidency. He should be nominated. There is no one in whom I would have more confidence. I would travel throughout the land in favor of his candidacy.

Ex-Governor J. L. Folk, of Missouri, speaking on "Progressive Democracy," said in part:

"When a Government, by means of a modopoly tariff, attempts to take from one class and give to another class, a moral question is presented. Wealth created by legislation, must in Wealth created by legislation, must in the nature of things be drawn from the public, and it is unjust for all the peo-ple to be taxed in order that a few may profit. In the morning a parade of floats, camp teams, decorated bloycles and vehicles was a feature. Exercises were held in Schram's grove, where the Woman's Club served dinner. Many novel attractions were arranged by the management for the pleasurs of the immense throng.

The keys of the city were presented, introductory remarks were made by J. W. Simmons, an address was delivered by George W. Hyland, numbers were given by the Willamette Gles Club and special sketches were on the programme.

given by the Willamette Glee Club and special sketches were on the programme. In the afterneon athletic contests including beseball were held under the auspices of the Marion County Athletic Association. There were also competitive drills by Medern Woodmen of America and Royal Neighbors of America degree teams.

In the evening a confetti carnival was interesting. In the lodge halls class adoptions were followed by a banquet. Throughout the city entertainments and band concerts were provided and a grand ball closed the picnic.

FACULTY OF OREGON UNIVERS. ITY REJECTS PETITION.

John Kelly and Carl Grayson Must Stand Punishment for Prank at Co-ed Frolic.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Engene.
Or., June 1.—(Special)—The faculty of the University of Oregon rejected today the petition of the students for the reinstatement of John Kelly and Carl Grayson, who were suspended recently for the remainder of the present semester for having attended in disguise the freely held by the women of the the frolis held by the women of the university the latter part of April.

The frolic was supposed to be a strictly "co-ed affair" and the faculty expressed its disapproval of the intrusion of the two young men by trusion of the two young men by prompt and severs action.

So soon as the decision was made public a petition for their reinstatement was circulated and submitted with the names of nearly all of the men of the varsity.

No action could be taken at that time, because President Campbell was absent and the consideration of the petition was postponed until the regular faculty meeting this afternoon.
