

WARNING TO VOTERS!

Look for the joker in the proposed million dollar bond issue for a municipal paving plant. All indications show clearly that the proposition was hurriedly framed up as a means for one of the large paving companies to sell out its large paving plants, docks, dredges, barges, quarries, etc., to the city, now that most of the paving is completed in Portland. Read the amendment carefully and note the opening purposely provided to consummate such an enterprise.

LINCOLN NOW CHAMPION

Team Leads Interscholastic League With Record of Four Victories and No Defeats—Jefferson Is Second.

Team	W.	L.	P. C.
Lincoln	4	0	1.000
Jefferson	2	1	.667
Washington	1	1	.500
Columbia	1	1	.500
Vancouver	0	2	.000
Portland Academy	0	2	.000

With Johnny Welch in the box, Washington High School yesterday came back in big league style in its game with Jefferson High School, shutting them out 6 to 0. It was Welch's superb pitching that won, Jefferson finding him for only two hits, those by Lind and Colvin. The Washington pitcher fanned seven batters. His support was well high perfect. Jefferson played poorly in the field, giving Anderson, who pitched a pretty game, poor support. Welch won because of his pretty change of pace, a tribute that Anderson lacked. Washington only scored three runs by clean playing, getting the other trio from Jefferson errors.

Yesterday's victory for Washington gave Lincoln the interscholastic championship. Lincoln should play Vancouver, but perhaps will forfeit that game. Even then she will have a percentage of 80, enough to win. Jefferson at present is second, with three wins and two losses. Washington, Columbia and Vancouver are tied for third position, each having won two and lost two. Columbia and Washington have not met. Columbia's team has disbanded and no game will be played. Should Washington be awarded the game, a game with Jefferson for the second place cup will be necessary. Lincoln gains the Honeyman Hardware Company trophy for winning the championship. The players in yesterday's game were:

Washington	Jefferson
Wilson	Colvin
Heintz	Anderson
Smith	Campbell
Whitten	Brady
Grebe	Murphy
Cass	Wright
George	Veget
A. Miller	Lind
Chapin	Hill

KELLAHER IS CALLED

R. W. RAYMOND QUESTIONS HIS POWER STATEMENTS.

Prices Among Lowest in United States, Is Assertion of Member of Commercial Club.

A meeting of the Seventh Ward Improvement League, held Friday night in a hall at Powell and Milwaukee streets, was enticed by a tilt between Senator Kellaher and R. W. Raymond, of the Commercial Club, relative to the price of electric power in Portland. Kellaher declaring that the rates are so high as to drive manufacturing concerns away from the city and Raymond contending that the rates are among the lowest which can be secured in the United States.

"More manufactories are driven away from Portland by the excessively high rates charged for electric power for manufacturing purposes than by any other cause. In other cities coal is used to give power. We have no cheap coal, so we are absolutely dependent on the power companies, and they hold us up and charge more for electric power than almost any other city in the United States," was Senator Kellaher's statement.

"No matter what our feelings are we cannot afford to knock Portland just to further our pet measures," said Raymond. In this case the Senator has his facts twisted. Instead of paying the highest rates for power of any city we have the lowest of any city on the Pacific Coast and lower than all save two in the United States. I challenge the Senator to mention a city in the United States where power can be had in moderate quantities at $20 a horsepower or less."

 August C. Kautz, president of the Union Store Fixture Company, declared that he was a manufacturer and in a position to verify Raymond's statements. He had been a manufacturer in several other cities. The trade journals, Mr. Kautz said, run comparative tables of the cost of power in various cities and uniformly show Portland among the lowest in America.

YARD CHARGES ABSORBED

Harriman System Notifies Shippers of Innovation on O.-W. R. & N.

Following the action of the Hill lines in absorbing the $5 switching charge on carload lots of freight handled between the terminal yards and the lines of the United Railways and Oregon Electric within the city limits of Portland, the Harriman system yesterday notified shippers that this charge also will be absorbed on all traffic moving over the O.-W. R. & N. This reduction will apply on all transcontinental and local competitive carload shipments.

Frank W. Robinson, general freight agent of the O.-W. R. & N. Company, yesterday notified all shippers of the intention to establish this change. The new arrangement will become effective on intra-state traffic on June 15, and on interstate traffic on July 1. These provisions, by which the transcontinental lines will pay to the Oregon Electric and the United Railways the $5 switching charge, will be of valuable service to small shippers using the electric lines in Portland. Those principally interested, however, are the commission men and wholesale dealers on Front street who operate on a narrow margin, and to whom the charge of $5 per carload is a considerable item.

In the information sent to shippers the Harriman lines say the absorption will be made "wherever necessary to do so to equalize delivery on loading on the United Railways and the Oregon Electric Railway Company's tracks in competition with other lines," leaving the conclusion that on shipments handled by the electric lines that could be routed over a Harriman road, the arrangement will not apply.

THE AMBITION OF A CITY

A city is made large or small by the number and size of its manufacturing and commercial establishments, the size of its pay-rolls and its laboring population.

To attract to itself the eyes of the world, literature is mailed, telling of the city's magnificent manufacturing facilities. Bureaus are maintained for the purpose of securing these large concerns.

In many instances, property owners of a city club together and donate large tracts of land to induce manufacturers to locate in their midst. County and city officials confer for the purpose of EXEMPTING certain large employing companies FROM ALL TAXATION, FOR LONG PERIODS OF TIME.

All to satisfy the ambition to become great. And it is laudable ambition.

Quite the reverse seems to be the attitude of some Portland politicians. Portland business men, having secured one of the largest concerns on the Pacific Coast, these same politicians now propose to tax that company in excess of any tax paid by any other corporation in the county, greater in proportion than in almost any other city in the United States.

CASTING TO THE WINDS the ambition of the city, seeking only to FURTHER THEIR OWN POLITICAL FORTUNES, these politicians accomplish their unjust designs at the expense of Portland's largest industry. Is it fair?

We do not believe that the THIRTY-SEVEN THOUSAND VOTERS of this city will follow the irresponsible leadership of a few self-seeking politicians, who are looking forward to a SOFT BERTH for themselves, regardless of the welfare of the city.

We do not ask for more than a SQUARE DEAL.
 VOTE X 131 NO!
