But last Pall the young bear grew too troublesome for that palatial abode, so he was sent as a guest to the Zoo. There he was placed temporarily with an old female polar bear, whose ordinary mate was inclosed in the next cage to grow accustomed to the new visitor before being allowed in close contact with him. The old lady bear welcomed the youngater and they. became great friends, while through the bars old man hear watched them with stony eyes.

But a day or two ago the keepers decided old man bear could now join the party. The door was opened between the cares and immediately the veteran stalked into his own home, crossed the floor grimly, gripped the young intruder by the neck with an awful scrunch, danked him under the water and held him there till he drowned. When all was over, he hauled the body out of the reservoir, ordered his qualling wife to join the meal, and proceeded to eat the head of his hated

Ziegler Measure Strikes Blow at City Progress.

INDUSTRY IS SHUT OUT

Hardships Imposed on Factories Seeking Sites - Proposed and Existing Railways Shut Out From Facilities.

In the adoption by the voters in Mon

In the adoption by the voters in Monday's election of the so-called Ziegler initiative measure, prohibiting the vacation for any purpose of any street or other public projerty within 2000 feet of the waterfront or 1000 feet from any railroad depot or terminal yard, it is believed a severe blow has been struck at the future growth of Portland commercially and industrially

Enforcement of the provisions of this measure will not operate to the disadvantage of the large transportation companies already established and doing business in this city, for several years at least These corporations now have ample terminal and other facilities. But the Ziegler ordinance will have the effect of discouraging if not keeping out of the city other transportation and manufacturing concerns which naturally seek terminals and building sites in as close proximity to harbor facilities as possible.

Both Sides of River Affected.

Both Sides of River Affected.

"The terms of the Ziegier ordinance apply to both sides of the river and impose the same limitations as to the vacation of streets and public property for any purpose whatever," said C. K. Henry, "and it seems incredible to me that the voters of this city would give their indorsement to so vicious a mea-

'It is generally believed that the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad expects to enter Portland, probably on the East Side. Naturally the question arises, where, under the Ziegier measure, will this company obtain desirable ferminal facilities?

"Evulbarrance it will not be long beterminal facilities?

"Furthermore, it will not be long before the growth of the city and the demands of the people will require the building by the street railway company of adequate depot facilities in different sections of the congested districts. Under the Ziegler ordinance, where can they be located?

"The time is not far distant when the problem of afording adequate transporters of afording adequate transporters of afording adequate transporters."

The time is not far distant when the problem of affording adequate transportation facilities across the river will necessitate the construction of a tube. If the entrance to this tube on both sides of the river must be 2000 feet from the waterfront, the enforcement of this provision will make the cost of the improvement absolutely prohibitive.

Factories Are Discouraged.

"If factories or large shops seek a location in Portland, they will be discouraged by the conditions of this measure which will force them back at least 2000 feet from the river in order to obtain the necessary space for their respective enterprises.

"The enactment of this measure by the people presents a situation that is most serious when the growth and progress of the city are considered. The situation is sufficiently serious that the commission appointed by Mayor Simon to draft a commission charter should give it due consideration and so amend the conditions of this ordinance that they will not prove an obstacle to Portland's future growth in any way."

Provisions Are Severe.

By the terms of the Ziegler ordinance, By the terms of the Ziegler ordinance, the vacation of any street or other public property within 2000 feet from "any meander line of any navigable water," or 1000 feet from any railroad depot or terminal, is absolutely prohibited. Such property, when beyond the limitations already given, can be vacated only by an ordinance which must receive the votes of at least three-fourths of the members of the City Council and the approval of the Mayor.

Another section of the measure the state of the sale by the city of any

Another section of the measure authorizes the sale by the city of any buildings owned by the municipality and for which it has no need. All such sales are to be made only at public auction and then only when approved by the passage of an ordinance, supported by two-thirds of the members of the Council and approved by the Mayor. The Executive Board is also empowered to rent any of the city's property not needed for public purposes for a term not exceeding five years.
