

FIGHT COMING ON PROOT AMENDMENT

Senate Committee Will Adopt Change in Reciprocity Measure.

DEMOCRATS WILL OPPOSE

They Line Up With Taft Against Any Amendments and Even Will Keep Free List Separate—Vote May Be Reached July 15.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Abandoning hope of defeating in committee the Proot amendment to the Canadian reciprocity bill, affecting the print paper and wood pulp clause of the agreement, friends of the measure today began on the floor of the Senate an active campaign to prevent its acceptance.

The President showed anxiety over the situation when, after an executive session of the Senate Finance committee, he appealed to the Democratic Senators to stand out against the amendment.

The Administration has contended that amendment of the bill probably will be fatal and by reason of this, the measure was passed in the House in the form desired by the State Department.

The same argument was advanced when the measure was turned over to the Senate Finance committee and Chairman Penrose of the committee has endeavored to prevent consideration of amendments.

Free List Not to Be Tacked On.

Secretary Knox did not appear before the committee to explain the inwardness of the agreement and to urge the committee to report the measure to the Senate in its present form. He was expected to devote considerable time to the Proot amendment, explaining where it would notify or postpone the agreement, but he sent word that previous engagements prevented his appearance.

The principal fight on the floor will be based on the Proot provision, but whether it be accepted or rejected, the friends of reciprocity are hopeful of success. The reason is found in the decision of a majority of the Democratic Senators to make no effort to attack the House free list bill to the reciprocity measure.

Democrats Oppose Amendments.

A decided majority of Democrats are favorable to reciprocity, but until comparatively recently many of them, disposed toward political advantage, made the condition that the Canadian bill should receive no consideration except in connection with the pet Democratic measure. They have abandoned that attitude and now announce they will oppose all amendments of whatever nature. Advocates of the bill are confident of success but no one predicts a vote earlier than July 15. Some extend the time by a month. Burby, chairman July 29 for action on the free list bill and that a vote be taken on the wool tariff bill early in August.

Smoot Accuses Democrats

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The charge that the Democratic House is trying to reduce its own printing bills and swell those of the Senate was made today by Senator Smoot, of Utah, chairman of the joint committee on printing. The accusation followed a request by Senator Culberson for the printing of a Senate document and the report of the minority of the Senate committee on jurisdiction on the absorption, by the United States Steel Corporation, of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Co. in 1908. In presenting his request, Mr. Culberson stated that he did so, "at the request of Mr. Smoot, objected and in doing so asserted that there was an effort on the part of the House to compel more of the printing for Congress to be done in the Senate."

"The Senator attributes a very small motive to the House," responded Senator Culberson, "and as a member of the party in control of the House, I am disposed to resent the charge."

Sugar Trust to Feel X-Ray

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The House of Representatives authorized $25,000 for the investigation of the American sugar refining company. Directed an investigation into alleged inadequacy of the taxation assessments in the District of Columbia, the question of a change in the extradition laws and discussed many other subjects in a full day's session.

Two hours were spent in a contest between committees for the custody of a $4,000,000 appropriation bill affecting certain mail routes. The appropriation committee finally won, taking the bill away from the postoffice committee.

The House tabled the Berger resolution for a committee to investigate the taking of the salaries of the district judges out of the jurisdiction of Indiana, but it turned over to the Judiciary committee all testimony taken in the matter and left it to that committee to determine whether changes ought to be made in extradition laws.

The House adjourned until tomorrow, when it will take up the bill for a revision of the wool tariff.

Reformed Church Ends Meeting.

PITTSBURGH, June 6.—The Reformed Presbyterian Synod ended its sessions today. A resolution was adopted that the National Reform Association of the United States shall send a yearly report to the Synod, which will then make a recommendation naming a fair amount which the churches will be asked to contribute. Support for the National Reform Association was debated for six days and opposed by many who did not favor contributions to any outside organization.

HIGHEST CATHOLIC PRELATE IN UNITED STATES CELEBRATES HIS GOLDEN JUBILEE.

JAMES, CARDINAL GIBBONS.

ALL HONOR GIBBONS

Great Men of Nation Are One in Cardinal's Praise.

TAFT IS CHIEF SPEAKER

Remarkable Gathering of Statesmen of Both Parties and All Religions Assembles at Baltimore to Honor Prelate.

of men and women and children near about him, you have the strongest proof of his virtues as a lover of mankind.

"Born in Baltimore, educated in Ireland, made a priest in Maryland, a curate in North Carolina, a bishop in Richmond, a coadjutor in Baltimore, archbishop of Baltimore and successor of Archbishop Carroll and Archbishop Kenrick in the primate's see of this country, he was called to the high position of cardinal June 7, 1888, by Leo XIII. In spite of the burden and responsibility of his high position in the church, he has taken part in the many great movements for the betterment of mankind and has shown himself not only a good catholic in the church sense, but he has been broadly catholic in the secular sense of that word, so that the affection felt for him by his co-religionists has spread to all denominations and to all the people who are quick to perceive a disinterested friend.

"That he may long continue active in his present high position, that he may long continue in secular movements to take the leading place he has always held in works of usefulness, is the fervent prayer of Catholic and Protestant, of Jew and Christian.

Catholic President Predicted. When Mr. Roosevelt rose to speak the crowd cheered for half a minute.

"While the American people may differ among themselves on questions of dogma," he said, "they unite on what counts more than dogma—conduct. We read now and then about people complaining that the church is growing smaller and that they are losing their influence.

"That there will be no complaints in the future if that church makes as its cardinal principle the rendering of service to the people. No church will have to defend itself so long as those who are high in that church devote themselves to the people as you, Cardinal Gibbons, have devoted yourself to them.

"We will see Presidents who are Catholics, as well as Presidents who are Protestants, and we will see Presidents who are Jews as well as Gentiles. It should be the aim of every man who is President so to carry himself toward his fellow-Americans who are not of his religion that some day, when there is another President who is not of his religion, that man may treat him in the same fashion.

"The cardinal has fought for the lowly. He has shown by his life that justice can come only through law and order. He has set an example for all of us by the things for which he has striven and the way in which he has striven.

Church and State Both Served. "Words," said Senator Root, "how-ever eloquent, are but feeble in expressing the meaning of such an assemblage as this. The fact that not only the friends and neighbors in Baltimore, but that these representatives of all parts of our country, many of them of widely different religious beliefs, are here, shows more than words the significance of this occasion.

"It means America can do what was impossible to do in lands less free and ages less trained in humanity. It means that the doctrine of separation of church and state does not mean a separation of the people from all religious belief. Cardinal Gibbons illustrates the union of service to the state and service to God. He is not a bulwark against atheism and anarchy, a bulwark against the tearing down of morality and government, the foundation on which our country depends."

After expressing his deep gratitude at the praises heaped upon him, Cardinal Gibbons said in the course of his address:

"One merit only I can truly claim, and that is, an ardent lover for my native country and her political institutions. Ever since I entered the sacred ministry, my aim has been to make those over whom I exerted any influence not only more upright Christians, but also more loyal citizens. For the most faithful Christian makes the best citizen.

"I consider the republic of the United States one of the most precious heritages ever bestowed on mankind and that it is the duty, and should be the delight, of every citizen to strengthen and perpetuate our Government by the observance of its laws, and by the integrity of his private life. 'Righteousness,' says the Book of Proverbs, 'exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to the people.'

"It is true indeed that there is no official union of church and state in this country. But we must not infer from this that there is any antagonism between the civil and religious authorities. Far from it, the church and state move on parallel lines. They mutually assist one another. The state holds over the spiritual rulers the seals of its protection without interfering with the sacred and God-given rights of conscience. And the church on her part, helps to enforce the civil laws by moral and religious sanctions."

NEW YORK, June 6.—After serving as a hostler for over three-quarters of a century, the old Galt House, famous in the history of the South, went under the auctioneer's hammer today, bringing only $11,000. The original cost of the building and its contents is said to have been more than $1,500,000. It was sold by order of a referee in bankruptcy. The purchaser was the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, of Newark, N. J.

The old Galt House first opened to the public in 1812. It was the scene of many social events in ante bellum days. It was destroyed by fire shortly before the war and re-built.

Schub Bathub Had No Poison. NEW YORK, June 6.—Professor J. Larkin, of Columbia University, reported today to District Attorney Whitman that he had been unable to discover any traces of poison in the internal organs of Mrs. Schieb, whose body was found recently in the bathtub at an apartment she and her husband had formerly occupied.

PLOT TO ABROGATE MADERO THWARTED

Man Arrested at Mexico City and Three Others Will Soon Be in Jail.

EVERY STEP UNDER GUARD

Scores of Detectives to Surround Popular Hero as He Rides on Triumphant Way Through Capital This Morning.

MEXICO CITY, June 6.—On the police department records there is a grim reminder tonight that friends of Francisco I. Madero, Jr., were not needlessly apprehensive of his visit. This afternoon Antonio Villacencia, a former chief of detectives, was arrested on information that appears to connect him with the plot whose discovery resulted in the imprisonment of W. L. Dunn, an American, at Monterey, and Daniel De Villiers, a Boer, at El Paso. Evidence concerning the conspiracy and its authors is in the hands of the authorities and, upon this information, orders of arrest have been issued for three men, leaders in government affairs. It is believed, will be in jail before tomorrow.

Determined that no untoward incident shall be recorded when Madero arrives Wednesday morning, during his stay in the capital, the government has issued imperative orders for the speedy apprehension of all those whose names are connected with the conspiracy.

Tomorrow scores of detectives will move through the crowds, and at no time will an officer be far from Madero himself, although Madero himself may be unaware of their presence. Uniformed police will be scattered along the line of march, and soldiers will be within easy call.

That the conspiracy to kill the leader of the late revolution did exist is no longer doubted, but the police believe it impossible to carry the plot into effect. Madero and his party are due here at 10 o'clock. The routine has been changed so that he will enter the city through the National, instead of the Central Railroad. From the station every street through which Madero and the thousands who will be in the party will pass, the police will be on duty.

At the station a brief service of welcome will be held. A tribute will be paid by a group of women, led by the wife of Aquiles Serdan, the man who was killed in his house at Puebla, when Madero was in the city. A chorus of girls will sing the national hymn, and a male chorus will sing a song dedicated to Madero.

PIOT SPREADS OVER REPUBLIC Many Arrests Ordered — Gonzales Narrowly Escapes Assassination. JUAN DE LOS RIOS, June 6.—A wide-spread anti-Madero plot, with ramifications in San Antonio, El Paso, New York and Mexico City, has been discovered, according to Mexican government officials.

The first purpose of the instigators is said to be the establishment in the city of a political party, and to restore to power a certain political element which was ousted when President Diaz resigned. A tribute will be paid by a group of women, led by the wife of Aquiles Serdan, the man who was killed in his house at Puebla, when Madero was in the city. A chorus of girls will sing the national hymn, and a male chorus will sing a song dedicated to Madero.

Mr. Roosevelt was glad also to see "Uncle Joe" Cannon. He shook hands heartily with Vice-President Sherman; he expressed the greatest pleasure at seeing Senator Penrose, and Senators Root and Lodge, both old friends, came in for the old-time affectionate greetings. Altogether, the scene resembled a Republican love feast.

Roosevelt to Visit White House. After he had spoken to Senator Root, he was introduced to Secretary Hillis and said some nice things about everybody in the party he was taken aside by the President. The two men were together about 10 minutes beyond ear range of any other person. Afterwards it was said that they talked about Mrs. Taft's health. The President invited the Colonel to come to Washington June 19, to be his guest in his friends' home, the White House at his silver wedding anniversary. Mr. Roosevelt said he would try to manage it.

When the score or more of Senators and Representatives entered the reception room, the conference was over. Although some of the men in the crowd were never classed as his friends in the old days, he was ready for them all. For Chief Justice White, Mr. Roosevelt had an especially cordial word. It was the first time he had seen the Chief Justice since his elevation to that position. Afterwards they talked in low tones on the platform.

As he had to return immediately to New York from Baltimore, Mr. Roosevelt declined an invitation to be the President's guest here tonight. The President arrived in Washington at 7 o'clock.

After the meeting broke up both men walked over to congratulate Cardinal Gibbons. After he had shaken the president's hand, the president put out his hand to the Colonel.

"Good-by, Theodore," said he. Then he leaned forward on Mr. Roosevelt's shoulder and whispered something. They both laughed and the meeting was over.
