Thousands of Acres Are Planted in Wheat, While Sheep Raising Is Profitable Industry for Judge Good Farmer.

The first place to attract attention on the road after getting well away from the reach is the ranch of Judge A S. Bannett, of The Dalles. The judge is a farmer and eattlegrower and he has a splendld place two or three talles below Antelope, the main road passing through it, but the farmhouse is two or more miles off sast of the trail. The judge has a farm of several thousand acres.

Antelope is about as it was in March, when I passed through there on my way to the "inside." It is a nice little place, a good business point, and will always cut a figure in the development of that section.

On or about the difference in sheep.
On or about the first of July the mall for the interior will be largely shifted from the Shaniko road and Shaniko to the Deschutes roads, and with it will go the sapress business. And everybedy says that will bit that town pretty head to the country of But the people are not discour

Wheat Prospects Good.

Eight miles to the morth of Shaniko the trail leafs to the head of Bakeoven Creek and canyon, the Chutes Valley bring off to the west. In this portion, of the Shaniko territory there are a great many fields of wheat, and it looks good compared with many other sections.

Then down a couple of miles to Bakeoven, where Henry Wakerlig, a wealthy rancher, holds forth. Bakeoven is down on the map as a Postoffice, but again the map is unturified, for the office was discontinued two years and more ago. But Wakerlig is still very much there, lie has also acres of hand, lee of it being in wheat. And he is now breaking "at" the balance of his plow land, of which he has about 2100 acres. So next year he will have perhaps the acres in wheat. He was formerly in the shead but the balance of high to suit his ideas of values, so last year he sold them all. Fear Wakerlig; he got practically double he had about 18,860 head. But he had about 18,860 head. But he had about 18,860 head. But he head a but his ideas of values, so last year he sold them all. Fear Wakerlig; he got practically double the present prices. Now he says sheep gre too high to suit his ideas of values are too low, and he is going to buy a few thousand head.

I asked "Why Bakeoven? Wakerlig said because it got hot enough down there in the canyon to boil eggs in the Summer and to halch them in the Winter.

Wheat Shipped From Here.

The wheat from a large area will surely be shipped from Maupin. Already 28 cars of last year's crop have passed through the warehouse on its way to market and more will yet come. The mall for the Juniper Flat country will come from there after July 1, and that will help them some. The other Maupin on the Harriman road, across the river, is scarcely started yet, even the depot being yet unfillshed.

BY ADDISON BENNETT.

WAPINITIA, Wasco County, Or., June & — (Staff Correspondence.) — From Muddy ranch to Wapinitia is only a reflect more than two liches on the ordinary pocket map, but it is ever 75 miles over the road. I came via Anticipe, Ebaniko, Bakcoven, Finnagan and Maupto. And after setting two or three miles from Muddy the emifre distance is through Wasco County. Had I followed the fired road I could have saved 18 miles from Muddy the emifre distance is through Wasco County. Had I followed the fired road I could have saved 18 miles or more, but it takes more miles from Muddy the emifre distance is through Wasco County. Had I followed the fired road a tail times.

Inquiries will hring out the information as to traits, provided! Provided you can follow them literally, but these blind traits are rather difficult to understand, and the way from the main balles shining road to Maupin is rather blind, as many have undoubtedly found before I attempted to follow it.

I left Muddy ranch sarly two daris age, following for a number of miles the issue road I went in by. Abd II is useless to say that I left Muddy with regret. COOKE TRIAL

"Woman in Case" Said to Have Taken Embezzled Funds to New York.

DEFENSE CRIES SCAPEGOAT

Edgar S. Cooke, of Chicago, Is in Court at Cincinnati, Accused of Taking Money From the Big Four Rallway.

CINCINNATI. June 12.—Sensational statements by attorneys for the state and defense gave promise that the trial of Edgar S. Coeke, of Chicago, for the alleged embezzlement of $42,000 from the Big Four Hailway Company, may result in unexpected disclosures. The trial began today.

Denis F. Cash, Assistant Prosecuting Attorney, declared that Cooke gave a woman $22,000 in the original packages which he is alleged to have abstracted woman $22,000 in the original packages which he is alleged to have abstracted from the Big Four Railroad, According to Cash, "the woman in the case" took the money to New York, where Cooke afterward joined her.

Charles W. Baker, attorney for Cooke, asserted that his client had here wade a "sameword" to protect the been made a "scapegoat" to protect the company from punishment for rebating. Baker said officials of the Big Four Railroad were suspected of taking millions of dollars from the treasury and paying them, in violation of Federal laws, to favorite shippers.

The charges against Cooke were the outcome of the embarglement of $543,366 from the Big Four Railroad by Charles L. Warriner, now serving a six years sentence in the Ohio Penitentiary. Warriner has been brought to this city from Columbus to testify in the trial of Cooke.
Another witness who will testify to the trial is Mrs. Jeannette Stewart Ford, whose name was mentioned by Warriner as having received a large part of the money taken from the rail-road company. and paying them, in violation of Fed-

GOVERNMENT WILL DETERMINE STATUS OF IRRIGATION.

Legal Battle Between Ditch Companies and Reclamation Service Is Probable.

PENDLETON, Or. June 12.—(Special) — With Water Commissioner George Cochran on the beach, hearings in the cases of the Government against the users of water from the Umstilla River and its tributaries started thus morning. Practically all of the 300 detendants appeared in person or by atmorning. Practically all of the 300 de-fendants appeared in person or by at-torney and filed their answers to the complaints of the Government. The United States is represented by Federal Attorney John McCourt, of Portland, and Oliver P. Morton, North-west Chief of the Reclamation Service, learn descriment, which instituted the legal department, which instituted the

According to McCourt there is no disposition on the part of the Government to deprive the water-users of any of their rights, but merely to determine definitely once and for all the actual rights of each man using water from the streams. It is not believed there will be any actual contest between the Government and the settlers. If there is any real legal battle, it will come between the big ditch companies and the Reclamation Service.

According to the complaints which panies and the Reclamation Service.
According to the complaints which have been filed, the Government is seeking to fix an arbitrary standard of one-half inch an acre or one secondfoot for each 80 acres. Nearly all of the users are asking about one inch an acre, the generally accepted standard in the Northwest. The Water Comin the Northwest. The water com-missioner merely called the docket of the cases today and received the an-swers. The Government will then file replies to each of these, after which the cases will be set for hearing.
