STEEL FOR BRIDGE ARRIVING ON TIME

Officials Say Portland, Maine, Is Not Getting Material Intended for Here.

NOVEMBER TO SEE FINISH

New Harriman Structure Expected to Be Ready for Service Then. Excavations Being Made for Abutment on West Side.

If Portland, Maine, is receiving ship ments of heavy steel intended for the new Harriman bridge here, as has been reported, it is unknown to J. P. O'Brien, head of the ailled Harriman lines, and George W. Boschke, chief engineer of the same portion of the system.

These officials may that all records reaching them are that material for the superstructure is arriving in accordance with specifications in the contract and that it is not thought the time for the last delivery in september will be exceeded.

"It must be understood that the manufacture of such insterial as is demanded and has been contracted for is not rapid, and we are receiving it as fast as it is furned out.

Steel Soon to Arrive.

"We estimate that all steel will be in place the latter part of September and in such case I do not anticipate being compelled to alter my original forecast that the atructure will be ready for service in November."

The upper deck of the bridge was

The upper deck of the bridge was started and carried along with a rush from the high abstracts on the East Bide and so far the lower deck, where trains will operate, has been connected only to the amaller abstract on the river bank, though a start has been imade to assemble some of the supports on falsework extending to the first nice.

On the West Side excavations are being made for the abutment and pedea-tals that will rest on Glissn street as far as Third, and when those on the north side of the thoroughfare are com-pleted the Union Bridge & Construction Company will begin on the south street line.

Roundhouse to Be Razed.

The roundhouse of the Northern Pacific Terminal Company will be razed as rapidly as poerfile to provide space for the bridge approach and there will be no delay in completing foundations, so that steel can be delivered on the West Side and the erection begun within another month.

Raitroad officials are at a loss to account for the story that steel was going to Purtland, Me., and no reason is

Clatsop Will Burn Oil After Mc-Indoe Returns From East. competition for the contract of

In competition for the contract of changing the Government dredge Clatropinto an oil burner, the John Wood Iron Works has filed the lowest tender, bids having been opened yesterday showing the firm's figure to be 18.500. There were two bids, the second being that of John J. Shea for 18.60.

As the Clatrop is under the supervision of Major McIndioc, Curps of Engineers, U. S. A., and he is at Washington to confer with the chief of engineers regarding the north jetty project and the centraction of two M-inch section dredges, an award will not be made until next munth, as he is not expected from the East until June IS. As the dredge Chinock was converted into an oil burner last senson, when she was almost reconstructed, the Government recently completed the building of an oil station at Three Tree Point and awarded a contract to the Associated Oil Company to supply 2000 barrels of the liquid fuel annually. The Clatrop will no doubt be equipped by Angust so that the same fuel. On the river dredges to be built it is not thought that oil will be ready for service,
