There were no "ifs" and "ands" about t, and the only "buts" were spelled with an added "t." The Portlanders demonstrated a time-worn axion: "Hit and the bugy are with you miss and the bugy are with you miss and they'll not miss you." Peris Casey was another in the timety bunch, producing two hits a walk and a sacrifice fly in Game Won in Second.

Fortland virtually won the game in the second, when Tungeson scored preas and himself on his homer, Bonner, on the mound for Spokaue, fended and the second press, doubles by Williams and Speas and a wnik to Casey driving two more across in the third. And all this time Tonneson was shooting them across the corners in a cool and deceiving manner, holding Spokane to four scattered hits until the eighth iming. Then, with the score is to the latting papyrus.

mpokage's tailes came on a double by Cartwright, a hingle by Harty down the third-haze line, followed by slashes to the same identical hole by Netrel and Coopey. This was in the eighth. and Happy Hogan's bunch of Tages are still trying to figure out what happened to them. It was a massacre, no less. Brackenridge, late of Philadelphia and probably unlamented, was the victim, for the Beavers found him practically at will. He was yanked out in the sixth and young Gipe took his place, but too late to stem the tida. Koestner, on the mound for the Beavers, had the Tigers sating from his hand from start to finish. While he only had four strikeouts to his credit, he had the Vernon sluggers swinging their heads off, laying to connect; when they did connect the Beavers, infield gobbled up everything in sight.

Vernon scored its first run in the fourth, when Kane amacked a grounder to Peckinpangh, who threw low to first. Than Barry sillowed Stinson's grounder to get hetween his legs, Kane reaching home on the error. The other run of the Tigers came in the seventh, when with one out Brashear was passed advanced to second on McKupe's pass to third on Burrail's hit over third, and scored on Brown's out at first. No more Vernon players got as far as the second station.

Chadbourne's long running catch of Patterson's fly behind second base in the fourth was a fielding feature. Chadbourne made the fans how with give in the ninth inning, when he stole from second to third while young Gipe stood saleep with the ball in his hand.

Second Buseman Rodgers of the Beavers will be out of the game for several days. In trying to steal second in the second inning, he turned his ankis and was also spiked badly enough as that he had to be assisted to the beach.

JAPS CLEVER BALLPLAYERS

Multnomah Preparing for Hard Battle With Keio University. The Japanese baseball team from the University of Kelo, which plays the Multinomah Amateur Athletic Club on Multinomah Field next Wednesday, represents a clever fielding aggregation. The Japa play a wonderful game.

The great American game has taken quite a hold on the Japanese. Every year they employ a coach from some college or league team in the United States to assist them in mustering the game. This year Arthur Shaffer, for several years a member of the Santa Clara College team and later with the New York Giants, has had charge of the team.

For three years University of Keichas won the championship of Japan.

The Multnomah Club players are preparing for a hard game for they realize that the Japanese team will give them the hardest game of the season. Although the club has been quite badly handleapped this year by lack of proper facilities for practice they have a splendid team and will give the Japs a hard game. a hard game.

LOUISVILLE. Ky., June 14.—(Special.)—Jack Halla, former premier southpaw of the American Association, who was sold recently to the Los Angries club in the Coast League is the last of the old guard of the Louis-ville club. Following the dissension in the club last year, in which Halia played a rather prominent part he has been more or less under the han since Del. Howard came from Chicago to take up the managerial duties of the local team. Halla should be a great help to the Western club.

According to some of the players, the deal was partially through petty jealousy of the manager and that Halia is as good as formerly. While he has been ill, he has rounded to in fair form. SAN FRANCISCO, June 14 .- (Spe cial.)-Something entirely new in Coast League circles will be tried out next Sunday morning when the San Fran-League circles will be tried out next Sunday morning when the San Francisco and Saeramento baseball teams play off a postponed game in Stockton. Hecause this is a postponed game, no permission is required from the league, so long as all concerned are agreeable, but it is possible that should the attendance in Stockton warrant that in the future, the Thursday game scheduled for Sacramento and another for Sunday morning will be played at Stockton.

Stockton.

The players will make the trip by electric train and will start their game in Stockton at 10 o'clock in the morning. They will thus be able to start back for Sacramento by 11 o'clock and will have a basket luncheon on the special. The journey takes about an hour and the two clubs will be in ample time for their afternoon game at Sacramento.

McCredie has been suggesting that it might be feasible for a Sunday morning game in the North to be played in Vancouver, Wash, so that it is possible the league directors will have such an application to consider.

TRACK TEAM MEN ARE WANTED

Multnomah Club Issues Invitation to Athletes of City.

Athletes of City.

William D. Hayward, coach of the University of Oregon athletes for many years, who is to handle the track athletic team of the Multnomah Amateur athletic club this season, has issued a call for all of the club athletes to assemble at Multnomah Field this afternoon for the first tryout of the season. Hayward is sanguine over the prospects of rounding out a successful track team this season, for there are a number of college athletes residing in Portland who are members of the club, and who have expressed their intention to compete, and all of them are likely to be on hand this afternoon, when the first workout will be held. Hayward also announces that all athletes in the city, whether members of the club or not, who would care to work out, will be welcome this afternoon, and they will be accorded the privileges of the field and care of the club trainers. club trainers.
