Press Club Not to Be Sponsor for Exhibition—Jack King in Charge.

NELSON TO BE PERFORMER

Battler Among Those to Appear in Proposed Benefit Entertainment for Will G. MacRae, Sporting Writer, Who Is Ill.

In special session last night the board of directors of the Portland Press Club voted a reconsideration of the Nelson benefit boxing exhibition matter, and the exhibition will not be staged under the auspices of the organization.

Instead, a committee of citizens, headed by Jack King, a well-known sportsman, will sponsor the Nelson-An-derson affair, which will be purely a no-discretion exhibition match, the entire proceeds above actual expenses to go to a benefit fund for Will G. MacRae, our sporting writer on one of the local newspapers.

MacRae has been in a Portland hospital for nearly a year and is sorely in need of financial assistance.

"I consider Mr. MacRae one of the best friends I ever had," declared King last night. "Mac" is in need of assistance now, and this is the time to show our appreciation of past favors and friendship. He has a host of friends here.

"At the solicitation of several of these most deeply interested, I have decided to take hold of the managing end right now. Judge McCredie, I am sure, will donate the use of the ball park for the afternoon of July 3 and there should be no objections anywhere.

"I propose to name an auditing committee to assume charge of the financial end, make arrangements with the boxers, pay expenses and check over all disbursements, etc., with the stipulation that every penny over and above these expenses be turned into a fund for MacRae."

The hours may be limited to six rounds, although Mr. King believes the receipts would be greatly augmented by increasing the limit to ten rounds. No decisions are to be made as to being to keep the bouts in the purely exhibition category.

WILCOX, GEARIN DECLINE

Dr. A. C. Smith and O. W. Taylor Replace Them on Committee.

Mayor Simon yesterday received the declaration of Theodore B. Wilcox and John M. Gearin as members of the charter committee of 11, and appointed in their stead Dr. Andrew C. Smith and O. W. Taylor. Dr. Smith is one of the leading physicians of the city, has had wide legislative experience and is interested in the proposed commission plan. Mr. Taylor has been with the Rull Trust company.

The membership of the charter committee as it stands is: Dr. Andrew C. Smith, O. W. Taylor, D. O. Lively, Gay Lombard, Adolphus Waite, Rev. Ben-jamin Young, Earl C. Brogan, W. P. Woodward, H. D. James, George H. Callers, W. A. Day, J. E. Worless, H. W. Price, Henry L. Reed, Earl Grates.

The first session of the committee will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon, when it is expected that organization will be perfected by the formation of a chairman and a secretary. The action of the committee will then be entirely within the judgment of the members. The only limitation put upon the committee is that it is to conclude its labors in time for the charter to be submitted to the vote of the people January 2, 1912, that being the date fixed by the City Council yesterday.

BOSTON IS READY TO SAIL
Cruiser is Now in Charge of Oregon Naval Militia.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 14.—(Special.)

The United States cruiser Boston is now in the hands of the Oregon Naval Militia, and while the transfer has not yet been made by Admiral Cotten, the Oregon officers and men are in actual possession and tomorrow morning the start of the cruise probably will be made. Lieutenant Humphrey, chief officer and 55 men reported to Lieutenant-Commander Speer this morning and proceeded to work on board and their actual duties began. It was a busy day for both officers and men. Lieutenant-Commander Speer held his exercises to hasten preparations for departure. Stores were rushed on board, Chief Engineer Edwards directed his men to get up steam and to overhaul the engines and the other officers set about getting the warship ready for sea. One hundred tons of additional coal are being taken on board.

"GYM" IS TO BE ENLARGED

Board of Trustees at Willamette Plans Needed Improvements.

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY, Salem, Or., June 14.—(Special.)

At the meeting of the board of trustees held here today it was decided to thoroughly overhaul the university gymnasium.

The building will be remodeled inside and out. New bathrooms, lockers and dressing-rooms will be constructed, and present gallery for spectators will be torn down and a new and changed one erected. There will be a large addition built to the south end of the gymnasium, which will nearly double the present size of the building, which will give Willamette, in conjunction with its modern field, splendid athletic facilities.

Work will be started upon the new structure at once and the entire building will be newly roofed and painted after the completion of the other improvements. The excavation for the new addition has already been completed by the Student Campus Improvement Association and it was due to the progressive spirit shown by the students that the board of trustees made so liberal an improvement for the big addition to the gymnasium. Arrangements have also been made for work to start in a week or ten days on further improving the athletic field; more tiles will be put in, the entire football field raised another foot and a sprinkling system arranged for the baseball diamond, to keep it free of dust during the playing season.

The hardest fought tennis match of the annual Spring tourney of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club occurred on the Multnomah courts yesterday afternoon, when James F. Ewing defeated Alma D. ### SEAMEN'S FRIEND HERE

DR. NEHEMIAH BOYNTON, OF NEW YORK IS DELEGATE.

Congregational Congress Member, Trustee of Port Societies for Mariners, Lauds Work.

Among the delegates to the Congregational Congress, which has been in session this week, Dr. Nehemiah Boynton, of New York, is among the most prominent. He is widely known as a preacher of eloquence and power and a philanthropist. As moderator of the Congregational denomination of the United States he has had much to do with the development of the church's missionary activities and other. No philanthropic enterprise in which he is engaged receives more attention from him than the Seamen's Friend Society of New York, of which he is a trustee. Dr. Boynton has been identified with the society for several years and has nothing but praise for the work that is being done by it for men who follow the sea.

"Every seaport can well afford to maintain a home for the seaman," said Dr. Boynton last night. "For the sake of the community as well as for the sake of the sailor it should be done. Snafes and temptations are placed in the way of sailors more than any other class of men, and no greater good can be done than to afford these men an opportunity to live in an uplifting environment. Our building in New York is provided with every comfort and convenience for the hundreds of sailors that are continually arriving there. We have a savings bank, where their funds are cared for; comfortable rooms, where they can lodge for a reasonable sum; a chapel and library; billiard hall and gymnasium, in fact every means is afforded the seaman to lead a clean, upright life.

"I am gratified to hear that the local Seamen's Institute is doing such a good work for the sailors entering this port. I have been interested in all that I have heard concerning it and am sure it is destined to do even greater work."

Last Fall and during the early Winter months the 16 major league clubs drafted, purchased or reclaimed under the optional agreement rule 263 minor league players, and out of that big harvest of young talent only 79 of them were still in "fast show" about a week ago.

Of the recruits who still remain in the major leagues, the Pacific Coast can boast a number of stars. Portland has four men with Cleveland and this number can be swelled to five by putting in a claim on Neal Ball, who failed to report to McCredie. Vean Gregg, Eugene Krapp, Ivan Olson and Gus
