COLLISION INJURY FATAL
Mrs. W. H. Lerchen Dies as Result of Auto Crash—Baby Is Low.

ONE DEATH, that of Mrs. W. H. Lerchen, has followed the collision between an automobile and an Oregon Electric train at Hood and Gibbs streets, Monday evening, and the baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Maynard is still in a precarious condition, suffering from concussion of the brain, but hopes of her recovery are entertained. Mrs. Lerchen died at St. Vincent's Hospital at noon yesterday.

Whether an inquest will be held had not been determined by the coroner yesterday, but such action is probable today. Dispute has arisen as to whether Motorcar Burnett sounded warning before running across the steep intersecting street. Attorney J. H. Stevenson, who was a passenger, estimates the speed of the train at 15 miles an hour. The same witness says the driver of the automobile tried to run in front of the train after he saw the car.

Mrs. Lerchen died from a fracture of the skull. Funeral arrangements had not been completed last night.

CHECKS HELP SAVE DISCOUNTS

How many Portland families fail to take advantage of discounts on many bills because they do not take time to go over town and pay the bill.

Start a new system on paying bills. The first of the month put all bills on a spindle as the business man does. When the time comes to pay, send a check on the Portland Trust Company.

It saves carfare, time, and you take advantage of the discount. Besides the cancelled check is a receipt for the bill. And it's a dignified way of paying your bills.

WE MAKE NO RESTRICTIONS ON THE AMOUNT NECESSARY TO START A CHECKING ACCOUNT.
