

UNITED MAY NOT REACH HILLSBORO

Townpeople Make Hard Fight Before Committee but Are Turned Down.

STREET COMMITTEE ACTS

Washington County Seat Loses in Fight to Compel Railway to Extend to Town—Clauses of Franchise May Be Changed.

Hillsboro, through its representatives, made a hard fight for compliance with the original franchise of the United Railways Company, which required a line to be built to that town, but lost before the street committee of the City Council yesterday afternoon. If the main body acts in accordance with its recommendations, the clauses in this regard will be repeated and the company will not have to spend the necessary money to enter the Washington County seat.

Dr. J. P. Tamsieles, president of the Hillsboro Board of Trade, and N. H. Alexander, its secretary, were present to plead for compliance with the original terms of the franchise. He declared that the company should be forced to build at least a cut-off from its main line projected to Tillamook from either the street committee or the City Council yesterday afternoon.

Dr. J. P. Tamsieles, president of the Hillsboro Board of Trade, and N. H. Alexander, its secretary, were present to plead for compliance with the original terms of the franchise. He declared that the company should be forced to build at least a cut-off from its main line projected to Tillamook from either the street committee or the City Council yesterday afternoon.

Dr. J. P. Tamsieles, president of the Hillsboro Board of Trade, and N. H. Alexander, its secretary, were present to plead for compliance with the original terms of the franchise. He declared that the company should be forced to build at least a cut-off from its main line projected to Tillamook from either the street committee or the City Council yesterday afternoon.

Dr. J. P. Tamsieles, president of the Hillsboro Board of Trade, and N. H. Alexander, its secretary, were present to plead for compliance with the original terms of the franchise. He declared that the company should be forced to build at least a cut-off from its main line projected to Tillamook from either the street committee or the City Council yesterday afternoon.

Dr. J. P. Tamsieles, president of the Hillsboro Board of Trade, and N. H. Alexander, its secretary, were present to plead for compliance with the original terms of the franchise. He declared that the company should be forced to build at least a cut-off from its main line projected to Tillamook from either the street committee or the City Council yesterday afternoon.

Dr. J. P. Tamsieles, president of the Hillsboro Board of Trade, and N. H. Alexander, its secretary, were present to plead for compliance with the original terms of the franchise. He declared that the company should be forced to build at least a cut-off from its main line projected to Tillamook from either the street committee or the City Council yesterday afternoon.

Dr. J. P. Tamsieles, president of the Hillsboro Board of Trade, and N. H. Alexander, its secretary, were present to plead for compliance with the original terms of the franchise. He declared that the company should be forced to build at least a cut-off from its main line projected to Tillamook from either the street committee or the City Council yesterday afternoon.

Dr. J. P. Tamsieles, president of the Hillsboro Board of Trade, and N. H. Alexander, its secretary, were present to plead for compliance with the original terms of the franchise. He declared that the company should be forced to build at least a cut-off from its main line projected to Tillamook from either the street committee or the City Council yesterday afternoon.

Dr. J. P. Tamsieles, president of the Hillsboro Board of Trade, and N. H. Alexander, its secretary, were present to plead for compliance with the original terms of the franchise. He declared that the company should be forced to build at least a cut-off from its main line projected to Tillamook from either the street committee or the City Council yesterday afternoon.

Dr. J. P. Tamsieles, president of the Hillsboro Board of Trade, and N. H. Alexander, its secretary, were present to plead for compliance with the original terms of the franchise. He declared that the company should be forced to build at least a cut-off from its main line projected to Tillamook from either the street committee or the City Council yesterday afternoon.

Dr. J. P. Tamsieles, president of the Hillsboro Board of Trade, and N. H. Alexander, its secretary, were present to plead for compliance with the original terms of the franchise. He declared that the company should be forced to build at least a cut-off from its main line projected to Tillamook from either the street committee or the City Council yesterday afternoon.

Dr. J. P. Tamsieles, president of the Hillsboro Board of Trade, and N. H. Alexander, its secretary, were present to plead for compliance with the original terms of the franchise. He declared that the company should be forced to build at least a cut-off from its main line projected to Tillamook from either the street committee or the City Council yesterday afternoon.

Dr. J. P. Tamsieles, president of the Hillsboro Board of Trade, and N. H. Alexander, its secretary, were present to plead for compliance with the original terms of the franchise. He declared that the company should be forced to build at least a cut-off from its main line projected to Tillamook from either the street committee or the City Council yesterday afternoon.

Dr. J. P. Tamsieles, president of the Hillsboro Board of Trade, and N. H. Alexander, its secretary, were present to plead for compliance with the original terms of the franchise. He declared that the company should be forced to build at least a cut-off from its main line projected to Tillamook from either the street committee or the City Council yesterday afternoon.

Dr. J. P. Tamsieles, president of the Hillsboro Board of Trade, and N. H. Alexander, its secretary, were present to plead for compliance with the original terms of the franchise. He declared that the company should be forced to build at least a cut-off from its main line projected to Tillamook from either the street committee or the City Council yesterday afternoon.

Dr. J. P. Tamsieles, president of the Hillsboro Board of Trade, and N. H. Alexander, its secretary, were present to plead for compliance with the original terms of the franchise. He declared that the company should be forced to build at least a cut-off from its main line projected to Tillamook from either the street committee or the City Council yesterday afternoon.

Dr. J. P. Tamsieles, president of the Hillsboro Board of Trade, and N. H. Alexander, its secretary, were present to plead for compliance with the original terms of the franchise. He declared that the company should be forced to build at least a cut-off from its main line projected to Tillamook from either the street committee or the City Council yesterday afternoon.

DRUGGIST BLAMED FOR $23,000 BURN

Pharmacist Who Applied Lotion to Mosquito Bite Not Licensed, Is Testified.

SKIN - GRAFTING NEEDED

O. E. Goodwin in Suit Against Rowe & Martin Lays Months of Pain and Operations to Clerk Found Unfit Four Times.

Four times deemed unfit to practice pharmacy, G. H. Hall, a drug clerk employed by Rowe & Martin, was pointed to before a jury in the State Circuit Court yesterday as being responsible for the searing of flesh from the arm of Orton E. Goodwin by the misapplication of a caustic acid instead of a lotion to check swelling and pain caused by a mosquito bite. Goodwin, a newspaper man, is suing the drug firm for $23,000 damages.

Further adding to the alleged accountability of the apothecary, Dr. M. J. Denny testified that he had advised Hall to use either boric acid or a one per cent solution of tri-kresol.

Instead, the crippled suitor testified, the drug clerk, as Dr. Denny turned his back, applied full-strength tri-kresol. Goodwin awoke the next morning to find his arm, burned black, the skin gone from the wrist to a point below the shoulder.

Pozzi Testifies to Rejection. Frank C. Pozzi, secretary of the State Board of Pharmacy, has a record of having been rejected four times by the Board of Examiners. This was a direct contradiction of the testimony of Hall, who declared under oath that he had a state license to practice pharmacy, and that he had been granted a permit by Commissioner Lowery, of the State Board of Pharmacy, No. record of issuance of a permit to Hall was produced, said Mr. Pozzi, and it was impossible for Mr. Lowery to have issued the license.

Goodwin, on his own behalf, testified to the circumstances surrounding the accident, which nearly cost him the use of his arm, and caused him months of severe pain. He said he was employed at that time as a reporter, and that after completing his day's work about 1 o'clock in the morning of July 17, 1909, he had gone with another reporter, who has since died, to the drugstore of Rowe & Martin to get something to soothe a severe mosquito bite.

Doctor's Advice Not Heeded. Goodwin went to Hall, to whom Goodwin showed his arm, and asked if he could apply something that would ease the pain. As the clerk was looking at the arm, Dr. M. J. Denny entered the store, and the clerk asked him if blood poisoning had not developed in the arm.

After looking at the arm, Dr. Denny testified yesterday, he stood a short distance from Goodwin and told the clerk that he should apply tri-kresol, but the clerk objected as the bottle containing the acid in solution was empty. The clerk also objected to another preparation suggested by the doctor, who says he told him to use a 1 per cent solution of tri-kresol. Then the doctor left the room, and, according to Goodwin, the clerk poured the pure tri-kresol on his arm.

For some time Goodwin stayed at his home, and whenever the doctors removed the bandages, it was found necessary to cut off some flesh. Just he was sent to the hospital, where 120 square inches of skin, from the person of A. H. Griley, physical director at the Young Men's Christian Association, were grafted to his arm. Later it was found necessary to repeat the operation, this time the skin being taken from another part of Goodwin's body.

Later an internal operation was made necessary and is supposed to have been caused indirectly by the trouble with the arm.

Hall, the drug clerk, was placed on the stand by Goodwin's attorney, Dan Maloney, and asked to tell his version of the case. He said he was acting under the instructions of Dr. Denny at the time he applied the tri-kresol, and that he had a permit giving him authority to serve as drug clerk. This was denied by Mr. Pozzi, as stated above.

The witness said that the law prohibits issuance of certificates by members of the State Board of Pharmacy, that privilege being limited to the secretary, who alone in the absence of the board, has authority to permit Hall to have acted as clerk at the time Goodwin's arm was injured.

Photographs of Goodwin's arm, as it appeared while under treatment, were submitted as evidence.

FIRST WOOL IS SHIPPED

100,000 POUNDS OF CENTRAL OREGON CLIP SENT.

Initial Rail Consignment From Mid-State Leaves Madras for Boston on Oregon Trunk.

Movement of wool out of Central Oregon started yesterday, a shipment of 100,000 pounds starting over the Oregon Trunk out of Madras for Boston. This is the first rail shipment of wool ever made from the interior and is the heaviest lot ever handled in that section at one time.

Growers there declare, however, that it is only the forerunner of greater activity in wool-growing made possible by the construction of the railroads into the central part of the state. The routing of the first shipment was over the North Bank and Great Northern after leaving the Oregon Trunk line.

An auction sale of wool will take place at Madras on Saturday, when it is expected other large quantities will be contracted for. The lot that was sent out yesterday moved independent of the auction transactions. A large wool warehouse has been built next the Oregon Trunk depot at Madras, and this will be made the receiving point for much of this year's clip in Crook County. Many farmers are still holding their wool, awaiting the auction sales.

As a result of the railroads' entrance, sheep-raising has received a wonderful impetus in Central Oregon and promises now to become one of the leading industries there.

DRUGGIST BLAMED FOR $23,000 BURN

Pharmacist Who Applied Lotion to Mosquito Bite Not Licensed, Is Testified.

SKIN - GRAFTING NEEDED

O. E. Goodwin in Suit Against Rowe & Martin Lays Months of Pain and Operations to Clerk Found Unfit Four Times.

Four times deemed unfit to practice pharmacy, G. H. Hall, a drug clerk employed by Rowe & Martin, was pointed to before a jury in the State Circuit Court yesterday as being responsible for the searing of flesh from the arm of Orton E. Goodwin by the misapplication of a caustic acid instead of a lotion to check swelling and pain caused by a mosquito bite. Goodwin, a newspaper man, is suing the drug firm for $23,000 damages.

Further adding to the alleged accountability of the apothecary, Dr. M. J. Denny testified that he had advised Hall to use either boric acid or a one per cent solution of tri-kresol.

Instead, the crippled suitor testified, the drug clerk, as Dr. Denny turned his back, applied full-strength tri-kresol. Goodwin awoke the next morning to find his arm, burned black, the skin gone from the wrist to a point below the shoulder.

Pozzi Testifies to Rejection. Frank C. Pozzi, secretary of the State Board of Pharmacy, has a record of having been rejected four times by the Board of Examiners. This was a direct contradiction of the testimony of Hall, who declared under oath that he had a state license to practice pharmacy, and that he had been granted a permit by Commissioner Lowery, of the State Board of Pharmacy, No. record of issuance of a permit to Hall was produced, said Mr. Pozzi, and it was impossible for Mr. Lowery to have issued the license.

Goodwin, on his own behalf, testified to the circumstances surrounding the accident, which nearly cost him the use of his arm, and caused him months of severe pain. He said he was employed at that time as a reporter, and that after completing his day's work about 1 o'clock in the morning of July 17, 1909, he had gone with another reporter, who has since died, to the drugstore of Rowe & Martin to get something to soothe a severe mosquito bite.

Doctor's Advice Not Heeded. Goodwin went to Hall, to whom Goodwin showed his arm, and asked if he could apply something that would ease the pain. As the clerk was looking at the arm, Dr. M. J. Denny entered the store, and the clerk asked him if blood poisoning had not developed in the arm.

After looking at the arm, Dr. Denny testified yesterday, he stood a short distance from Goodwin and told the clerk that he should apply tri-kresol, but the clerk objected as the bottle containing the acid in solution was empty. The clerk also objected to another preparation suggested by the doctor, who says he told him to use a 1 per cent solution of tri-kresol. Then the doctor left the room, and, according to Goodwin, the clerk poured the pure tri-kresol on his arm.

For some time Goodwin stayed at his home, and whenever the doctors removed the bandages, it was found necessary to cut off some flesh. Just he was sent to the hospital, where 120 square inches of skin, from the person of A. H. Griley, physical director at the Young Men's Christian Association, were grafted to his arm. Later it was found necessary to repeat the operation, this time the skin being taken from another part of Goodwin's body.

Later an internal operation was made necessary and is supposed to have been caused indirectly by the trouble with the arm.

Hall, the drug clerk, was placed on the stand by Goodwin's attorney, Dan Maloney, and asked to tell his version of the case. He said he was acting under the instructions of Dr. Denny at the time he applied the tri-kresol, and that he had a permit giving him authority to serve as drug clerk. This was denied by Mr. Pozzi, as stated above.

The witness said that the law prohibits issuance of certificates by members of the State Board of Pharmacy, that privilege being limited to the secretary, who alone in the absence of the board, has authority to permit Hall to have acted as clerk at the time Goodwin's arm was injured.

Photographs of Goodwin's arm, as it appeared while under treatment, were submitted as evidence.

JAPS WILL PLAY TODAY

UNIVERSITY OF KEIO NINE TO MEET MULNOMAH.

Natives of Nippon in Portland Will Be Out in Force to See Country-men Work on Diamond.

Mulnomah Field will be the scene of a Japanese invasion this afternoon. Natives of Nippon who are in Portland will be out in force to see their countrymen, representing the University of Keio, Japan, meet the baseball players of the Mulnomah Amateur Athletic Club in the great American game.

The Keio team is one of the fastest baseball teams the Japanese have sent to America since they adopted the game several years ago.

Suppose the crack pitcher of the Keio team, is six feet tall with wonderful curves and plenty of speed. His "jump" ball has proven a mystery to the teams in this country. One of his great games was a 19-inning game with University of Wisconsin, the longest ever played in Japan, during which he struck out 18 men and allowed only eight hits, including a home run in one run. He will be supported behind the bat by Fukuda, the hard hitting man of the team.

Fred De Nief will pitch the game for Mulnomah Club and Will Gleason will be behind the bat. The game will begin at 3:30 o'clock. The line-up will be as follows:

Table listing baseball players and their positions for the game between Mulnomah and Keio.

RESIDENT OF OREGON FOR 50 YEARS IS BURIED.

The funeral of Frederick Proebstel, who died Monday at his home, 1680 Peninsula avenue, was held yesterday. He had been a resident of Oregon for the past 50 years, and had lived most of that time in and near Portland.

He was born in Germany, December 29, 1829, being the youngest of a family of 10 children. He came to the United States when 11 years old, living in Missouri until 1852, when with a number of pioneers he crossed the plain to Portland. He had lived in Multnomah, Wallowa and Union counties, and the last 11 years were spent on Columbia Slough. He is survived by a widow and three children—Andrew and Lester Proebstel and Mrs. O. Clearwater, of Portland.

His funeral was held from the family residence and the burial was made in Riverview Cemetery.

with his old friend as soon as he arrived in the East. Casasent was willing to give Raymond a trial provided he kept in strict training, and this Raymond promised over the telephone wire. He is expected to pitch his first game for Winston on Saturday against Torrington.

Call Out for Big Tennis Play.

BOSTON, June 20.—Arrangements are completed for the Eastern doubles championship and the 21st annual Longwood lawn tennis tournament, which will begin on the courts of the Longwood Club on July 17. Some of the best of the Pacific Coast players are expected to participate, and most of the leading Eastern experts will also enter. Entries to all events will be received up to noon July 15, at Arthur S. Piers, 201 Columbia avenue, Boston.

Los Angeles in Eighth Place.

The Los Angeles Country Club took eighth place in the golf play for the Tom Morris cup with a score of 49, this being the only Pacific Coast golf organization to finish inside the 49 mark. The trophy was won by the Country Club of Cleveland, O., with a score of 19. Portland took 19th in 1910, but did not participate this season on account of the tournament.

Burman Makes New Record.

MILWAUKEE, June 20.—Bob Burman today established a new automobile record for the mile track at State Fair park, driving the distance in 50.15 seconds, in his Buick. The former record for the track, 51 seconds, was made by Barney Oldfield.

Pickwick's Now Seek Games.

The Pickwick's, a team formerly known as the Brooklyn Grays, want a game for next Sunday, and also for watch the games here this week. For these dates, or for Sundays during the balance of the season, is requested to address H. J. Sherrett, 254 East Sixteenth street, or telephone East 254.

Fandom at Random

PITCHER Jack Halla, the Louisville castoff, mounted the slab for the Angels again yesterday. He succeeded in disposing of the Sacramento troubadours quite handsly. Last week Halla flagged the Oaks in his initial appearance in the league, and yesterday's victory gives him two wins in two starts, which is pretty good sailing. If Hen Berry's other importations only do half as well, the Angels will yet get into the running.

Bill Rodgers' fractured ankle will keep the Eliney Beaver out of the fracas for at least a month. In the meantime, Jack Barry is holding down the job nicely. McCredie, however, does not intend to be caught napping, and has wires out for another infielder who may either play the regular position until Rodgers recovers, or may fill the utility role played by Barry.

The Seals got away with the opening game against the Vernon team, and thereby maintained a superiority over Hogan's crowd which has existed for two or three seasons. Last year Happonis and his team-mates alike won games from the San Francisco club. On that occasion, the Hooglians took the first three games, but Mohler and Danny Long's tribe came right back at them and trimmed them in the remaining four games. "Hap" simply cannot break the San Francisco hoodoo.

When the Roadsters rambled across the rubber five times in the seventh frame yesterday, and the result was chalked up on the bulletin boards down town, the fans actually warmed up and let out a whoop or two. It shows they are really commencing to get interested in the Northwestern games, and perhaps some of them will go to the ball park now, instead of awaiting the returns at the score boards. Wil-

JEWELRY AUCTION SALE

RETIRING FROM THE JEWELRY BUSINESS

Commencing Friday, June the 23rd, at 2:30 P. M., we will offer our entire high-grade stock for sale, regardless of cost. The object of this sale is to close out our entire stock and fixtures. This sale will continue at 2:30 P. M. and 7:30 P. M. until all is sold. Chairs will be provided for the ladies.

Stock consists of Watches, Diamonds, Clocks, Solid Gold and Gold Filled Jewelry, Solid Sterling Silverware, fine Silver-plated goods of all kinds, Cut-glass, Hand-painted China, Umbrellas, Ladies' and Gents' fine Rings, Chains, and Art goods.

NOTHING RESERVED—Everything at your own price. This will be a grand opportunity to buy high grade goods at your own prices. You can call for any article in the store and it will be offered at auction. Don't forget the date—Friday, June the 23rd at 2:30 P. M.

NOTICE TO LADIES—At the opening of this sale there will be given away several beautiful gifts.

day's luncheon are: W. H. Chapin, president Portland Realty Board, "Portland Realty Values, Past, Present and Future"; Charles W. Fulton, "Government Appropriations, How Secured and Their Effect"; "Bill" Woodhead, John Fleming Wilson and "Cap" Mason will be guests.

LOUIS W. BRUN & CO.

293 Morrison Street, Near Fifth

Mike Lynch says George Milford Schreeder, the genial owner of the Tacoma club, is coming to Portland to watch the games here this week. Schreeder will probably reach Portland today. If Nick Williams continues to slam the Tigers around as he did the Indians last week, Schreeder may spend more money to strengthen the Tigers.

AD CLUB DINES TODAY

Unique Announcement of Weekly Luncheon Is Made.

The Portland Ad Club has issued a unique announcement heralding its weekly luncheon at Richards' Grill today at noon.

"Marvelous Announcement. You Secure Immediate Possession of a Whole Lot on Payment of Only 50 Cents." reads the circular. The northeast section of Richards' Addition, at Park and Alder streets, in other words the dining-room of the cafe, is to be sold, according to the announcement. The advantages of the property are set forth in humorous detail.

Among the speakers scheduled for today's luncheon are: W. H. Chapin, president Portland Realty Board, "Portland Realty Values, Past, Present and Future"; Charles W. Fulton, "Government Appropriations, How Secured and Their Effect"; "Bill" Woodhead, John Fleming Wilson and "Cap" Mason will be guests.

WE'RE GOING TO MOVE

The Finest of High-Grade Pianos at Mighty Attractive Prices

BUSH & LANE PIANO CO.

Everything in our present quarters must go. The largest single shipment of high-grade Pianos and Player Pianos ever made is now en route for our new establishment. Only a few days remain. Act quickly.

$275 Pianos now only $220
$310 Pianos now only $248
$325 Pianos now only $260
Etc., Etc.

Remember, we guarantee quality and we guarantee price. We can say or do no more. Terms to suit your convenience. Drop in today or this evening.

When the Roadsters rambled across the rubber five times in the seventh frame yesterday, and the result was chalked up on the bulletin boards down town, the fans actually warmed up and let out a whoop or two. It shows they are really commencing to get interested in the Northwestern games, and perhaps some of them will go to the ball park now, instead of awaiting the returns at the score boards. Wil-

Members of the Portland Commercial Club will go to Lebanon by automobile tomorrow to attend the strawberry festival and good roads demonstration planned by the citizens of that place for the last three days of the week.

The affair was planned primarily for the purpose of demonstrating to the world the remarkable strawberry-growing proclivities of the soil in and around Lebanon, but the good roads meeting promises to be of equal importance, as the first day has been devoted exclusively to a rally for improved highways in Eastern Oregon. Delegates from all parts of the state will be in attendance. To attend the festival, Lebanon Club men are eager to be in Lebanon.

Some of those who will make the trip are Dr. A. C. Smith, C. T. Prall, Aman Moore, John S. Beall, Frank G. Riggs, James Cole and C. C. Chapman. They will leave here early tomorrow morning and expect to be in Lebanon before noon.

QUAKERS EXTEND CREED

Western Societies Report Successful Results for Year.

LEBANON FETE ATTRACTS

Commercial Club Anticipates to Attend Strawberry Festival.

Members of the Portland Commercial Club will go to Lebanon by automobile tomorrow to attend the strawberry festival and good roads demonstration planned by the citizens of that place for the last three days of the week.

RED AFFINITIES MAY GO

Attorney J. H. Stevenson Contends That Law Doesn't Say "Nap."

Attorney John H. Stevenson, retained by the defendants in the cases of John Cole and Ellen Parazoo and Joseph Jackson and Lou Wilson, Indians from the Klamath reservation, accused by the United States Government of having entered into affinity marriages, has indicated that the defenses will be that the Federal Government has no law designating Indian affinity marriages as crimes. Assistant United States District Attorney Evans will prosecute the case.

QUAKERS EXTEND CREED

Western Societies Report Successful Results for Year.

NEWBERG, Or., June 20.—(Special.)—The Oregon yearly meeting of Friends, embodying Portland, Salem and West-