Receiver for Wrecked Trust Company Tells of Efforts to Secure Government to Prosecute for "Inframous Conspiracy."

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The Missouri Bonaparte had its presidency for a large part bridled by the State Department and Government to prosecute former heads of the American Sugar Company for the wrecking of the real estate trust. The Missouri company had been organized by John W. Beardsley, formerly of Illinois, and was formed to control the sugar market. The Missouri company had a large amount of capital and had been in existence for about five years. The company had been formed by the American Sugar Company and was primarily interested in the sugar business.

Letters Recently Disclosed.

Mr. Beardsley also said that the negotiations with the sugar refineries would keep him in business. He had written letters to the sugar refineries, saying, "Sacks and Company, you will hear from me soon."

The United States Sugar Company, which had been organized by the Missouri company, was forced to sell its sugar refineries in order to meet its obligations. The Missouri company had been forced to sell its sugar refineries in order to meet its obligations.
