ENGROSS SOCIETY

New York Deeply Interested in Wife's Demand for Separate Maintenance.

ESTRANGEMENT IS KNOWN

As Far Back as April Woman Wanted to Sue for Divorce, but She Has Been Prevailed Upon to Take Different Course.

NEW YORK, July 2.—(Special).— Society and club women busy today with the cable news from Paris that Mrs. Theodore F. Shonts had instituted suit for separation and maintenance.

Some of the persons directly connected with the family would talk for publication.

Friends of Mr. Shonts have said repeatedly that there was some friction between him and his wife because he had little enthusiasm for her social ambitions. Americans in Paris who have been closest to Mrs. Shonts and her daughters have long known that serious differences existed between the parents.

The intimation that at any cost the troubles of the Shontses will never be aired in public is known to be the result of pressure brought to bear on Mrs. Shonts from many sources for more than two months. As far back as April of this year, she visited the offices of a lawyer in this city and demanded that he begin an action for absolute divorce, naming an endless number of women who are among New York's smartest society leaders. At that time Mrs. Shonts was thinking of what she termed "revenge" and would listen to nothing less than a newspaper baring of all her alleged wrongs.

When the lawyer pointed out that she had no grounds on which to base such sensational charges, and that the bringing of such an action would be so clearly unjustified as to result in her losing such grounds as she might have if she withdrew baseless accusations, Mrs. Shonts left his office angrily and never went back.

She then retained Judge Leventriel, who spent much of the succeeding month in trying to assuage her wrath, and to induce her to give up her intention of precipitating an action that would rack the foundations of New York society. His success was not all he hoped for, but Mrs. Shonts finally consented to call for Paris and consult her children before taking any definite step looking to a divorce. It is known that both the Duchess and her younger sisters have done all in their power to dissuade their mother from carrying out her original purpose.

NEW RAIL LINE SURVEYED

Land Options Acquired Along Route of Proposed Road.

EUGENE, Or., July 2.—(Special).— Surveyors in the employ of the Willamette & Pacific Railway Company yesterday began work out of Junction City, running preliminary lines to connect with the line just completed from Eugene to Elmira. At the same time land agents of the company began closing up and securing options on land west of Junction City. The land is not so situated as to be used for right-of-way, and it is supposed that the options are for speculative purposes.

The Willamette & Pacific Railway Company was recently incorporated, and has had a crew of surveyors busy for the last three weeks running a survey from Eugene to Florence, making the sixth survey to be completed between these points. The incorporators are timber owners in the Siuslaw country, chief of whom is G. X. Wendell, of San Francisco. The company recently purchased the sawmill at Jamez, the property including 14 acres of real estate and a good water franchise.

HOBBOLED WOMAN LEAPS

She Spans Six-Foot Space to Catch Vancouver Ferryboat.

VANCOUVER, Wash., July 2.—(Special).—A woman, wearing a hobble skirt, demonstrated that she could jump far enough to catch a ferryboat when it was in motion and six feet from the landing.

A man and woman were walking down First street, half a block from the ferry, when Captain McNally tooted the whistle. The man started to run as the captain pulled the bell, signalling the engineer, Bert Brumagin, ahead.

Reaching the slip as the ferry was moving out, the woman gathered her skirts up to her knees, gave a mighty bound and landed safely on the boat.
Her escort also coasted under. Captain McNally said that the woman jumped at least eight feet through the air to get the ferry apron.

WOMAN CALLED BEFORE FEDERAL GRAND JURY TO TESTIFY CONCERNING UNPAID DUTY ON GIFTS OF JEWELS.

MRS. HELEN DWELLE JENKINS.

GEMS EVADE DUTY

Theft From Woman Puts Customs Men on Trail.

ADMIRER FACES TROUBLE

Mrs. J. W. Jenkins, Who Confesses to Having Broken Mother's Heart by Many Scandals, Is to Testify Before Grand Jury.

NEW YORK, July 2.—(Special).—The summoning of Mrs. Helen Dwellle Jenkins, known also as "Mrs. J. W. Jenkins," to appear before the Federal grand jury next week revives the story of one of the most sensational jewel robberies ever reported in New York.
Mrs. Jenkins is to testify, it is said, that the wealthy admirer who presented the jewels to her never paid the duty on them. Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty, who served as private detective in the final recovery of the diamonds, said after he had restored them that his search had "met scandal at every turn."

The jewels were reputed to be worth $200,000, and the alleged smuggling is reported as having occurred two years ago. At the time of the robbery, Mrs.
Jenkins was living in an expensive Fifth-avenue hotel. She informed the police that she had been robbed, and later said that the jewels had been recovered through a private agency.

Customs Men Interested.

The police did not take much stock in the robbery story. But the Customs people were very much interested in it because they keep pretty closely in touch with importations of diamonds and keep track of the big diamond collections and they never had heard of the Jenkins collection of jewelry. Naturally they investigated and they discovered that this jewelry had been presented to Mrs. Jenkins by a wealthy man who had brought it from abroad and that he never had paid duty on it.
Now it is said the Customs Office is after the man who bought the jewelry to compel him to pay the duty on it.

The case is complicated in several ways. In the first place, Mrs. Jenkins is said to have fallen in love with her wealthy admirer and to have given her Customs people the tip on which to act in investigating the case. Then it is reported that the wealthy man involved charged the Customs officials with attempting to blackmail him. Incidentally someone called the home of Special Agent Parr on the telephone and so alarmed Mrs. Parr that she became dangerously ill.

Only Marriage Is Elopement.

Mrs. Jenkins tells a remarkable story of her own life. The only time she was married, she says, was when she was 14, when she eloped to Canada with Lee Allen Dwellle, a West Point graduate, and son of wealthy parents, with magnificent homes in Sandusky, O., and Detroit. Mr. Dwellle's mother did not like her and the couple tried living alone in Chicago, but she divorced Dwellle after they had been married a year.

She tells how Nathan Allen, of Kenneth, Wis., meeting her by chance, showed her with gifts of money and jewels, and finally how they lived together as Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jenkins.
The scandal broke "Mrs. Jenkins" mother's heart, and when the young man died from shock in New Orleans, other admirers flocked to the young woman; her guardian, John P. Collins, of Memphis, Tenn., made her many rich presents, and from among her many admirers she chose at last Adolph Jesse Davis, of Syracuse, whose arrest she caused later on the charge of stealing a large quantity of her jewels. So that romance was ended.

No arrests for the jewel robbery were made, but Customs men are determined to fix responsibility for their presence in the United States without corresponding duty at any Customs-House.

MILLING FIRM DISSOLVES

Fire at Hood River Causes Stockholders to Suspend.

ing Company, held Saturday at the rooms of the university Club, a resolution was adopted providing for the dissolution of the corporation, the sale of all the properties of the company, both personal and real, and a settlement with the stockholders after a payment of all liabilities.

Truman Butler, cashier of the Butler Banking Company, was elected to the board of directors to take the place of President T. W. Thompson, of Portland, who recently disposed of all of his stock in the concern. The other officers of the corporation are C. D. Homewood, vice-president, and G. J. Gessling, both of this city.

The action taken by the stockholders is the result of the recent disastrous fire which totally destroyed the plant of the company. The property was insured for the sum of $12,500. However, an adjustment as to salvage has not yet been reached. Mr. Gessling said that he was not able to make a detailed statement as to what the stockholders would receive on their capital, but he said that as far as he was at present able to estimate the financial status of the corporation they would receive a possible 55 per cent. Out of the 178 shares of stock, 162 were represented at the meeting.

MYSTERY OF BANK
ROBBERY SOLVED

Tooele, Utah, Officers Arrest Pair Implicated by Cashier's Confession.

SUSPECTS ARE PROMINENT

Officer of Institution Tells How He Was Bound, Gagged and Robbed of Nearly $10,000—Two Others Are Vindicated.

TOOELE, Utah, July 2.—With the arrest early today of George H. Higgs and A. B. Walton, officers believe of exonerate mystery surrounding the robbery of the Commercial Bank of Tooele on June 7, when nearly $10,000 was stolen from that institution, has been solved. In addition to the two men named, S. I.
Shaffer, cashier of the bank at the time of the robbery, is implicated. Shaffer was arrested on June 21, together with W. L. Irvine, of Three Forks, Mont., who is manager of the Tooele Improvement Company, and Irvine's clerk, Joseph Balluff.

Immediately afterwards Shaffer, according to the officers, made a confidential confession to the Sheriff of Tooele County exonerating Irvine and Balluff.

Shaffer confessed, say the officers, that Higgs, who is also a bank clerk, planned the robbery, which was carried out by the other two. After banking hours on June 7, Walton, so the confession runs, entered the bank and bound and gagged Shaffer, the cashier, who was alone in the building. Then taking the money, $9,900, which had been placed in a valise by Shaffer, he carried it to the edge of town, where he had concealed a motorcar, which he rode to Salt Lake City, 40 miles distant.

Higgs and Walton are both well-connected here. Higgs being a brother-in-law of Walton, who is a well-to-do real estate man. Irvine is prominent in the community and is wealthy. His arrest caused a sensation. His formal discharge will be made tomorrow.

TRADE HALT TEMPORARY

University President Predicts Reciprocify Will Be Adopted.

BERKELEY, Cal., July 2.—Canadian reciprocity and the business outlook in the West were discussed by President Wheeler of the University of California on his return here tonight after a month's tour along the Canadian border through the Pacific Northwest, and a short trip through the East.

"I believe that there is no doubt that the Canadian reciprocity bill will become a law and that Congress will approve it, as public opinion is behind the measure," he said.

"I think possibly the business of the country is halting now because of the discussions of the tariff. I notice everywhere a temporary halt, but it is purely temporary. The country is willing to accept any reasonable settlement of the question."
