Loss of Steamers Santa Rosa and Spokane Necessitates Many Changes.

NEW RUNS ARE ANNOUNCED

City of Pueblo Will Go on Southern California Route for Time Being and Later Will Be Replaced by Caracao.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 10.—(Special.)—Numerous changes in the routing of vessels of the Pacific Coast Company's fleet as a result of the loss of the steamship Santa Rosa on the rocks at Point Arguello, and Spokane in Seymour Narrows, were announced today by Assistant Manager Ward.

The steamer City of Pueblo will take the place of the Santa Rosa on the Southern California run, sailing from San Francisco July 13 and 20. She will be returned to the British Columbia and Puget Sound route, sailing from San Francisco July 25.

The Caracao will take the place of the City of Pueblo, sailing from San Francisco tomorrow with freight for Victoria, Port Townsend and all Puget Sound points of call, including Vancouver, and will load return cargo from these ports except Victoria and Port Townsend, sailing from Seattle July 18. The State of California will take the place of the City of Pueblo on July 18, loading cargo at Tacoma and Seattle only and will cover the sailings for the Southern California route scheduled for the Santa Rosa, beginning July 27.

The Ramona will be substituted for the State of California on the South-eastern Alaska route, sailing from Seattle July 17, and not putting in at Sitka and Taku Glacier. The steamship Delhi will be placed on the Southeastern Alaska route as an extra vessel to supplement the service of the Ramona.

The Queen will make excursion voyages scheduled for the Spokane and will take freight for Killisnoo, Sitka and for other ports when necessary to care for any overflow from the Ramona.

The Umatilla will sail from San Francisco for Nome and St. Michael about August 21. Her schedule sailing from San Francisco north on August 15 will be covered by the Eureka.

The Umatilla on her return from Nome will take the Queen's place on the British Columbia-Puget Sound route, the Queen replacing the State of California on the Southern California route.

CITY AFTER ITS SHARE

Ways and Means Committee Wants Improvement Fund Due.

Presiding for the first time at a session of the ways and means committee since he was appointed to that position by Mayor Hunsbitt, Councilman Wallace took the initiative yesterday afternoon in a movement to get for the city its five per cent of the money collected from street improvement assessments. Heretofore the city has been compelled to custom to wait until all of the assessments were paid before getting its share, which is payable for engineering charges.

Councilman Wallace said he could see no reason why the city should have to wait for its share and give the entire collections to the bond-buyers. He said he felt the city should share equally with these individuals. Other members of the committee felt likewise, and they voted to have an ordinance prepared accordingly.

The committee authorized the sale of $500,000 more of the Broadway-bridge bonds, and also ordered the sale of $250,000 of park and boulevard bonds as recommended by the Park Board at its recent meeting.

COMPOSER DIES SINGING

Chicago Musician, 88, Passes Away Humming Own Song.

CHICAGO, July 10.—Singing snatches from his compositions, John J. Jones, noted Welsh composer and vocalist, died yesterday at the age of 88. The 17-year-old granddaughter of the composer sat at the piano. The audience was made up of the four maiden daughters of Mr. Jones—all teachers in Chicago's public schools—who had kept house for him many years, and several other relatives and friends. As the player began to strum the melody of "Congress Street," Mr. Jones' favorite among his compositions, the aged singer took up the words. Al-most as clear and rounded as in earlier years, his voice rose above the accompaniment.

"Play again, child," the aged man requested. One after another, he ran through the repertoire of his own compositions. Then came another favorite to the air "Eva," named by the composer after one of his own daughters.

After a few words the old musician's voice faltered, and he fell back dead.

7 YEARS IS PENALTY

TWO COUNTERFEITERS SENT TO McNEIL'S ISLAND.

Makers of Bad $5 Notes Caught Receiving Spurious Notes in Mail Are Sentenced.

Convicted in the Federal Court of passing counterfeit $5 National bank notes, Lorenzo Rinaldi and Americus Martinelli were each sentenced yesterday by United States Judge Bean to serve seven years at McNeil's Island.

Rinaldi is one of two prisoners in the County Jail who made an attempt to saw their way out of the jail Saturday night. He was transferred yesterday to the dungeon, where he will be detained until arrangements are made by United States Marshal Colwell to send Rinaldi and Martinelli to the Federal prison.

In the arrest and conviction of Rinaldi and Martinelli, the United States authorities believe they have caught the men who for several months operated extensively with spurious bank notes in this section of the Pacific Northwest. The notes were made in Italy and sent through the mails to the two operators in this city, who, for a time, virtually flooded the market with the worthless paper. Paul A. Averb, postmaster at Oakland, Cal., assisted the government in apprehending Rinaldi and Martinelli, both of whom were arrested in California.

About the time the Secret Service men were ready to arrest the pair, they left Portland, but were found at Oakland, Cal., where they ordered their mail sent from Portland. In one of the letters forwarded from this city there were 25 of the counterfeit notes. Martinelli took this letter to the Oakland office and was arrested immediately. Rinaldi was caught at Fresno just after he had received through the mails another installment of the same counterfeit bills.

The operations of Rinaldi and Martinelli marked the first appearance of counterfeit money in this district for more than a year. A counterfeit $100 gold certificate, printed on the same paper used by the government in printing its currency, has appeared in the East. None of these counterfeiters, however, has been found on the Pacific Coast, the supposition being that they have not been given general circulation.

"The issuance of counterfeit bills on the same paper that is used by the government is a clever proceeding," said Stephen A. Connell, Secret Service agent in this city, yesterday. "It is done by taking genuine bills of the smaller denominations, generally a $1 note, putting it through a bleaching process and then printing the larger denomination. Counterfeit bills of this type are the most dangerous as well as the most difficult to detect. Nothing that approaches them for appearance of genuineness has been circulated since 1898."

"It was in that year the counterfeit Monroe-head $100 certificates appeared. At that time the spurious notes were perfect in appearance and could not be detected from the original. The result was that the government called in all of the notes of that denomination and destroyed the entire issue."

8-HOUR LAW IS HIT

Attorneys Cry Discrimination Against Hotelmen.

SUPREME COURT LISTENS

Ex-Senator Filing, Grilling Statute, Says It Prevents Intelligent Women From Rising Above Plane of Manual Labor.

HONEYMOONERS TIED AGAIN

First Wedding Illegal, Judge Cleeton Performs Second Marriage.

San Francisco, July 10.—The legality of the women's eight-hour law was contested before the state Supreme Court today, when the petition for release on habeas corpus of Frank A. Miller, a Riverside Hotel man arrested for its violation, came up for a hearing.

Arguments against the law's constitutionality were made by ex-Senator Flint and W. A. Purinton and were answered by Attorney-General Webb and William Denman, legal representatives of the state and local labor Council.

man in a position of authority or trust precedes her subordinates to work and is the last to leave. This would necessitate her working over the eight-hour limit.

Purinton attacked the law on constitutional points. He holds that it is discriminatory, because it makes exceptions of boarding and lodging-houses as against the hotels and also leaves the fruit industry out of its operation.

In reply, Attorney-General Webb argued that the Government had the right to classify these various employments as it wishes and that they are not matters for judicial review. Chief Justice Beatty asked him how it was that the act let women work longer in a boarding-house than in a hotel. Webb said the Legislature considered there was a difference between the two classes of employment.

The same theory, that the Legislature was the master of the law, was advanced by Denman. This provoked Justice Henshaw into asking how could the law make the safe-guarding of the health of women up to a certain point, and then make the interest of the fruit-canners paramount. The Justices expressed the belief that fruit-canning was more unhealthy than hotel work.

"This is the second time we have been married," said Mrs. Arthur Hildebrand, until a few seconds before Ruby Rogers, when Judge Cleeton had pronounced her and Hildebrand husband and wife yesterday.

"What!" exclaimed the judge, glancing at the two. The bride is hardly 18 and the young man not a day more than 21.

The couple obtained a marriage license July 2, and were to have been married the following day. The clergyman they had arranged for failed to come and the bride's father went to the White Temple, where the Christian church convention was in progress, and returned with a California minister.

"Papa took him out into the hall and he said he was certain that he could marry us legally, that it made no difference what state a minister came from," the bride sobbed.

The young people discovered yesterday afternoon that the California clergyman had no right to marry them, not being registered in Oregon.

A Home Recipe for Removing Wrinkles

(From Woman's National Journal)

Who will blame the modern woman for trying to look as young and attractive as she reasonably can? Why should she be placed at a disadvantage in numerous ways by wearing wrinkles, if she can avoid these hateful marks of advancing age?

Few women, however, know what to do to effectually rid themselves of wrinkles or sagging. None of the advertised preparations is satisfactory and most of them are very expensive. But a very simple and harmless home remedy, which any woman can make, will work wonders where all the patent preparations fail.
