

PRESS OF MEXICO LITERALLY FREE

Swarm of Periodicals Loses No Time in Availing Itself of Liberty.

ADVERTISERS MORE COY

Madero Administration Tells Editors to Print Anything They May Choose—Letters From People Are New Feature.

MEXICO CITY, July 13.—The Mexican Press is "free." That it should be was one of the many things promised by Madero, and local publishers did not wait for him to be formally elected before beginning to exercise their newly acquired right.

The government is sure that the liberty of the press is the best way to obtain the efficient help of all newspapers as to realize completely the ideas of the present government," he said in a public statement on the subject.

Many New Papers Born.

That this unrestricted expression is stimulating has already been demonstrated; whether it will prove intoxicating remains to be seen. Since the advent of Madero a dozen new periodicals have been born, and as many more are said to be projected. Lack of advertising doubtless will force many of these youngsters into a premature grave, but the only reason apparent for their being in some instances is that some one wishes a medium of public expression.

Most of the new periodicals are small magazines, the majority devoted to the publication of satirical verse and prose, illustrated with caricatures. No one is to be taken for granted, however, as some of the magazines are of a high order of literary merit. The weekly "El Ahuizote," a publication resurrected. This magazine first appeared years ago, but because of its cartoons of Limantour and other public men was suppressed.

The daily newspapers give most lively evidence of this "freedom." "El Independiente," a paper which has always been progressive, has inserted under its head the words "Diario Independiente," and independent it is. It publishes news and comment regarding how it will be resented by Madero and his friends, for whom it pretends no love.

People Enjoy New Freedom.

The public also has caught the spirit of free speech, and almost all the papers publish columns of comment furnished by readers. Most of it is signed by the writer's own names. In this comment, and in the editorial columns, the political questions are freely discussed. Madero is criticized as well as praised, and those who would like to see another president elected do not hesitate to say so.

News which never would have been reported during the days of Diaz is now published under six-column heads and in 10 point type. The capital now, too, has its "yellow press." On the whole, the people appear to welcome the "freedom."

"We're free!" appears to be the unspoken idea in the minds of thousands of the poorer people of the capital and perhaps furnished the explanation of scores of curious sights to which the old resident has not become accustomed. It is not uncommon to see hundreds of men, women and children, not all of them poor—wandering about on the grass of the Alameda during a band concert. In the days of Diaz none ever trod that grass with impunity.

Notwithstanding signs that warn the public not to use the platform, the famous monument to Juarez, the snowy marble columns are not infrequently black with hundreds of ragged men and children, who are to be heard a band or to witness a parade in the street.

For a time taking a prisoner away from a policeman was a favorite amusement, but this diversion has been checked almost altogether, but not yet does an officer of the law insist upon his duty without seeing an expression of surprise on the faces of the ragged populace.

"They are 'free' and to learn that there are yet restrictions is disappointing.

OUTLAW SUSPECTS MISSED

Breakwater Searched but Many Leave Steamer at Astoria.

Detectives Day and Hyde and Captain Speler, of the Harbor Patrol, hurried down the Willamette River yesterday to information from Marshallfield that men thought to be the robbers of the Shasta Limited were aboard.

The detectives boarded the Breakwater at St. Johns and scrutinized all the passengers, but found none who fitted with the description of the men who held up the train. Officers of the breakwater said several passengers got off at Astoria, but not knowing any passengers were suspected, they paid little attention to them that they could not say if they answered the description furnished by the mail clerks who were held up.

ENEMIES OF WILEY SCORE

Do I look frightened? All I know is that a copy of the charges was sent me about a week ago, and will make reply to them through Secretary Wilson to the President. Un-der the President sees fit to make that statement public, I have nothing to say.

Strikebreaker Hurt in Fight.

FOR SAYS HE OFFERED TO WORK FOR GOVERNMENT FOR NOTHING.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Dr. Rusby has written a defense of his position to Secretary Wilson. Dr. Rusby asserts that the hearing on which he was condemned was one-sided; that so far as he was concerned he did not care for his name to be labeled by the bureau, and that the compensation arranged did not really profit him greatly, as he had to arrange for substitution in his college work.

has written a defense of his position to Secretary Wilson. Dr. Rusby asserts that the hearing on which he was condemned was one-sided; that so far as he was concerned he did not care for his name to be labeled by the bureau, and that the compensation arranged did not really profit him greatly, as he had to arrange for substitution in his college work.

In his letter to Secretary Wilson he declares that any responsibility for illegality in his employment must rest with the officials who employed him and that charges made against him must be withdrawn or the persons who made them will suffer the just penalties.

Dr. Rusby has been head of the New York College of Pharmacy 23 years and was formerly president of the Torrey Botanical Club and chairman of the board of scientific directors of the New York Botanical Gardens.

At his home in Newark, N. J., today Dr. Rusby would see no one, but asserts that he had said all he proposed to say in his letter to Secretary Wilson, and had only this to add—that he did not propose to be labeled and that the matter to a finish.

Dr. Rusby later added that he had originally offered his services to the Federal Government for nothing, but was informed that such an arrangement was not possible. Dr. Rusby said that he then asked that he be paid what his services are worth and the Department of Agriculture was then entered into.

The executive committee of the committee of 199 on national health of the American Association for the Advancement of Science today sent the following telegram to President Taft: "We respect the services of Dr. Wiley and Professor Rusby are of such great value that we earnestly hope no action will be taken against them. We respectfully urge that a technically ought not to be employed to afford a reason for removing such honorable and loyal public servants."

WELSHMEN CHEER INVESTED PRINCE

Holiday Throng Greets Royal Visitors in Quaint Old Castle of Wales.

CEREMONY IS IMPRESSIVE

Ermine and Coronet Bestowed by King, Authorize Boy to Hold Country in Trust for England. Superb Day Lends Charm.

CARNARVON, Wales, July 13.—Edward Albert, eldest son of George V of England, saw thousands of cheering Welshmen, lines of troops, bluejackets and marines and emissaries from foreign countries vent a sincere welcome to him as he passed along the route from Griffiths' Crossing to the old Castle of Carnarvon where he is invested with the insignia of the Prince of Wales today. Crude Welshmen from the rural districts rubbed elbows with the efforts of the South in the great holiday throng that greeted the Prince. A matchless day added beauty to the royal festivities.

The American Embassy was represented at the investitures by Secretary Phillips, American Consul-General Griffiths and Mrs. Griffiths were present as guests of the Earl of Devon, Lord-George, member of Parliament for Carnarvon district.

Carnarvon was entered by the north road, and the party proceeded through the main street to the great castle square. Here the mayor and corporation received the royal visitors and presented addresses. From the castle square to the first entrance in the castle there were two processions, that of the Prince of Wales preceding that of the Majesty. At a few minutes the Prince entered the castle at the ancient water gate on the sea front.

As he passed in the standard was hoisted on the Eagle Tower, while the Royal Welsh Choir of 400 voices sang. The King and Queen followed. As they entered the castle, the Prince's flag was lowered and the royal standard ran up.

The party proceeded to a raised platform in the center of the great inner courtyard, where the investiture took place. At the King and Queen appeared in the open air, the choir sang "God Save the King."

This was followed by the singing of "God Bless the King of Wales." The Prince appeared and approached his parents, who had taken their places on the dais.

The Prince, in his surcoat, cloak and mantle of crimson velvet, presented himself before the King, who placed a crimson velvet cap ornamented with ermine and a coronet on the Prince's head, signifying that he must be a husband to his country and a father to his children. While His Majesty was investing his son with the insignia of the Prince of Wales, the Prince to hold the principality of Wales in trust for the King of England were read and later handed to him.

CABDRIVER KILLS RIVAL

WALLA WALLA, Wash., July 13.—Luring Dallas Marquis, hackdriver, to a dark corner at an early hour today, William Meineke, driver of an independent line, shot and fatally wounded Marquis. Later, at the police station, sent a bullet through his own brain, expiring almost immediately. Just after the shooting of Marquis, Meineke, flourishing a gun, returned to the station, admitted that he shot Marquis but refused to give up his gun, which he kept cocked and pointed at the night officer. He then went out and Patrolman Wilcox was notified. The latter found Meineke and persuaded him to go back to the station, but Meineke would not give up the revolver. As the two entered, Meineke put the gun to his head and pulled the trigger.

Meineke has been drinking heavily of late. He and Marquis were rival drivers, and frequently clashed while seeking fares at the depots.

TILLAMOOK SHOWS FAITH

Commercial Club Says Bayocean Owners Shouldn't Be Discredited.

TILLAMOOK, Or., July 13.—(Special.)—There is considerable disappointment in this city in regard to the action of those who have petitioned for a receiver for the T. B. Potter Realty Co., as it is generally conceded that the company is making good with the construction work and laying the foundation for a great summer resort at Bayocean. A petition is being circulated and freely signed by the business men of this city showing their confidence.

Apart from that the executive board of the Tillamook Commercial Club held a meeting last night and passed a resolution expressing "faith in the integrity and business judgment of the T. B. Potter Realty Company, and as an organization we condemn any attempt to discredit them or their great work at Bayocean Park in the eyes of the public."
