DR. AKED DECRIES JUDGES' RECALL

Renowned English Minister Declares People of West Excel Easterners.

CONGRESS DEEMED ROTTEN

Backefeller's ex-Pastor Believes One Representative Is Stained More Than All Parliament-Nation's Press Disliked.

Unquestioned dislike of the election and recall of judges and the general "election of officers by the people." was expressed yesterday afternoon by Rev. Charles F. Aked. Dr. Aked was at one time pastor of Pembroke Baptist Church, Liverpool, England; later pasor of Rockefeller's Fifth-avenue Baptists Church, New York, and at present its head of the First Congregational Church, of San Francis

At the same time, Dr. Aked qualified his criticisms by declaring that he was hinaware of the exact political situation in the West and that this ignorance hwas the greatest drawback he had to muffer.

The famous clergyman discussed American newspapers in general, declaring that while their reporters are mt times inaccurate, he knew of but one instance where his efforts to make American newspapers retract misstate-ments had been met with success. He criticised the East and Eastern people unfavorably as compared with the people of San Francisco and the West generally. He said Westerners were more artistic, knew more of literature and are far more cultivated than their brethren of New York.

Recall Opposed Strongly.

His English prejudices, American thurches, American conditions, political and otherwise, "rambling religious rubbernecks" and many other subjects were discussed by Dr. Aked in the course of a journey from Portland to Gladstone, where Dr. Aked was under engagement to speak on "The Strong-est Man on Earth."

"I cannot reconcile myself to the election of all officers by the people," declared Dr. Aked. "Election and reall of judges are particularly objectionable to me. Of course, I do not tionable to ma. Of course, I do not know how the system works out in the West. I merely speak as the sit-uation strikes me. Why should judges be elected by the people and why should they be recalled? Their dignity and prestige is more than detracted from

A suggestion of possible political corruption was made and the question was asked whether in the election of members of the British Parliament, where the direct primary is unknown, corruption was not rife.

Our Congress Thought Corrupt.

"I believe," replied Dr. Aked, "that there is more corruption in the elec-tion of a single member to the House of Representatives than in the election of the whole 670 members of the British Parliament."

man of purpose.

The weakness of an American news-The weakness of an American news-paperman is first of all that his 'copy' must be interesting," he said. "In Eng-land the first requirement is that he reports what is said. I believe that not one American reporter in ten knows anything of shorthand. The very words used show the difference. In England they say 'copy' but here it is 'story." I think their text is writ-ten with less prejudice than is the ten with less prejudice than is the case of ceriain English newspapers."

London Paper Assailed.

Harmsworth's London Daily Mail Dr. Aked described as a "wicked dirty, contemptible paper." In England, he asserted, a newspaper would deliberately misquote a man for political or "The devil himself could not hatch up more deliberate twisting and turn-ing of a man's remarks." was another expression used by the man who be-came known far and wide—inaccurate-ly so, declares the doctor—as Rock-

Questioned as to the deacon of the Fifth-avenue Church who declared that Dr. Aked wanted to be surrounded by Ir. Axed wanted to be surrounded by "rambling religious rubbornecks," the San Francisco pastor said that the man quoted as making the statement pur-ported to be one of his warmest friends. "I waited daily for him to deny the quotation, and when several days had passed I was compelled to believe the statement was correctly attributed."

New Yorkers Called Ignorant.

Dr. Aked did not say what had been the trouble in the Rockefeller Church, which he asserted was one of the most liberal in the country, but he was most emphatic in his declarations that the average New Yorker "knew nothing of art, literature or the higher things of

"In San Francisco I feel I am doing the same work I did in Liverpool. Only on a grander, higher, better scale. I left England because I did not want to be dependent on my friends. My work there was one of pathos. Although there were several members capable of buy-ing up every church in Liverpool, my salary did not permit me to save money for illness."

Dr. Aked said that at that time he elid not expect to live long; that for 15 months the members of his church kept him at Davos, Switzerland, in the hope of recovering from tuberculosis, but the climate seemed to make it certain that recovery was hopeless.

"My sympathles are wholly with American churches, but I prefer the English religious movements." he said.

As he traveled along the Willamette River, Dr. Aked spoke with apprecia-

A request that he speak to an amuse-ment crowd at the Oaks tonight was received by Dr. Aked, but he declined, saying that he is compelled to leave by the Shasta Limited today to be with his San Francisco church next Sunday.

Rockefeller brought from Liverpool to take charge of the Fifth-avenue Baptist Church in New York City, in his lecture on "The Strongest Man in the World," at the Chautauqua this afternoon, declared that the minority usually ruled the majority. The speaker said that the strongest man in the world is the man who stands for the right even though he may stand alone.

"The destiny of the world," said the speaker, "rests with those who stand by their convictions. The man who stands alone, if he is right, is the one who will rule the race."

Dr. Aked pointed out the achievements of Socrates, John Wesley, Cromwell and Lincoln to illustrate his contention that the minority, and even
