

DENEEN DESCRIBES ILLINOIS METHODS

Hopkins' 61 Votes Not There if Enough More to Elect Had Been Added.

LECTORSHIP IS DENIED

Events of Day on Which Lorimer Was Elected to Be Subject of Inquiry Today—Politicians Not "Armor-Plated."

WASHINGTON, July 14.—For nearly six hours today Governor Deneen of Illinois underwent cross-examination by counsel for Senator Lorimer, concerning the testimony the Governor gave yesterday to the Senate committee investigating the election of Lorimer. It is expected that tomorrow the Governor will be examined about the events on the day Lorimer was elected. "Nearly every phase of Illinois politics was entered into by which the Governor was examined in cross-examination of the witness. The testimony constitutes a history of political alignments in Illinois from the time Mr. Deneen was first elected State's Attorney for Cook County, Illinois."

Deneen Denies Dictation.

Mr. Haney sought to show that it was Deneen who organized the Legislature during his term as Governor and not Lorimer, but Mr. Deneen was certain that he did not dictate the chairmen of committees and that Lorimer had attended a conference "somewhere" wherein it was agreed to have the minority Republicans and Democrats organize the House which voted for Lorimer.

Mr. Haney sought to show that if 15 Deneen men had voted for Hopkins on the first day of balloting for Senator, Hopkins would have been elected. Mr. Deneen was not willing to say that all these 15 were full-fledged "Deneen men."

Conclusion Is Wrong.

"Hopkins received 61 votes in the House," said Mr. Haney, "and these 15 more would make 76, and that would have been enough to elect him, wouldn't it, for you say he had a majority in the Senate?"

"Well, 51 and 15 make 76," responded Mr. Deneen. "That far you are correct. Your addition is correct, but your conclusion is wrong. He would have been elected had the 15 who changed their votes, but they would have changed."

Mr. Haney read from Mr. Deneen's testimony yesterday that Deneen and his friends retarded Hopkins' election until the gubernatorial election contest was settled, and asked if the witness had these 15 men in mind when he so testified.

Hopkins' Election "Postponed."

Mr. Deneen said he had in mind Senator Jones, Representative Eul, Brady and others interested in his reforms.

Mr. Deneen could not recall, he said, when his friends first decided or discussed the question of postponing the election of Hopkins, but said he felt it was some time after the balloting for Senator had begun. "I did not have a stop clock on that," he said, "but I said," said Mr. Deneen, when pressed for a more definite answer.

The witness explained that all that was done to postpone the gubernatorial election was to have about 15 men vote for Foss. On the last ballot, he said, they returned to Hopkins.

Mr. Haney asked Governor Deneen about the organization of the Legislature in 1909, when Mr. Shurtliff was elected Speaker by Democratic and Republican votes, and he inquired if the witness wanted to be understood as testifying that Senator Lorimer, in Springfield, or Chicago, or Washington, or any place, or at any time, or in any way, did anything to do with anybody that organized the Legislature?

Lorimer's Hand Suspected.

"I think he was some place where I think they agreed to the organization as put through," replied the Governor.

"Don't you remember that Senator Lorimer made a nonpartisan campaign for deep waterways in 1908, speaking in every county in the state?" inquired Mr. Haney.

"I understood it was a bipartisan campaign in which Lorimer and Congressman Rainey went over the state organizing the deep waterway movement and disorganizing me," replied Deneen.

"They don't wear armor plates out there," declared Mr. Deneen, discussing his relations in Illinois. He said that while he and Senator Lorimer had differed on details of the waterway project, they had always been friendly personally.

STEPHENSON CHARGES WAIT

Senate Committee Too Busy to Take Up Wisconsin Case.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Unless the present session of Congress should be far more prolonged than now appears probable, no final action will be taken on the request for an investigation of the election of Senator Stephenson, of Wisconsin, until next winter.

The Senate committee on privileges and elections considers itself about the busiest organization in Washington. About eight of the 15 members are spending nearly seven hours a day on the Lorimer investigation, while other members are taking part in the reciprocity debate. Under these circumstances, none of the committee has yet read the two volumes of testimony taken by committees of the Wisconsin Legislature, and which was referred to the committee on privileges and elections as the basis for the request for an investigation of the election.

Chairman Dillingham may call a meeting of his committee with a view of appointing a special committee to report on a course of action at the opening of the regular session in December.

Federal Jury Indicts Four.

Frank Robinson, Mabel Robinson, Roy Barker and J. P. Taylor, all of Harrison, were indicted by the Federal grand jury yesterday afternoon, the first three for violations of the Federal white slave law, and the latter for the theft of two cameras from the forestry service. Barker, it is alleged on two counts, transported Pearl Christie from Seattle to Portland on May 8, Frank and Mabel Robinson are indicted on three counts each for assisting on May 29 in transporting Lulu Turner from Seattle to Portland in violation of the white slave law. Taylor is alleged to have stolen the cameras on April 1, they being worth $40 and $25 respectively.

EUGENE, Or., July 14.—(Special.)—The historic old Oregon-California stage highway is in process of being rediscovered by autoists. One of its features is the famous mistletoe tree, in the vicinity of Bailey Hill, southwest of this city, marking a winding, smooth road through picturesque foothill orchards, vineyards, and past ancient homesteads.

One of the largest oaks in the country, the monarch is discernible for a long distance on the highway. This is the route of the old Ben Holladay stage in the '60s, while the modern automobile tourist nowadays travels by another route along the Coast fork of the Willamette, toward Cottage Grove and Roseburg.

TIMES CASES SET

McNamaras to Be Tried for Murder October 1.

Woman May Be in Contempt for Refusing to Answer Whether She Saw One of Defendants Throwing Dynamite.

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—John J. McNamara, the labor leader and his brother, James B., will be brought to trial October 1 on the first of the 19 murder indictments found as a result of the explosion which wrecked the Times newspaper building in October of last year.

The date was set today by Judge Bordwell as a compromise between the contending claims of defense and prosecution. The defense wanted the case delayed until next December, while the prosecution insisted upon trial not later than August 1.

Joseph Scott, for the defense, declared that the "procedure followed in bringing the accused brothers to the court" was a "disgrace upon the court."

"There is no reason for your making that remark," Mr. Scott said. "I am sorry you said it."

Scott said the prosecution had taken days and weeks to obtain the views of experts on the explosion and the lives of 15 employees lost their lives. He said the defense wished to make scientific investigations and urged that the trial be not set before December 1.

Prosecutor Fredericks said the prosecution wished to be as fair as was consistent with duty, but thought the best time for the trial was about September 1.

Judge Bordwell, saying that he must consider both sides, set October 1, and it was agreed that the first case to be tried would be that in which the McNamaras are accused of having murdered J. Wesley Reeves, a Times stenographer, who met death in the explosion.

Arthur Vetch, Assistant District Attorney, filed an affidavit in the Superior Court late in the day containing the questions which Mrs. Ortie McManigal refused to answer when summoned before the grand jury. A citation was issued summoning her to the court next Monday afternoon to answer the questions, or show cause why she should not, or go to jail. The list of questions Mrs. McManigal declined to answer was a long one. Some of the questions were:

"Did you in April, 1911, go to Indianapolis to see J. McNamara?"

"Did you in February or March have any dynamite stored in your premises, at 414 South Halstead street, Chicago?"

"Did you at that time see J. B. McNamara, known as J. B. Bryson, and Frank Sullivan, throw dynamite over the radiator in your home?"

Burns, who came here some weeks ago, it was thought, in connection with the explosion in the plant of the Los Angeles Times, left Bristol yesterday on the Royal George for Montreal. Burns expressed the opinion that the Los Angeles suspects, David H. Caplan and Milton A. Schmidt, were not here.

Reciprocity With Canada to Be Reached July 22—Way Is Left Open for Campaign Publicity Measure.

DATES SET FOR VOTES ON IMPORTANT BILLS PENDING IN SENATE.

July 22—Canadian reciprocity. August 1—Free list bill. August 8—Congressional reapportionment bill. August 7—Arizona and New Mexico statehood bill. The last day named is a "legislative day," and its prolongation will give opportunity to consider the campaign publicity bill if the Senators so desire.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The Senate today agreed upon voting dates for the measures now pending before it. The leaders met at 1 o'clock and soon reached a decision, which presages adjournment soon after August 7.

The agreement followed a series of conferences between Senators Penrose, La Follette, Borah, Smoot, Bailey, Stone, Borah, Bristow and other Senators and was formally offered in the Senate by Senator Penrose as leader of the Republicans.

The original suggestion for an agreement was made by La Follette, Republican insurgent, who was willing to fix an earlier date than that named for the vote on reciprocity. The demand for a later date was made by others, who desired to speak on this bill.

Obstacles Are Overcome.

Many obstacles to fixing the series of dates were encountered. Borah insisted on a date for consideration of the conference report on the joint resolution for the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people, and the vote on statehood was fixed for the "legislative day" of August 7, instead of the calendar day of that date, in order to protect the popular election bill.

As soon as the agreement was reached and reported to the Senate, the acquiescence of the regular Democrats was expressed by Senator Martin.

"We think ample time has been allowed for the debate of all measures," said Martin.

La Follette agreed that all interests in debate had been consulted and that it had been deemed wise to agree upon dates when all of the important bills now pending could be disposed of.

Reciprocity Debate Near End.

The reciprocity debate will be quickly terminated and other bills taken up for discussion tomorrow, it was understood the reciprocity debate was about finished.

Martin said the Democrats would endeavor to secure consideration of the bill before Congress adjourns. Kenyon asked particularly as to this bill.

Penrose said it had been impossible to get an agreement on more bills than those named, but that the Senate would be free to take up the publicity bill if it so desired.

The agreement to vote is so drawn that amendments may be voted on at any time. Bristow called attention to the fact that this would prevent the bill from leaving Washington until the day of the votes.

"If they do, they may find their bills amended when they get back," he added.

Cummins introduced new amendments to the reciprocity bill today. One sought to couple a revision of the bill with the reciprocity measure; the other proposed a revision of the duty on rielcloth and linoleum.

BRIDGE-CLOSING IS NIGH

Order to Keep Spans Shut at Certain Periods Is on Way.

Washington advises yesterday set forth that regulation for the evening closed hours on local bridges will be mailed today by chief of Engineers Elix and that they should be received by Major McIndoe, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., about Wednesday and be placed immediately in force.

The order of August 4, 1910, establishing the morning closed periods, has not been altered as to time, only being amended to include the evening hours which will be from 5:15 to 5:45 o'clock and from 6 to 6:30 o'clock. The morning hours are from 6:30 to 7 o'clock; 7:15 to 7:45 o'clock and 8:05 to 8:30 o'clock, which will close the bridges to vessels two hours and 25 minutes every day. It is provided that ocean-going vessels of 250 tons and over shall be passed through the bridges at all hours.

The order is the result of petitions generally signed by state, county and city officials, fraternal organizations and commercial interests, which were forwarded to the War Department, being heard at a time when Major McIndoe was at Washington and he interposed an objection in the interest of navigation.

CHILDREN WELCOME TODAY

Manager Cordray Throws Oaks' Gates Open Free to Youngsters.

Children will be admitted free to The Oaks amusement park this afternoon, following instructions, issued by Manager Cordray:

"All youngsters under 12 who attend the public schools will find the gates open to them." Mr. Cordray asks that a parent or guardian accompany children, but does not mind how many children each older person brings. The more the merrier, he says.

The park is abounding with amusement for the youngsters, from the menagerie to the ostrich farm and bathing pools. Several thousand children are expected to avail themselves of Mr. Cordray's invitation.

Several of the provinces of Canada showed a decline in the value of their farm products last year from the figures of 1909.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—

The 49th annual convention of the National Educational Association closed here tonight. Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, of Chicago, retiring president, in her closing address said that "the first and most noticeable thing about the meeting is the mutual understanding at which the two factions of the association have arrived. Both find that they are not so far apart as they supposed."

"The rank and file of the teaching force has shown deepened interest in all that has been done. Addresses made on the subject of teachers and teaching have enabled the teachers to realize the appreciation in which they are regarded by the public."

Tonight's programme included an address on "Progress in Public Education" by Francis G. Blair, superintendent of public instruction of Illinois and one on "Peace in the Schools," by Katherine D. Blake, a principal in the City of New York.

Miss Blake is the newly-elected treasurer of the association. In her address she advocated the teaching of the dignity and heroism of peace, proposed an organization of "schoolboy friends and schoolgirl friends" to replace the "Boy Scout" movement, and suggested "making peace picturesque."

Falling Hair You Run No Risk When You Use This Remedy

While many people in their prime doubt the assertion that the hair of our heads is numbered, yet there is today many a man and woman fast reaching the point where this statement is literally brought home to them. If you suffer from irritation of the scalp, and from dandruff, or if your hair is falling out, do not wait until you reach the point where you can actually count how many hairs are left on your head.

Most cases of baldness are caused because the roots lack proper nutrition. In such cases there is a microbe which bore through the scalp along the line of the hair into the root and when it lodges there it begins to destroy the fatty matter around the hair roots. When the scalp and hair roots are strong and healthy, it is impossible for these microbes to get in their deadly work.

We can promise you that if your hair is falling out, and you have not let it go too far, you can repair the damage already done by using Rexall "33" Hair Tonic. It is a scientific, cleansing, antiseptic, germicidal preparation, that destroys microbes, stimulates good circulation around the hair roots, promotes hair nourishment, removes dandruff and restores hair health. It is as pleasant to use as pure water, and it is delicately perfumed. It is a real toilet necessity.

We want you to try Rexall "33" Hair Tonic with our promise that it will cost you nothing unless you are perfectly satisfied with its use. It comes in two sizes, price 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it only at The Owl Drug Co., Inc., corner 7th and Washington Streets.
