HENDERSON HOPE IN COMING SERIES

Big Twirler of Beavers Has Had Good Luck Against San Francisco.

SEALS HAVE NEW FIELDER

Waivers Asked on Veteran Harry Melchoir-Report That Pitcher Lamline Will Go to Beavers Denied by Williams.

BY ROSCOE FAWCETT. Benny Henderson, "woof! woof!" Indian of Santee reservation repute, has been chosen to begin Portland's revenge on the slipping San Franciscan Seals this afternoon at Coast League park and Ben, accordingly, turned out the cat while balldom's moon swung low in the heavens list night.

Mohler's mammals carry the shade over McCredie's Beavers with a margin of seven games to five this season, but with Steen in shape, Harkness on deck and Henderson primed for a couple of starts this week, McCredie figures on shipping them back to the Bay City completely routed. Henderson both the games annexed by the Beavers in the last 'Frisco series here when Mobiler took three in five, so is counted on to swing the balance of power to the proper channels.

Oakland is diving into O'Rourke's Sacramento bunch on its own battlefield this week, so it will be a befitting time for Portland to arise on masse Its hind feet and strew the local lot with San Francisco fragments; else the Wolverton wolves will be howling ferociously at Beavers' heels on Cal Ewing, who accompanies the Seals on this trip northward, will probably start Henley or Moskiman in today's inaugural event, with Sutor a Certainty for either Wednesday of Thursday. The big southpaw won a brace of games for San Francisco over the Oaks last week, $-3 on Tuesday and $-1 on Saturday. Smith, the new outfielder, who is expected to inject more speed into the Seals' outfield. will be here during the week and from his last season's record with the Lynchburg club in the Virginia League he looks rather promising. His 1918 performances as shown in the record book are as follows:

Gens. AB R H TB SH SB P.C. 127 467 67 132 155 10 44 .281 Smith will supplant Right Fielder Harry Melcholr, on whom Ewing has asked waivers after three years of service for San Francisco. Melcholr is a good hitter against right-hand twirlers but is helpless before the slants of a southpaw.

Walter McCredie, Beaver boss, filed himself to Tacoma yesterday to look over the Portland Northwesterners in the opening game against Tacoma, and as per predictions, Lamline, the big right-hander, was sent into the fray, winning his game. Lamline, it is ru-mored, is to be awitched to the Coast League on September 30, the day be-fore the class B circuit winds up its

10 career. Nick Williams denies knowledge of uch a deal. "Judge McCredie told me today that Portland would have a team in the Northwestern League next season and that means that Lamline will not go to the Coast League, for we would never get him back through the waiver ambuscade," declared Manager Nick over long-distance from Tacoma

A peculiar feature of last week's bumping in the Vernon-Portland series is revealed by a study of the box scores. Carlisle, the crack Vernon center fielder, who won the opening 1-9 game with a home run over the right field fence, went through the rest of the week without registering another For a man cracking the cork at a 297 clip a week's play with an average of .050 is quite a slump, but that his lonesome single should be a homer, with the winning tally, is all the more unusual. Vernon was outbatted by the locals last week, 270 to 215. Burrell was high man on both teams, with an average of .454. Hasty broke into the game with 33 in two games.

A San Francisco statistician has figured it out to his own satisfaction that the Seals have the fastest infield quartet in the Coast League with Tennant, Mohler, McArdle and Vitt kicking up

Best of Contests.

Introducing high-class tennis and many new players, among them being Charles E. Foley, one of California's ranking racqueters, the 13th annual Oregon state teanls tournament opened yesterday on the courts of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club. Twentynine matches were decided yesterday, the best of which was that between

Foley and L. R. Richardson, the Seattle crack, which Foley won, 6-4, 5-7, 6-2. Foley lived up to his reputation, which had preceded him from San Francisco, his home, proving himself to be a speedy, confident and heady player. His was a spectacular showing Foley played a remarkable driving and placing game, using his back-hand stroke to good advantage, and alter-nating with the cutting style of play. The Californian used a straight, speedy service, of which Wickersham's is an example Richardson's playing in the second set of the match was quite re-markable, his returns of many of loy's hard drives being extremely difficult pieces of play,

Dark Horse Wins.

The Scattle Tennis Club sent a "dark horse" to the tournament in the person of Alian McCutcheon, who is entered in the doubles with Richardson. The visitor handly defeated T. Morris Dunne and S. B. No play among the women entries was seen yesterday, the first of those matches coming today. However, the men's matches were interesting to watch, the defeat of O. P. Morton by Ralph Gorrill being an exceptionally strenuous match, in which three sets decide the victor.

Lewis Beats McAlpin.

J. W. Lewis extended himself to defeat A. B. McAlpin, the match running three sets. David Jordan also bested L. M. Starr in three sets. Lewis and Foley won the only men's doubles match of the day, defeating James Shives and O. P. Morton, in straight defeating James

LAMLINE IN GREAT FORM

Mike Lynch Helps by Leaving Bert Hall in Box After He Shows Incurable Wildness--Casey's Double Play Feature.

TACOMA. Wash., July 17.—(Special.)

—Mike Lynch's chicken-heartedness was in part the cause of a 6-to-2 victory obtained by Portland at the local ball farm today. Although Bert Hall demonstrated at the very outset of the game that he was suffering from an incurable wildness, Mike kept him, on the slab until he was in such a hole that the case was almost hopeless when that the case was almost hopeless when "Tex" Baker was called to take up the game, but whenever the locals did get a start, either fate or Baumgarten would cut them off so there was little interest. Baumgarten had a rather strenuous week of it in Spokane, but present indications point to a still more strenuous week in this city.

The reasons for Tacoma's inability to win, however, were many. In addition to Bert Hall's poor start, Lamline was in perfect form. Five hits were made off his delivery, but they were scattered and the locals had little chance to do anything when there were men on bases. The visitors, however, had their batting eyes with them and made hay while the weather was fair. 10 K. M.—Court No. 2. Miss Killner and mith vs. Miss MacMaster and Machengle; ourt No. 3. Although he pitched a game which was almost hopeless, "Tex" Baker demonstrated that he had "the goods." His outdrop curve pleased the fans, who predicted that he will be a winner when he gets a chance to start a game, and that he will shine in the center of the stage from the beginning. The youngster worked with all the coolness of a veteran and mixed his delivery well.

The Portland club has changed some since its first appearance here and appears to be a much faster organization. If the talent holds up to the precedent set by Lamline, the Tigers are due for a slide. Some of the regular Roadsters are on the hospital list, but the club seems to be going at a gait which will keep the Bengals hustling for the rest of the series.
