Pitcher Is Fairly Liberal With Hits and Passes but McCredie's Men Give Him Faultless Support Throughout Afternoon.

Henley was not so fortunate, for the error column in the San Francisco tally sheet is decorated with a couple of black marks, both of which counted for runs seered. But that one hiff that circulated over the right garden wall, from the bat of one B. Ryan, some enoughs personage in Bartland than popular personage in Pertland these days, would have proven plentiful in the effort to score a victory for Portland. The two entra Beavers' runs cored on errors were superfluous.

Ryan Gets Home Run.

Byan's home run came in the fourth inning and made the second tally for the home club, as one run had been for the home club, as one run had been hung up on Hamley in the opening inning. A double play from Peckin-paugh to McKune to Rapps pulled Henderson out of a ticklish situation with two Senis on and one out it the opening inning, and then came the Beavers' that the state of the BUDDY RYAN seems to have it all over the famous "Ping" Hodie in the matter of making home runs, for the Portland man has been noted for kiting the ball out of the Vaughn street lot on frequent occasions, while Bodie, during the two years he was with the Scals, made only one of his many homers on the Portland grounds.

Stovall tucked away their minth conscitution, and this morning finds the "hopeless" Naps tied with Boston for fourth place, and Chicago but seven points above—like to file.

The Oaks have picked up a young-ster from the California bushes named Leo Bohen, who is rated as a promising young pitcher. Bahen pitched for the Napa team, the club which produced Oscar Vitt, of the Scal team, and the youngster is recommended most highly to Wolverton, who intends to give him a thorough tryout. a thorough tryout.

At least such is the declaration of Owner Somers, who also announces his 1912 nitching Benny Henderson yesterday, there is not much danger of his breaking many of them. He fanned thrice.

McCredie is anxious for Nick Williams to give Young Carrigan, the Sac-ramento "rooky," a thorough tryout with the Northwestern Club, for the Beaver leader thinks the youngster has the stuff. Carrigan will join Wil-liams next Monday when the Roadsters come home for a stay of two weeks, as the Beavers only play two weeks in the Southland next excursion into the California country.

Harry Wolverton, leader of the Oaks, has been offered the job of managing the Newark Club, of the Eastern League, but he declined the position, as he says he is well satisfied with the Pacific Coast League. Wolverton has Pacific Coast League. Wolverton has had fine success on the Coast, and is pilot of a successful team in the best minor league in the country.

It is absurd to think that Ryan is the whole Portland team, for it takes more than one man to win a ball game. He must have eight other helpers. Close decisions played a prominent part in Portland's victory over Tacoma today, 4 to 3. Both sides were affected, but Umpire Baumgarten demonstrated beyond all reason of a doubt that he is not a "homer" in any sense of the word, despite the reputation the visitors gave him to that effect as a result of the series in Spokane.

In the fourth inning, with Pettigrew on third base, Schmutz had two strikes on Mensor. The Portland outfielder was given apparent strikes, from the Tacoma viewpoint, but Mensor walked, and a single by Harris and an error by Abbett gave the visitors two runs.

In the seventh inning Baumgarten had a close call with the Portland team when he called Lynch safe at second on a close play. It could have been called either way, and Baumgarten said "safe." The visitors did everything but strike the arbitrator, and Coltrin, probably the least offensive, was put out of ably the least offensive, was put out of
