Hundreds of Immigrants on Ship From Infested Ports to Be Examined.

ITALIAN OFFICIALS HELP

Government Quarantine Counted on to Relieve Burden at American Ports of Entry—No Additional Deaths Occur.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Another ship from the cholera country anchored in quarantine today and added to the company of several hundred immigrants who must undergo individual bacteriological examination before they are permitted on the mainland.

The steamer was the steamer Principe di Piemonte, from Genoa and Naples, cities which have furnished most of the cholera cases thus far imported. Under the strict Federal rules she will be detained 15 days and the period may be longer if it is found that many of her crew or passengers have the disease.

Owing to the quarantine regulations recently enforced by the Italian government on immigrants before they sail, the health authorities here hope future arrivals from Mediterranean ports will give them less trouble than the steamers Moltke and Perugia, which still lie in quarantine. Satisfactory conditions were reported today at both the Swinburne Island Hospital, where the actual cases of cholera are treated, and at Hoffman Island, where the health officers are watching 400 immigrants, whose freedom from the disease is still unproved. No new cases have developed since Sunday and there have been no more deaths since the seventh patient died yesterday at the Swinburne Island Hospital.

LADY IS SECRETIVE

Ethel Barrymore Declines to Talk of Troubles.

"AFFAIRS MINE," SHE SAYS

If Anything Occurs Which Public Should Know, She Will Tell Later, Is Promise—Will Seek Seclusion in New York.

NEW YORK, July 20.—(Special.)—Looking very tired and almost ill, Ethel Barrymore slipped off the Twentieth Century Limited from Chicago when it reached the West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth-street station today, and was whisked away in a taxi cab by two young women, who met her affectionately.

The absence of her usual sprightly spirits was noticeable. Miss Barrymore and friends with her refused to say whether or not her husband, Russell Griswold Colt, had made any overtures which might mean a step toward reconciliation or whether there was any likelihood that they would meet each other soon. Miss Barrymore said as she stepped into her taxicab: "I do not feel a bit well. It has been an awful trip here from San Francisco. Please excuse me from saying anything. Personal affairs are my own and I intend to keep them to myself. If anything which is of interest to the public that it has a right to know occurs I shall speak of it later—not now. For the present I shall stay in New York somewhere in seclusion, but for how long I do not know."

COAL RATE NOT QUOTED

SUCH IS CONTENTION OF INDEPENDENT UTAH CONCERNS.

Companies Declare They Are Kept Out of Oregon and Other Markets by Railroads.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 20.—An unknown quantity in the market of the Northwest, Utah coal, although recognized as having excellent storage qualities, was never quoted and no rate for its shipment west to Huntington, Ore., ever was made by the railroads.

Such was the testimony offered at today's hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission's special examiner by witnesses from Seattle and Spokane to support the contention of the independent coal companies of Utah that they are being kept out of the larger markets and are overcharged by the railroads handling their output.

F. A. Sweet, president of the Consolidated Fuel Company, under cross-examination today, again declared that his company had suffered losses by reason of the failure of the railroads to furnish sufficient cars.

A. D. Looney, of Payette, Idaho, who appeared as a representative of the Wright-Wilkie Lumber Company, declared that a differential of 75 cents exists in favor of coal shipments from Wyoming to Payette, as against the Utah district. He had made application to the Denver & Rio Grande for a rate on Utah coal, according to his testimony, but received no reply.

Judge Likens Them to "Mississippi Bubble" and Get-Rich-Quick Schemes.

RECEIVER IS APPOINTED

Plea of 233 Creditors of St. Louis Man's Enterprises Is Heard by Federal Court—Woman's League Cause for Argument.

ST. LOUIS, July 20.—The various realty, publishing and other enterprises of E. G. Lewis were compared to the "Mississippi Bubble" and other "get-rich-quick" projects today in the United States Circuit Court by Judge McPherson, who said that if a fraction of the allegations made by creditors who sought a receiver for the concerns was true, the Lewis affairs constituted one of the most gigantic frauds of the century.

Judge McPherson's grilling came when the petition of 233 creditors of the Lewis corporation for a receiver was filed against the property, companies and enterprises of Lewis was granted by him and Judge Dyer.

The court's decision takes the property out of the hands of the reorganization syndicate, which has been in charge for three months. The St. Louis Union Trust Company is the receiver. Suit Filed June 13. The receivership suit was filed June 13. It was alleged the reorganization plan was a scheme in Lewis' behalf to deprive the creditors further of their just claims. A foreclosure suit also was filed against the University Heights Realty & Development Company, the People's Savings Trust Company, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company and Nathan Frank, a trustee. Judge Dyer, early in June, appointed the St. Louis Union Trust Company receiver for one tract of land owned by the University Heights Realty & Development Company. The company has since reported that it found the books relating to the property in a jumble, with many errors and omissions and a tangled mass of debts with other Lewis corporations, particularly the Lewis Publishing Company and the People's Savings Trust Company.

Walter D. Coles, referee in bankruptcy, was appointed to conduct an inquiry into the assets of the concern. The Lewis corporations are capitalized in excess of $400,000.

Whether the American Woman's League, an organization with branches throughout the United States and with a membership which Lewis declares to number 70,000, will be included in the receivership, attorneys were disagreed. Claude D. Hall, who filed the petition in behalf of the 233 creditors, said he was positive that the assets of the league would be included in the property which the receiver is to administer. Eugene H. Angert, attorney for the reorganization syndicate, was just as positive in asserting that it would not be included.

During the receivership hearing the counsel for the reorganization syndicate declared that the University Heights concern had land worth $2,000,000, but that the creditors would lose heavily if the land were placed on the market at this time.

acres of coal lands in the Trinidad coal fields of the Pueblo land district.

The suit is brought in law for damages and not in equity to set aside the patents of the lands, so that the innocent purchasers of the lands may not suffer.

It is recited that the lands were acquired by means of 16 dummy entries, the lands being filed upon in July, 1902, and the complaint alleges that Samuel R. Richie, of Denver, furnished the money with which the lands were bought. Mr. Richie was cashier of the American Smelting & Refining Company at that time.

Guimaraes say severe conflicts have occurred there between the inhabitants and the troops.

When a detachment of the Twentieth Regiment arrived at Guimaraes, where it had been sent as a precautionary measure to prevent outbreaks, the soldiers were greeted in a hostile manner by the people, who jammed the streets and cheered for the church and the monarchy.

Army officers who tried to address the populace were stoned by a mob and forced to seek refuge in the house of Governor Saigado, which was immediately surrounded and besieged until reinforcements arrived. Captain Coucero, the royalist leader, is reported continuing his preparations for an invasion of the frontier. Advertisers from Coimbra report street fighting there as a result of counter demonstrations. Many persons were injured.

A Tonic for the Stomach

The experience of sufferers from stomach trouble, who have tried the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, has been that their trouble has disappeared as soon as the blood was made pure. The numerous disorders of the stomach, as catarrh of the stomach, acid stomach, nervous dyspepsia, neuralgia of the stomach, gastritis, and lack of tone, have the same underlying cause—impure blood. In each case the stomach is weak. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People supply the stomach with the strength it needs by enriching and purifying the blood. Pure blood gives tone to the nerves, muscles, and glands of the stomach and makes it capable of properly performing the work of digestion.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have corrected serious disorders of the stomach, have revitalized the nervous system and restored to health sufferers from severe disorders of the blood and nerves. For rheumatism, indigestion, nervous headaches and many forms of weakness and debility Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are recommended even if ordinary remedies have been tried without relief.

"In the fall of 1905," says Mr. L. G. Coffin, of No. 27 North Mora street, Arleta, a suburb of Portland, Ore., "I began to have stomach trouble, which gradually grew worse until I was not able to work steadily. I wasn't well for the following three years and for three months was unable to do any work at all. I didn't have any appetite and my stomach hurt me all of the time. It was sour and gas was constantly forming on it. I was troubled with constipation and often had sick headaches. I was greatly run down in flesh and strength. I was treated by two doctors but neither did me any good. They pronounced my trouble catarrh of the stomach and said I needed rest. I don't believe they knew what ailed me. Finally I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, a medicine which had been used in our family for a number of years. I felt good effects from their use right away and continued with them until cured. I am able to work every day now and feel much better every way."

A copy of our diet book, "What to Eat and How to Eat," will be sent free on request to anyone interested.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 25 cents per box; six boxes, $1.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.
