

SURPRISES SEEN IN TENNIS TOURNEY

McCutcheon, of Seattle, Is Marathoner of Day, Playing 118 Games.

FOLEY CREEPING TO TOP

San Francisco Lad Walks Through Portland Players With Ease.

BY E. C. SAMMONS.

Beginning in the early morning matches, a series of surprises and flashes of showy tennis yesterday enlivened the Oregon state championship tennis tournament being held on the courts of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club.

It was great tennis, however, during the defeat of James P. Ewing by Allan McCutcheon, of Seattle, early in the morning and the grand finale to a strenuous day's play was the defeat of McCutcheon in the semi-finals of the men's singles by James Shives, of Portland.

Starting the round of surprises was the defeat of James P. Ewing by Allan McCutcheon, of Seattle, early in the morning and the grand finale to a strenuous day's play was the defeat of McCutcheon in the semi-finals of the men's singles by James Shives, of Portland.

McCutcheon Day's Marathoner.

The graceful, clean-cut playing of McCutcheon was much in evidence yesterday, the Seattle racketeer having played in 11 sets, comprising 118 games, during the day.

McCutcheon started in his match with Ewing as though he would win to straight sets, taking the first set, 6-2. He also took the first game of the second set, when the clever Portland man sprang and won 19 consecutive games, giving him the second set 6-1 and 4-0 on the third set.

Lewis and Foley Fight Hard.

Five sets were brought to play before Lewis and Foley could subdue Richardson and McCutcheon, of Seattle, in the semi-finals of the men's doubles.

Miss Schaefer and Foley and Miss Leadbetter and Ewing and Mrs. Judge and Mitchell, respectively, Miss Schaefer and Foley defeated Miss Campbell and Ewing 6-4, 6-4, while Miss Leadbetter-Wakeman team scored over Mrs. Judge and Mitchell in straight sets 6-2, 7-5.

Today's Play to Be Good.

With Nat Emerson at practice, the final tournament rounds in the men's singles and men's doubles, the semi-finals in the women's singles and the grand finale in the mixed doubles, today's program promises to give the best playing of the tournament.

Exempt Firemen Forming.

Plans for the formation of an organization to be known as the Portland Exempt Firemen's Association were discussed at a preliminary meeting last night in Baker Hall.

Results.

Men's singles, third round—Gerrill beat Wakeman, 6-2, 6-4; Foley beat Lewis by default.

E. H. GARY'S VIEWS HELD SOCIALISTIC

Parsons, Formerly of Sugar Trust, Says Congress Has No Right to Restrict.

HARLAN IS GIVEN THRUST

Lawyer Says Disaster Would Overtake Country Were Justice's Dissenting Opinion in Standard Oil Case to Obtain in Land.

NEW YORK, July 20.—In an academic discussion of Government relations to corporations this afternoon, John E. Parsons, ex-president of the American Bar Association and former counsel for the American Sugar Refining Company, said to the Congressional committee investigating the sugar trust that the proposition of E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, for Government control of business combinations was "socialistic."

He added that in his opinion Congress should place no restriction whatever on the physical property—the men behind it must be capitalized. They are worth something to the investor. The capitalization must be on the physical properties, the prospects of the business and the men who are to manage it.

Men Part of Capital.

"Government should permit commerce to take its course," he said. "A great corporation cannot be organized merely on the valuation in dollars and cents of the physical property—the men behind it must be capitalized. They are worth something to the investor. The capitalization must be on the physical properties, the prospects of the business and the men who are to manage it."

W. Waaburn, New York, 6-1, 7-3, 3-6, 6-2. M. E. McLoughlin, San Francisco, defeated H. C. Seaver, Boston, 7-5, 6-1.

Summary of the Touchard-Niles match was 2-6, 6-3, 6-4. M. H. Hall, New York, defeated E. H. Whitley, Boston, 7-5, 6-2, 5-7, 2-6, 6-2.

M. E. McLoughlin, San Francisco, defeated T. H. Pell, New York, 2-6, 6-2, 4-6, 7-3, 6-1.

Fourth round: E. P. Leitch, Summit, N. J., defeated J. H. Chase, Boston, 10-8, 6-2, 6-4.

Eastern doubles championships, second round: J. L. Cota and F. L. Day, New Haven, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

M. H. Long, San Francisco, and C. E. Gardner, New York, defeated J. Inman and A. Holmes, New York, 6-2, 6-2, 6-0.

R. D. Little and G. P. Touchard, New York, defeated J. L. Cota and F. L. Day, New Haven, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

Lead and Clothier defeated E. P. Ware and N. W. Cabot, Boston, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

Longwood singles, fourth round: Richard Bishop, Boston, 6-4, 6-4.

R. D. Little and G. P. Touchard, New York, 6-3, 5-7, 10-8, 7-5.

Eastern doubles championship, fourth round: R. D. Little and G. P. Touchard, New York, 6-3, 5-7, 10-8, 7-5.

W. A. Larned, Summit, N. J., and W. J. Clothier, Philadelphia, defeated R. C. Seaver and T. P. Quinn, Boston, 6-2, 6-4.

R. C. Wright and N. W. Niles, Boston, defeated J. L. Cota and F. L. Day, New Haven, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

TILLAMOOK IS INSPECTED

North Bank Officials View Line of Proposed Extension.

Carl R. Gray, president of the North Bank and the Hill lines in Oregon, accompanied by his son, Carl R. Gray, Jr., W. E. Coman, general freight and passenger agent, and L. B. Wickersham, chief engineer, arrived in Tillamook yesterday, driving in by way of the Wilson River, according to advices received last night.

Trusts Made Party Issue.

"There were 23 refineries in the United States at that time. You yielded 17 of them into the Sugar Refineries Company of 1887," said Garrett. "Can you tell me what efforts were made to get in the other refineries?"

"The only man who can tell you is now dead. That is John E. Searies."

"How long did the Refineries Company last?"

"The change in its affairs began when a political party brought suit to disorganize the North River Refinery Company," said Parsons.

"What party?" cried most of the Congressmen.

"We call it Tammany Hall."

PASTOR REVISITS CITY

MARKED CHANGE NOTED BY REV. G. W. IZER.

Eastern Methodist Congregations Flourish Under Leadership of Pioneer Portland Man.

After 16 years in California and the East, where he has worked in the interest of his church, Rev. G. W. Izer, D. D., founder of the Grace Methodist Episcopal Church and the first permanent pastor of the First Methodist Church in its present building on Taylor street, has returned to Portland to spend two weeks looking over the results of his early-day endeavors.

Dr. Izer came here in 1871 and took the pastorate of the Taylor-Street Methodist Episcopal Church, then just completed. Dr. Izer began his vigorous campaign which swelled his congregation up to a point where the Taylor-street church could not accommodate the crowds.

Work Begun on East Water Street.

Work started on the improvement of East Water street, between Hawthorne avenue and East Morrison street, yesterday, through the orders of Mayor Rushlight and City Engineer Harburt.
