

OREGON PRODUCTS WILL BE BOOSTED

Commercial Club Plans Campaign to Promote Use of Things Made at Home.

MAILORDER FIRMS MARK

Business People Who Conduct Held Bad for Consumer and for Home Merchants Who Are Entitled to Trade of Home People.

"Oregon products for Oregon people," is the slogan to be adopted by the Portland Commercial Club in a campaign to be waged in the near future for the more general use of Oregon products. C. C. Chapman, manager of the club, announced yesterday that he has been working for some time on the campaign and is now nearly ready to make public his plans and ask for a state-wide support of the move.

The plan is aimed at unscrupulous mail-order houses and at what are termed unscrupulous housewives and business people who buy products from other states when Oregon products of the same quality can be purchased at home at less cost.

It is believed the campaign will bring about much better conditions in manufacturing lines, and will go a long way toward inducing more factories to locate here and take advantage of the numerous industrial possibilities.

Oakland Given Pointers.

Manager Chapman has been in communication for some time past with A. A. Dennison, secretary of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, and has secured some valuable information on the way the home-products campaign in California has been run. He is also in communication with the Manufacturers' Association of Utah and the associations of other states where successful campaigns have been carried on.

"At present," said Mr. Chapman, "Portland is buying altogether too many things from the East and from outside western states. Large amounts of money are going to support the factories which do Oregon no good. Every dollar spent in the East is a dollar lost for the West, and is a dollar needlessly spent in injuring our local factories. Of course there is a limit to our patronage. The only home factories which should be patronized are those which turn out standard goods and sell them at a figure the same or less than outside products. Quality and price must be considered in all cases.

Only Worthy Firms Boosted.

"We will not ask for the support by home people of unscrupulous business concerns merely because they put out home products, but we will give every effort to the promotion of those concerns which turn out good products and which can be supported by Oregon people with no greater exertion than the Eastern concerns. In this way we will build up our own industry and furnish employment the year round for thousands of people. It will be investing money in home products for the betterment of home conditions here. As far as order houses are concerned, I believe they are an evil which should be abolished. Pictures in books of goods for sale look good, but they don't always look like the article itself. In some districts of the state I believe the mail order catalogue occupies a place on top of the family Bible. This all means the support of the Western business interests to the injury of home concerns. It hurts business. With our campaign we intend by extensive advertising in various ways to show people the evils of supporting Eastern concerns. It may take some time to spread the news, but I believe the people will appreciate the facts which are presented in black and white. They have in other states, and I think they will here."

Many Articles May Be Home Made.

It is said that at present many articles are being imported which could be made at home. The main reason they cannot be manufactured here is because the Eastern concerns have worked up too strong a support, it is said. In the list of articles named by the Commercial Club as being possible of manufacture here are the following: Glass, ornamental brick, furniture, wooden goods, carpets, metal goods, building fixtures, machinery, electric clocks and watches, wagons and buggies, harness, building materials and cement. Some of these articles are manufactured here at present, but could be manufactured on a much larger scale. It is said, under more favorable conditions.

It is believed the Development League will take a hand in the home-products campaign. In an effort to get the support of that organization arrangements are being made to bring the matter up in a forcible manner at the convention at Astoria in August. It is probably will be by the Portland delegation, and there seems to be no doubt that it will receive unanimous support.

The defendant is allowed until next day to file an answer to the complaint.

SALOON HAS CHANGE

PLACE CLOSED DUE TO SECRET STAIRS MAY REOPEN.

License Committee Favors Revival of License Held by W. F. Parker, Who Blames Al Woblers.

If other members of the City Council look at the situation as do a majority of the members of those present at the meeting of the liquor license committee yesterday, W. F. Parker's liquor license, giving him the right to conduct a saloon at 87 Fourth street, across the street from the Chamber of Commerce building, may be restored.

Parker's license was revoked recently by Al Woblers, whom he left in charge of the saloon, constructed a stairway at the back of the saloon, leading to rooms above. When the case came up in the Municipal Court Judge Farwell held that evidence of the existence of the stairway was not enough under the ordinance; that testimony must also show that it was used for an immoral purpose, to bring about a conviction.

A measure was first brought before the liquor license committee, provided Parker's license, be reinstated, and that the old license be restored. City Attorney Grant told the members of the committee in the East would not be legal, however, and that in spite of this action Parker could be arrested at any time, should he sell liquor under it.

The committee will recommend to the Council that the ordinance limiting the number of saloons in the city be so amended as to give Parker a license.

Councilman Clyde said he thought Parker had been dealt with unjustly, that licenses of other saloonkeepers having stairways ought also to be revoked. Parker said that Al Woblers put in the stairway while Parker was in the East getting married. It developed at the hearing yesterday that the Gambrian Brewery Company holds a power of attorney covering this saloon.

A protest against the granting of a license to P. T. Boyesen, of the Steel Bridge Exchange Saloon, to open a saloon at Adams and Holladay avenue, has been filed with the liquor license committee. No action was taken upon it yesterday. The protest is signed by 34 property owners. They say Boyesen was arrested June 15 for assaulting and beating a policeman who arrested him for violating the liquor ordinance.

ONLY FIREMEN ELIGIBLE

Civil Service Commission Decides on Fire Chief Quiz.

Attorney John F. Logan, P. L. Willis, and A. P. Armstrong, of the Civil Service Commission, decided at their meeting yesterday that only members of the fire department are eligible to take the examination for Fire Chief.

Attorney Logan at first thought that any person who had been in the employ of the city for six years could be made eligible by the commission to take the examination. After investigation he decided yesterday that only members of the fire department could take the examination.

Mr. Logan was instructed to write an opinion on the matter. After consulting section 316 of the charter, he says:

"Construing this section, we are of the opinion that it is practicable to confine the examination to those in the fire department, and we recommend that all persons in good standing within the department be eligible to take the examination for chief of the fire department, on the basis of merit and open competitive examinations, look forward to this day."

It was decided that the examination shall be an extension of the examinations now given for assistant engineer, assistant chief and captain of the fire department. The date of the examination has not yet been fixed. Battalion Chief John Young, Battalion Chief Jay W. Stevens and Battalion Chief Frank B. Dowell are in line for the position. Assistant Chief Laudenklos having declined to seek for advancement. Other members of the department may file applications to take the test.

ASSESSMENTS TO BE TOLD

Extra Clerk Recommended That Owners May Be Notified in Time.

Frequent complaint by property owners that they have failed to receive notices of improvement of the streets surrounding their property until the assessment was made and that they have thereby been prevented from protesting against the cost of improvements, led to the introduction before the ways and means committee of the City Council yesterday of an ordinance providing that hereafter City Auditor Barbur mail each property owner a copy of a notice of the proposed improvement.

As drawn the ordinance provides that a postcard be sent by the auditor to every property owner within the city's contract with the Daily Abstract provides that a copy of the paper containing the improvement notice be sent to every property owner furnished by it and that the City Auditor furnish the names and addresses.

"The reason these notices haven't been sent to every property owner," said Mr. Barbur, "is because the Auditor's office has not enough clerical help to keep up with the work. We need another clerk if we are to get up these lists of names and addresses."

An ordinance was recommended by the committee providing for another clerk at $15 a month. Marked copies were sent to every property owner within the city's contract with the Daily Abstract provides that a copy of the paper containing the improvement notice be sent to every property owner furnished by it and that the City Auditor furnish the names and addresses.

EASTMORELAND

"Forever Endowed with Wealth and Wisdom."

Rented House Ramblers

Question: Were you born in a rented house? If so what are your recollections of Childhood and of Home? Are they not a mere chapter of constant movings from place to place--of always being a sojourner in new localities?

You will agree then, that you started life with a handicap.

And you now realize that a rented house can never be aught but a rented house. That no sacrifice of labor or of money can ever transform it into a Home. For all attempts at such have ever been, to the landlord, just a fair excuse for a higher rental.

Today, all rent-paying house-to-house ramblers have a supreme excuse for coming to a sudden halt. When I say to them "Watch Eastmoreland Now," I supplement this with a real passport to Home-owning--easily within their means. It will bring an automatic increase to their capital, together with liberation from rent-paying--the greatest constant drain on their resources.

THIEVES RAID OFFICES

GOLD WORTH $200 IS SECURED FROM DENTISTS.

Numerous Reports Reach Police Station of Looting of Desks in Downtown Buildings.

Taking advantage of the Sunday holiday, one or more clever, but not calculating, thieves raised havoc in the office building district and are believed to have broken into more than a score of office desks in the Railway Exchange, Board of Trade, Fallings, Marching, Lafayette and other chancery Trust, Lafayette and other office buildings, but gained nothing except a quantity of gold, aggregating about $200, taken from various dentists.

Details of the harvest filtered into detective headquarters all day yesterday. Most serious was the loss of Dr. Tucker, a dentist in the Columbia building, who was robbed of dental gold valued at $150. Dr. W. T. Lyon, who has offices on the Merchants' Trust building, lost a gold crown which was already to be placed in the mouth of a patient--and other gold to make up the sum of $20. Dr. H. B. Garrison, next door to Dr. Lyon, lost $30 and Dr. T. W. Wise, in the same building was robbed of gold worth $35.

In the Board of Trade building, three rooms occupied by Hallow, Guthrie & Co., were entered, but nothing of value was taken.

Four victims are said to have been found in the Railway Exchange building, including Morris Bros., bond buyers, and A. B. Diamond & Co., real estate dealers, neither of whom lost any articles of value.

Railroad Row came in for a thorough rifling, though the gross proceeds were but $5, stolen from a clerk. The ticket office and the general offices of the Great Northern Railroad were broken into, and the ticket office of the Pennsylvania road was entered.

Detectives Coleman and Snow were assigned to the case and were able to report progress yesterday. The thief used a jimmy on the desks, but seems to have entered the doors by use of a master-key which was able to negotiate the most complicated locks.

Last Fall ten rooms in the Lumbermen building were broken open in the same manner, but the thief gained nothing but a few pennies and postage stamps, from the desks of stenographers.

PORTLAND'S DONATION BIG

Rivers and Harbors Congress Thanks City for Its Support.

That Portland will again be one of the largest contributors this year to the National Rivers and Harbors Congress of the United States is evident from a letter received at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday from that organization, acknowledging the receipt of $100 from the Portland organization and expressing thanks for the way Portland has supported the association in the past.

This is one of the periodical contributions made by Portland to the congress, the total annually being from $1000 to $1500. Because Portland is the heaviest contributor to the congress, the harbors and rivers of this

Doctor Tells Cause and Cure of Wrinkles

(From Boston Transcript)

"Stop to consider what produces wrinkles and sagging of skin," said Dr. Elizabeth Bilhn at the Woman's Club last evening. "Premature aging, mal-nutrition, etc., cause the flesh to shrink, lose its youthful plumpness and firmness. The skin then is too large for the flesh underneath; doesn't fit tightly and snugly as it used to--it wrinkles or sags."

"It must be plain that to tighten the skin, make it fit the face perfectly in every place, will effectually remove the hateful wrinkles and bagginess. This is easily and harmlessly accomplished by dissolving in a half pint of witch hazel and using the solution as a face lotion. The ingredients you can get at any drug store. The results are surprising. The skin immediately tightens up, becoming firm and fresh as in youth. Every wrinkle and sag is affected at once."
