had been expected to place Democrats on record today, so far as concerned their preference for a Presidential candidate a year hence, falled to express itself on candidates, or to offer commendations for its own leaders.

It was a peaceful gathering, preceded by much anappy caucusing and the result apparently was satisfactory to everybody. Governor Harmon had a personal representative at the convention, but he explained that his perpersonal representative at the conven-tion, but he explained that his per-sonal business was to get acquainted and look the western field over. No attempt was made to present the name of the Ohio Governor for indorsement and no one else was mentioned.

Leaders Make Peace.

The gathering was called under the state-wide primary law for the purpose of adopting a platform, the candidates for state offices being named at a state-wide primary. The leaders were in conference as early as Monday morning and until an early hour today they were hopelessly divided. Representatives of William J. Bryan and Mayor Dahlman of Omaha, finally Mayor Dahlman, of Omaha, finally came to an understanding. On an agreement to eliminate mention of all amon ground was found on which to stand.

Chairman Harrington, who, previous to the gathering, had indicated some opposition to Mr. Bryan, sounded the keynote of peace in his opening speech. However, he permitted Charles Wooster, a delegate from Merrick County, to offer a motion that the convention vote its preference for a President candidate.

In doing so, he stated to the convention that he would rule the motion out of order because the law provided that the rank and file of the party should express that preference in open prim-

Chinese Sues Alaska Cannery Company for Salmon Packed.

ASTORIA, Or., July 25 .- (Special.)-Taking of testimony began this afternoon before Frank Spittle, as Commissioner of the United States, in the missioner of the United States, in the case of Chin Quong against the Alaska Pishermen's Packing Company. Chin Quong had the Chinese contract for packing fish at the defendant company's Nushagak River cannery in Alaska last season, and he sues to recover about $14,000 he alleges is due him. The contract was for packing him. The contract was for packing 66,000 cases, but only 44,000 cases were put up.
The complaint alleges that the ma thinery was not in proper shape and that neither sufficient material nor fish were furnished. The company as-serts that the machinery was in good order and that sufficient fish and material were on hand to have put up at least 55,000 cases, but that the Chinese did not have men enough, or the right kind of employes, to handle the fish. As a result, it alleges, many salmon had to be thrown overboard, and of the 44,000 cases packed, about 6000 cases were "do-overs," 2000 cases being a total loss.

In settling with Chin the company declares it paid him the full amount on the entire contract for 66,000 cases, but deducted the price of raw fish thrown overboard and the loss of the

The government has accepted de-livery of the yacht American, formerly owned by Evans R. Dick, the New York broker. The American was fitted with eight rapid-fire guns, and Mr. Dick was required to give a bond of $200,000 to the United States Government not to use the guns, as a condition of the is-suance of clearance papers. According to rumors published at the time of the sale of the American two weeks ago, the steam yacht had been acquired by General Castro, deposed dictator of Venezuela. Another report said to have been confirmed by Louis Durand, Haytian Consul-General here, was that the Haytian government had purchased the hoat. Her delivery was delayed because of uncertainty whether the Haytian government could retain possession, as the rebels were threat-

The American was built in 1898 by Archibald Watt. She is constructed of Fouchard was made Chief Executive of the army by President Si-mon in 1908, and a year later was apointed to the Berlin post. Early this year he left the German capital to visit Hayri. At that time it was asserted he aspired to the Presidency.
