Penrose Predicts Veto.
Senator Penrose, chairman of the

The result in the Senate today came with surprising quickness. Through or ganization of the combined forces was apparent from the start. Senator La Follette's woolen bill, offered at first as an amendment to the Underwood bill, received only 14 votes, those of the insurgent Republicans.

The Linderwood bill itself was voted down with equal facility, only the Democrais and Senator Brown of Nebraska.
Supporting it. Then came Senator La
Follette's motion to reconsider the vote.
Democrats having secured their desired record vote on the Underwood bill, joined him in the vote to reconsider.

Senator Penrose, chairman of the ommittee, freely predicted tomay that President Taft would veto any wool measure that might come out of the conference. This statement did not ruffle the Democrats, who announced that they would insist on a cut in rates far deeper than that proposed in the Senate measure.

The Democratic leaders, in fact, are raid to believe that their position po-Stically would be greatly strengthened if Mr. Taft vetoed the bill. The reguiar Republicans seem to view a veto clined to boast that executive disap proval would not be to their disad-vantage. They assert that future tar-iff revision should be scientific. What effect the Senate coalition as perfected today will have upon the date of adjournment cannot be prophe-

House Willing to Adjourn.

The House Democrats are frankly detirous that the session shall end. They declare the wool bill itself will not cause a serious delay in adjournment. The insurgent Senators want to remain in Washington "all Summer" to cenact tariff legislation.

The biff as passed by the Senate to-day was drawn by La Foliette and was a compromise between the Ungerwood bill, which passed the Democratic House, and the La Foliette bill, both of which were forced out of the way

Some idea of the compromise may be had from the proposed rates on raw wool. The House bill proposed a rate of 20 per cent ad valorem. The original La Follette bill proposed 40 per cent. The compromise fixes the rate at 35, It is predicted that the conference will put it at 20.

"Progressives" Want More.

The "progressive" programe is to re-casin in session until action can be had on several schedules named. In view of the action on wool and the contemplated action on cetton, "pro-a ressive" Senators have urged the im-pertance of an immediate reduction in the tariff on machinery and chemicals because of the bearing of these sched ules on the manufacture of cotton and "I would not agree to the bill as it passed the Senate." Mr. Underwood said. "and I do not think the House would agree to it. But I hope to see some sort of wool bill passed, and I hope it will be possible for the two houses to get together on a measure which will satisfy both. I would not stand out for the bill as it passed the House, but would be willing to make some compromise, and I believe the House feels the same way." The agreement under which the wool bill was put through extends to the farmers' free list bill and the passage

The plan is either to tack the various measures on the free list bill as amendments or to take up the sched-ules as independent bills. The "pro-gressive" Republicans are willing to proceed in either way, but they prefer the separate bill system. The Democratic Senators are neither so nearly unanimous nor so enthusias-tic as the insurgent Republicans for a continued revision. They say much will depend on the President's attitude and some of them predict early adjourn-ment if the President vetoes the wool

In offering his amendment La Fol-lette took the position that the re-ductions, if adopted, would compen-sate the farmers at least in part for lard O. Lownsdale, deceased,

It has been suggested that after the disposition in conference of the wool, cotton and free list bills, there be a recess of a month or six weeks to permit the ways and means committee to pro-ceed with its work. The result in the Senate today came Democrats Vote Solidly.

The Underwood bill was then brought back to life and Senator La Follette offered the compromise bill that had been agreed upon. It was attached to the Underwood measure as a substitute for the terms of that bill, and passed by a vote of 48 to 22, all without a hitch or a fumble. Democrats voted solidly. The son told the story of how the Holstlaw family received the blow of the father's confession and of his father telling him that every word of it was true.

Slips Juggled, Says Hancey,

In cross-examining Attorney Hancoy, epresenting Senator Lorimer, said the deposit slips had been juggled, both at the present and at the former Lorimer investigation. In explanation, he absolved attorneys or others connected with the committee from his charge.

The cross-examination ended sudden ly when Hancey persisted in asking the witness, after he said he had no knowledge on the subject, about indictments brought against his father Chairman Dillingham suggested that other witnesses could give better testimony on the point and assured Hanecy that every witness he desired would be compelled to attend the hearings, if possible.

Thomas McGuire, of a Chicago de-tective agency, told of working on the so-called White confession. He was ex-plaining the extent of his work when the committee adjourned for the day.

EX-PORESTER DECLARES CON-TROLLER BAY MESSAGE WEAK.

'Root of Matter Untouched" by President, Is Gist of Statement Issued by Conservationist,

WASHINGTON, July 27 .- "The President's defense of his course in the Controller Bay affair shows how hard it is to make a good excuse for a bad mistake," said Gifford Pinchot, ex-chief of the Bureau of Forestry and now president of the National Conservation Association, in a statement issued to-day. He declares that President Taft, in his message to the Senate "leaves the root of the matter untouched." Concluding, Pinchot says:

"It is unfortunate that the friends of conservation, in their efforts to bring about the development of Alaska for the benefit of the people, are continthe benefit of the people, are confin-ually obliged to expend their strength against the men who ought to be the protectors of the people's proporty. It looks to be like unnecessary duplica-tion of work—when we must first fight the policemen before we can get a chance to stop the looting.

"In spite of all explanations, the fact remains that Mr. Taft, in opening the lands around Controller Bay without terests behind Ryan an opportunity to acquire the key to the channel of Con-troller Bay before the public knew what was going on."
