

UNIONISTS RAISE BANNER OF REVOLT

Austen Chamberlain Hailed at Halsbury Dinner as Future Premier.

ASQUITH CALLED TRAITOR

Disloyalty to Balfour, However, is Repudiated—Lansdowne's Policy of Abstention May Give Insurgents Chance.

LONDON, July 27.—The banner of revolt against present party leadership was raised last night at the dinner for the Earl of Halsbury, which the extremists among the Unionists intended should be a demonstration of their strength. Several hundred Unionist Peers, Unionist members of the House of Commons and party workers cheered the policy of resistance.

The Earl of Selborne, who is credited with being a candidate for leader of the opposition in the House of Lords, presided.

The younger Unionists and tariff reformers composed the bulk of the company. A letter from Joseph Chamberlain was read, in which he said:

"I heartily support the object of the meeting. The country owes a great debt to Lord Halsbury, since, in this crisis of its history he has refused to surrender his principles."

Lords Trustees of People.

The Earl of Selborne said the House of Lords were trustees of the people for their powers and rights under the constitution. He concluded amid cheers: "Our duty is to stand by the amendments unless and until we are outvoted."

"The division in our party is on the single issue of the creation of peers. When that issue is past, the party will close its ranks and fight for the restoration of the constitution and repeal the Palm act."

Balfour Proves Sagacity.

The final solution of the political crisis is uncertain, but it may safely be assumed now that Balfour and Lansdowne will remain as leaders of the Unionist party.

Mr. Balfour, at one of the most serious crises of his career, has again proved himself an astute leader. No sooner was his letter affirming his intention to stand or fall by Lord Lansdowne published than the incipient mutiny collapsed.

Organizers of the Halsbury banquet tumbled over each other to repudiate any disloyalty to Mr. Balfour. A list was published last night of more than 250 peers who have declared themselves supporters of Lord Lansdowne's policy and ready to allow the Parliament bill to pass, under protest.

The exact number of peers adhering to the Earl of Halsbury is not known, but it is believed will not exceed 150. As, however, Lord Lansdowne's present intention is merely to abstain and not vote for the bill when it is returned to the Lords, the insurgents could defeat it unless the government creates sufficient peers or Lord Lansdowne decides to vote for the bill, which is considered exceedingly improbable.

BERNSTEIN FIGHTS DUEL

French Playwright Meets Royalist Who Takes Place of Friend.

PARIS, July 27.—Henry Bernstein, the playwright, fought another duel today as the outcome of riots instituted by the members of the Royalist organization, known as the "Camelots du Roi," at the Comedie Francaise, which eventually forced Bernstein's play, "Après Moi," off the stage.

He was to have met the Royalist Lacour, who is now serving a three years term of imprisonment for attacking ex-premier Briand, but the Government refused to grant permission to Lacour to leave the jail, even temporarily, to carry out this engagement.

Billboards Cut Down

New Law in Effect, Height of City Signs Is Reduced.

The new billboard ordinance, passed by the people at the last general city election, is now in effect, and a local firm has its men at work reducing the height of many of the boards.

Parking Plan is Opposed

Sandy Boulevard Will Have Sewer and Pavement Laid at Once.

It was practically the unanimous sentiment of the Rose City Park Improvement League, in session last night, that the sewer shall be laid at once on Sandy boulevard, the double tracks put down and the street paved as soon as it can be done, and also that the district is opposed to the parking of the center, as proposed by the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company.

Confederate Bills Passed Here.

One of three men who have been flooding the city with Confederate money for the last two days, operating among foreigners in the North End, passed an aggregate of $70 worth of the spurious currency in the North End yesterday. The denominations of most of the bills passed was $20. The currency passed yesterday was on the "Merchant and Mechanic's Bank" and the "Bank of Georgia."

SOCIALIST ROW WAXES

LITERATURE SOLD AS WING SPEAKS ON STREET.

Orator Quits in Huff and Man Who Scores Him Is in Turn Denounced by Members.

When Socialists from Branch 1, which had expelled Stephen Wing Tuesday, offered their literature for sale along the bystanders at Third and Alder streets' Wednesday night, Wing took down his sign and departed.

"Don't give a penny to the support of that grafting association," were his farewell words.

Immediately after he had gone a chair was obtained from a nearby saloon and several men who professed to know Wing gave impromptu speeches, in which the mildest terms they applied to him were "grafter" and "traitor." Meanwhile the Socialists continued to take advantage of the crowd to sell their literature.

One man, haranguing from the chair, included the entire police system in his tirade and declared that Wing was supported by the "governing class" and received money for acting as a disrupting element in the Socialist party. While he was speaking C. B. Ellis, speaker for the Socialists, and several others standing in the outskirts of the crowd, denied that the speaker had any connection with the Socialist movement and denounced him as a man who "stood in with the police" himself.

Ellis had been conducting a meeting at Fourth and Washington streets Wednesday evening, but the entire crowd finally drifted to Wing's headquarters. The whole affair assumed a three-fold aspect, Wing denouncing Branch 1, Ellis denouncing Wing and members of Branch 1 declaring that they had nothing in common with either.

Police officers who had been present during Wing's speech remained with the crowd to prevent the disorder assuming serious proportions.
