SANDY BOULEVARD SEWER WANTED. A special committee from the Rose City Park Improvement Lengue will confer with the Mayor today concern-ing a sewer on Sandy boulevard. This sewer must be laid in advance of the construction of the main trunk sewer in Sullivan's Gulch, but the Mayor's recommendation that no dead-end recommendation that no dead-end sewers be laid may prevent the sewer from being put down on the Sandy boulevard and the pavement cannot be laid this year. A large sewer is provided for Sandy boulevard, a branch from the main trunk, and the committee will ask that the contract be let at once. There are other streets in the same situation as Sanity boulein the same situation as Samiy boule-vard with regard to sewers. Union avenue and several other important streets are to be flaved, frovided dead-end sewers can be laid. It is estimated that it will take almost a year to build the tube in Sullivan's Guich after the contract has been lat. It will be more than ten feet in diameter and may posipone the construction of all the branches at least two years, and hold ap all pavements if the anti-dead-end sewer policy is followed. ewer policy is followed.

the first time in its history Gresham is to have a regular night train on the interurban line, and beginning with August I, a car will leave Portland over the Gresham line from First and alder streets at 10 o'clock. The establishment of this service was due to a petition of the citizens of Gresham to the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company. The last car at the present time leaves at 6:45 P. M., although on Saturday nights a car leaves at 11:23 for Canadero. It is expected that this car will give the Gresham people more time to trade in the city. It will incidentally give them an opportunity to take in the theaters. Irregularities in the management of an estate worth nearly $20,000, are said to have been left behind by C. H. Ehrlinger, manager of the Pioneer Soda Works who disappeared from his home at 533 Sumner street a week ago. His departure followed immediately upon his removal as administrator of the estate of John Gundel, under charges of mismanagement, neglect and gross drunk-enness. The financial condition of the estate is not known, as Ehrlinger had made no report to the County Court in more than two years.

Pioneer Woman in Final Rest.—
The funeral of Mrs. I. A. Beal, who crossed the plains to Oregon with her husband, Judge Cornelius Beal, in 1864, was held yesterday morning from Lerch's undertaking chapel, at East Sixth and East Alder atreets. Interment was made in Lone Fir Cemetery. Members of Lincoln-Garfield Relief Corps. G. A. R., of which Mrs. Beal was a member, attended the services. Mrs. Beal was 75 years old, and had been ill for more than a year. Her husband died several years ago.

PROTECTION FROM STRIKERS PROVIDED. Attorney Manfilx reported to the court that Ehrlinger had been intoxicated for long periods, had managed the estate recklessly and had made no report in two years, although required to do so semi-annually. On these grounds he asked for the removal of the administrator, which was ordered, and Attorney Manniy was appointed in his stead. PROTECTION FROM STRIKERS PROVIDED.

Requests for police protection have been made by Burt Hicks, proprietor of an iron works at East Third and East Oak streets, following an alleged assault, made on one of his men Thursday night by strikers. The desired protection was ordered by Chief Slover. W. D. Conn, an employe, it is said, on his way home, was attacked and beaten severely by two unidentified men, who threatened to Mannix was appointed in his stead.

Clarence True Wilson, spoke last night at the campmeeting of the Evangelical Association, in progress at the campgrounds, at Jennings Lodge, Many members of the association from Oragon and Washington are in attendance.

That it will be a mistake for Port-land to build an auditorium covering more ground space than a city block, and that it is possible to put up a building seating 10,000 persons in this space, is the belief of Dr. Henjamin Young, pastor of Taylor Street Methodist Church. To erect an auditorium of larger proportions than this, he de-clares, will be a hindrance to public

"The Hellig Theater has been built to beat 2300 persons, and it could be made to seat many more by adding to the space now used for seats that is who died at her home, at $97 Tenino avenue, July 20, was held yesterday morning from the Spokane-Avenue Presbyterian Church, Rev. "The theater occu-pies only a small part of a block. I believe an auditorium could be built on a full block, which would seat 10,000 persons.

"The difficulty with a larger building than this is that those scated in the rear are unable to hear the speaker. They grow uneasy, and fail to keep quiet, which is very embar-rassing to him, and makes it still harder for others to hear.

Portland Raliway, Light & Power Company is relaying its double tracks for a mile on Union avenue from Alberta street to Woodlawn. About one-half of the work is accomplished. The cost to the railroad company will be $40,000. It is planned to paye Union avenue as far as Woodlawn this year.

With the natural slope of the ground at that point it would be possible to erect a building with two entrances, both on a level with the street, one to the main floor and the other to the first gallery.
