Governor Insists Deschutes Company Munst Protect Those Who Buy Land.

HEATED SESSION IS HELD

J. E. Morsen, of Deschutes Land Company, and Oregon Chief Ex-Tell What They of Each Other.

SALEM, Or. July 31.—(Special.)—Governor West denied tonight that he had any intention of hurling a steel paperweight at J. E. Morsen, president of the Descrutes Land Company, during a heated session of the Desert Land Board behind closed duors today.

Those who attended the board meeting

Those who attended the board meeting say that when Morsen and the Governor had become excited. Morsen ordered the state's Chief Executive to sit down, and that the Governor responded as fol-"You can't make me alt down. No man can come into this office and tell me to go to hell. I am going to talk here long enough to tell you what I think of you and the whole matter."

The trouble arose over the question of dealings of the Deschutes Land Com-

Bluff Ended, Says Governor.

"Morsen has had the boards bluffed in the past," declared Governor West in explaining his side of the situation. "Conditions have been such on that projert that there has been no prajection for the settlers. At one time the company was in default on its contract and the board had leverage on him. When we granted him an extension of time it was only when we secured his personal bond and the bond of his father-in-law

Protection Is Demanded.

"If the company completes its project and wants to sell the lands, well and good, but if he sticks the money into his own pockets we have no redress and there is no protection for the set-tiers. In addition to this, he could sell the options over and over again as far as we are concerned before we could

We wanted him to show what he has got and what goods he can deliver for the settlers. He has 'horsed' us long enough, and we Intend to see that there is some protection for the settlers. Some time ago the Government called our attention to the matter he has been sending through the mails.

"So recently we sent him a letter demanding that he furnish us with complete data showing how much money he had collected, how many options he had sold, as well as to what he intended to do on the project. In addition we demanded that he establish a irust fund of this money to assure the settlers of a square deal. "We told him in that letter that un-

"He has come back and declared we were attempting to blackmall him. I don't care how much money he makes. but I want to see the settlers protected but I want to see the settlers protected will be completed."

Right Acting Is Sought.

President Morsen of the Deschutes and Company, said: "When Governor est stepped onto the board he Land Company, said: ught he was a little God. I have thought he was a little God. I have been reported on previous occasions as leaving the room of the Desert Land Board in huff. I left disgusted with the thought that the people of Oregon had elected such a man as Governor, who was all the dignity of rowdylsm and no more. I would not strike West because he is too small and because he is Governor of the state. "The company is working strictly along legal lines," continues President Morsen. "We have legal rights throughout on our side and the board, or rather Governor West, is attempting to outline for us a few moral grounds and incidentally he tried to blackmail us. We have a letter in the safe in our offices which would be sub-ject of a blackmail suit if some of the members of the Desert Land Board had ot acknowledged that they had nothing to do with signing the letter and repudiated all connection with such a

The letter follows:

Ton will note from attached copies of letters recently received by the Desert Land Board that several complaints are being made regarding your company and the representations which have been made to Induce purchases of your land. You are also aware that the Beard has studily opposed and protected against any such sales prior to the reclamation of the lands. The matter was carefully completed at a Board meeting and I was directed to advise your and that unless a complete list of sales made by your company and a detailed financial statement of the Deschutes Land Company construct with the State Land Resard on the present time is furnished the Board on the protect that date satisfactory arrangements are made with the Board for the stabilishment of a suitable trust fund, as a guaranty of the compistion of the project, the Board will take the matter up with the postal authorities and request that your company be denied the use of the mails.

The above letter was mailed June The letter follows:

The above letter was mailed June 25," said Mr. Morsen, "and that gave us but five day in which to prepare all of the information sought. The letter was immediately turned over to my attorney, who advised me that it was a clear case of blackmail. Dispute Termned Personal.

"Governor West has declared to me several times that he intended to 'make me come through with his desires in that matter and I have told hi mthat he couldn't do it it has simmered down in a personal matter between myself and the Governor, and if it comes into the courts I am going to win. Morsen says that during the argument today. Governor West made a move as if to him him with a steel paper weight with which he was toying.

MAX FIGMAN AND PARTY.

BEND, Or., July 21.—(Special.)—Because Max Figman, the actor, has ar filegible signature, he nearly came to grief here fast week, when on his way to Odell Lake on a fishing outing.

The actor registered at the Bend Hotel, after his name placing what he intended to be "N Y C.," to indicate that he halled from Eastern New York.—But the new night clerk deciphered it otherwise. What he read was "Y. M. C. A." And, as Fate, would have it, there happened to have been a Y. McC. A. worker scheduled to arrive, and quite naturally Max was tagged as the missionary.

But it happens that "Mary Jane's Pa" isn't a member of the Y. M. C. A. after all, and so, shortly after his arrival, he entered the hotel bar and ordered nomething that the puzzled night clerk thought sounded like "Martini." That was too much for the hotel man, who summoned Hugh O'kane, the proprietor, with the intention of evicting the back-sliding missionery. Finally, when he comprehended what was going on. Mr. Figman saved the day by making himself known, and was allowed to enjoy his drink in peace.

was allowed to snjoy his drink in peace.

After recovering from the shock Mr. Figman proceeded on his way rejoicing, going to Odell Lake for trout fishing with Dr. U. C. Coe, Mayor of Bend. The party also included Drs. R. C. and E. H. ST. HELENS, Or., July 31 .- (Special.) J. Kendall ("Toots")Blakesley was sentenced by State Circuit Judge Campbell this afternoon to serve from six months to two years in the Penitentiary for attempting to extort money from County Treasurer Quick. The prisoner was brought from the County Jail in Portland to be sentenced Blakesley having been arrested in Portland for obtaining money by false pretense, several persons complaining that he had passed bad checks on them. Blakesley was returned to Portland on the 4 o'clock train, under guard of Sheriff Thompson. Blakesley was indicted here over two noney from the County Treasurer. Jack McCarthy, a notorious ex-convict, was indicted with him, but all efforts to find McCarthy were futile, and Blakesley faced trial alone. In the first trial, the jury disagreed and Blakesley was released under bond pending trial. Attorneys John H. Stevenson and B. H. Haney, of Portland, were his attorneys.

In the second trial at St. Helens several weeks ago Blakesley was found guilty, after five hours' deliberation by the jury. Attorney C. W. Fulton was his attorney in the second fight for liberty.

Blakesiey, with no attempt to disguise his handwriting, wrote to County Treasurer Quick, demanding money. The letter was signed "Jack," and the text led to the assumption that Jack McCarthy, the ex-convict, was making the demand. Chirography experts adjudged the handwriting in the letter and Blakesipy to be identical. Blakesley appeared at the postoffice the morning the letter was placed in County Treasurer Quick's box, and when an associate of Mr. Quick in the abstract susiness left the blackmaft letter in the box, Blakesley drew his attention to it and urged him to deliver it to d him to deliver it to circumstances led to Quick. These circun Blakesley's conviction.

While the company is to erect its own building it is closing a deal with a property owner here to put up a building according to plans of the company and give a long lease on it. That this building will be large and modern and that the system is to be renovated is the announcement made by the visiting officials. A new central energy switch board is to be installed and the entire city lines will be made new. It is the intention of the company to get its building ready and install the new plant this Fall. Now Klamath is under the old system and has to turn a crank to ring the telephone bell.

Deluge of Letters to Washington Authorities Give Tangled Theories of Crime.

OLYMPIA, Wash., July 31 .- (Special.) -- For the past week the authorltles of Thurston County have been dewith letters in regard to the murder of Archie Coble and his wife at Rainler, on the night of July 10. One received from Emily A. Fents, 3051/4 ears ago for attempting to extort Jefferson street, Portland, written to Governor Hay, reads as follows:

"Pardon me, but may I plead for the poor fellow Wilson, now held as a sus-pect? The cruel Third Degree' has caused him to lose his reason, to prove to you, dear Governor, and place in your hands proof of his finocence. The man, a logger, and who killed the Hill family committed the deed. Detectives are now on his trail.

Please see Wilson is cared for. He says he 'don't remember.'" Prosecuting Attorney Wilson may investigate the letter, as the Governor has placed it in his hands. A woman from Seattle says she saw in a dream "A woman kill the pair," while a man writes that he knows G. H. Wilson who has confessed to the crime, but later denied it, is guilty because he used to talk foolishly on the section.
