

NAVY LIEUTENANT TAKES OWN LIFE

Charles E. Brillhart Is Found Dead in Room at Hotel Astor, New York.

MOTIVE IS UNEXPLAINED

Note Left by Officer to Bride of Eight Months Is Delivered to Her Unopened by Coroner. Mystery Shrouds Case.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Lieutenant Charles E. Brillhart, of the United States Navy, was found dead from a bullet wound in his room at the Hotel Astor today.

There was no circumstance to contradict the coroner's immediate opinion that the case was one of suicide.

One of his hands, which were crossed over his body, as if lay in a chair, he clutched a .22-caliber revolver, with all but one of the six chambers loaded.

The bullet had struck his right temple, made its way through his head, and was found on the floor behind him.

To Mrs. Charles E. Brillhart, who is said to be his bride of only eight months, the naval lieutenant had sealed, addressed and stamped a letter, which the coroner forwarded to her without opening.

Lieutenant Brillhart arrived at the Astor shortly before noon Tuesday without baggage. No special attention was paid to the patron and nothing was heard of him until a maid reported that she had found him in his room.

Entrance was forced and the body was found as described. Identification was made from a checkbook, showing a balance of $29 on a Washington bank, cards and a signet ring.

The body was taken to the Bellevue Hospital morgue, where an autopsy will be performed. No one at the hotel could be found who heard the shot, but it was the coroner's opinion that the lieutenant had been dead 12 hours.

He was apparently between 25 and 40 years of age.

For the last year, Lieutenant Brillhart had suffered from persistent melancholia, a disease which physicians declare approximates incipient insanity.

For the first few months, he bore the disease courageously, but then he sought relief in drink, and when his friends noticed that he was becoming more and more addicted to intoxicants.

None of his brother officers knew of his suffering. While on duty he was a paragon of temperance. It was only at night and on his leaves of absence that he touched liquor.

ROAD UP VALLEY IS URGED

the state at large passes on at its meeting in September, then I shall announce whether I shall call a special session of the Legislature.

But if such a session is called it will be only under certain conditions. The Legislature must come here at their own expense and assure me that they will consider nothing but road legislation.

There will be no necessity of employing clerks, as the clerks in my office and the office of the Secretary of State will do that work, and do it without expense to the state.

Grant E. Dimick, of Clackamas County, a member of the Capital Highway Commission, declared that before the Legislature can appropriate money for highways it must decrease taxes in some other branch.

He deprecated the high cost of salmon hatcheries as well as useless bills and commissions which he declared, are eating up the money that should go into the road fund.

Both Sides Favored.

"But when this road is constructed from Portland to Salem I do not believe it should be a West Side road or an East Side road, I believe it should be a road on both the East and West Sides so that the tourists may come on one road and return on the other and this is the kind of a road that will be constructed."

C. T. Prall, the member of the commission from Multnomah County, stated that he had received the assurance of Judge Cleaton and the Commissioners of that county that the road to the Multnomah County line will receive every assistance that the court can give and stated that he had received an offer of John S. Reals of the gift of a rock crusher for the work.

County Judge Beattie, of Clackamas County, and County Commissioner Calkins, of Yamhill County, gave similar assurances, and W. Muir, of Dallas, stated that he had talked to the Polk County Judge today and he gave every assurance of sufficient assistance from that county.

Salem's Mayor Would Aid.

Mayor Lachmund, of Salem, declared that he would take off his coat and aid in every manner possible in the work.

DAUGHTER OF GENERAL DANIEL E. SICKLES, PLAINTIFF IN MYSTERIOUS SUIT AGAINST FATHER.

—Photograph Copyrighted by George Grantham Bain. MRS. DAYRELL CRACKENTHORPE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Mrs. Dayrell Crackenthorpe has brought a suit against her father, General Daniel E. Sickles. The exact nature of it is not known, and her attorney refuses to make a statement.

Mr. Crackenthorpe is connected with the British Embassy in Vienna. Mrs. Crackenthorpe was Eola Sickles, daughter of General Sickles' second wife.

crowded last night by persons interested in seeing what action the council would take on the petition of the Northern Pacific and O.-W. R. & N. Mr. Crackenthorpe is connected with the $750,000 improvements, work on which will begin as soon as the streets in question are vacated.

The petition was accepted by the Council and a resolution adopted setting September 5 as the date on which to hear objections. Persons opposed to the depot plans have secured a Seattle attorney to represent them, and yesterday the Mayor and Councilmen were served with summons and complaint notices to appear in the Superior Court and show why they should not be enjoined from making the vacations.

It is not generally believed that this action will delay the improvements or place any serious obstacles in the way of the plans of the railroads.

Harvester Company Will Fight Tuberculosis in Factories.

Experts to be Employed International Concern Will Study Conditions in All Its Plants and Health of Its 30,000 Workmen—Ailing to be Treated.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Preparations are being made by the International Harvester Company to install a scientific system of "studying employees" for evidences of incipient cases of the "white plague."

Philanthropy and a desire to help the 30,000 workmen employed by the company in its nineteen branches throughout the world are responsible for this new form of corporate enterprise.

Expenses will not be allowed to interfere with the plan to aid the employes, an official of the company said, when discussing the preliminary steps of the work.

The object is to find out what number of employes of the company are suffering from tuberculosis and what remedies to adopt for their cure. For the latter purpose it is proposed in the complete plans to have an expert at each of the company's plants to give advice and assistance to those afflicted.

"Ultimately we expect to install the scientific scheme in all our workshouses," said Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the company. "The expert will watch every employe at his plant, watch his method of work, his failings, see how the work affects him so far as getting tired is concerned, and by other numerous means known to science discover incipient cases of tuberculosis."

All this will be going on under the eyes of the employes without their knowing about it. Where a suspicious case is discovered a further examination will be made. Not until the expert definitely knows the employe is afflicted with incipient tuberculosis will he be allowed to know anything about the investigation.

PORTLAND IS IN "AD" RACE Boom for Associated Clubs' Convention in 1912 Is Launched.

BOSTON, Aug. 3.—Following a busy convention day the 3000 delegates to the seventh annual meeting of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America went to the Point of Pines and enjoyed an old-fashioned New England clam bake and sherry dinner.

Heien Marshall Thomson, of Chicago, in an address at the afternoon session said:

"The great possible testimony that advertising is all economy to the consumer is the fact that a great majority of the world's favor advertised goods. Women are acknowledged to be good buyers. If they felt they did not receive full value for their money in advertised goods, they would not buy them."

Toronto, Winnipeg, Winston, Salem, N. C., and Portland, Or., all launched booms for the next convention, but Dallas, Tex., still holds the lead.

DEATH VACATION'S SEQUEL Motorman Is Found Murdered After Two Years' Absence. PASADENA, Cal., Aug. 3.—More than two years after Thomas Barry, a motorman, started on a vacation, his skeleton, clad in the clothing he wore when last seen alive, was found yesterday in Las Flores Canyon, near Mount Wilson, with knife cuts in the clothing.

Miss Barrymore's Divorce Papers Served on Colt.

HUSBAND GETS SURPRISE Reconciliation Between Actress and Her Spouse Had Been Hoped For—More Than One Co-respondent Is Named, Rumor.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—(Special.)—Although unusual efforts were made to keep the fact a secret, some of her friends going so far as to assert that a reconciliation was likely, it was learned today that Ethel Barrymore, the actress, has served Russell Griswold Colt with papers in a suit for absolute divorce under the laws of the State of New York, which recognizes only one ground for divorce.

It was reported tonight that more than one correspondent had been named, but their identities have been kept dark. The only clew lay in the repetition of the story that a society woman had been specified.

Colt was surprised in his rooms in the Yale Club late when service of the papers was effected. Mrs. Colt had come here from Quebec, where she is summing up, to sign the final affidavit. Up to the moment she attached her signature to the documents, even her own lawyers were in doubt as to what course she would take.

Miss Barrymore's family was as much at a loss as her friends, and Mr. Colt himself, who had been making efforts to bring about a reconciliation, was the last to expect that action would come at this time. When he had recovered from his surprise, he readily agreed to a suggestion that the whole affair be gone through with as quietly as possible.

Miss Barrymore spent no more time in New York than was necessary. She was informed that her husband had been served and left for Canada. Friends made an effort to have her agree to meet Mr. Colt again before her departure, hoping that an eleventh hour reconciliation might be brought about. She declined in a characteristic manner. Then she boarded a train to return to "that blessed baby," as she calls her boy, who is under 2 years old.

Albany Merchants to Visit Portland. ALBANY, Or., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—In the interest of securing better shipping rates for this city a delegation of Albany merchants will attend the session of the Interstate Commerce Commission to be held in Portland, September 4. This action was decided upon by the Albany Commercial Club last night and a committee consisting of E. H. McCane, M. Senders, L. E. Hamilton, P. A. Young, P. D. Gilbert, A. Sternberg and J. H. Hulbert was named to attend the hearing.

Hood River Crop Estimate. HOOD RIVER, Or., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—Representatives from three big fruit marketing houses are in the Hood River valley this week estimating the coming season's apple crop. They are W. C. Michaels, of the Gibson Fruit Co., of Chicago, one of the largest distributors of Hood River apples in the Middle West; William Crossley, president of D. Crossley & Sons, of London, and R. D. Sprout, of the C. H. & C. W. Kimball Co., a New York commission house. Mr. Sprout, who is making this territory for the first time, says that the Northwest is the great fruit-growing section of the country.

And the doctors say she will die.

Surgeons Say They Can Save Life if Allowed to Treat Wound Made by Dog's Teeth; She Refuses.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—Modesty is dearer than life itself to Mrs. Millie Vosek, a young matron of this city who is dying because she will not expose her right leg to the surgeon's view. She was bitten by a dog but doctors say they can save her from death from the rabies if they treat her leg but Mrs. Vosek declares she prefers to die rather than disclose the limb.

On her way home several weeks ago, Mrs. Vosek was attacked by a ferocious bulldog, the property of a neighbor. The animal's teeth made a severe and painful wound in her right leg, near the hip. Her husband begged her to allow him to call a physician but Mrs. Vosek, being of a very sensitive disposition, would not hear of the plan. In the secure privacy of her boudoir, she treated the wound with simple home remedies but they proved worthless, the leg swelling and rabies developing.

The husband called a doctor and explained his wife's ailment. The physician advised an operation. Mrs. Vosek demurred. Her condition became serious and the doctors told her she would die unless she submitted her leg to them for treatment. "I would rather die than expose my leg—my limb in the presence of a doctor," said Mrs. Vosek determinedly, modestly.
