Dr. Clarence True Wilson addressed the ministers on the necessity of temperance organizations within the Methodist Church. His thought was that work within the church should be more organized than it was and that there should be more personal activity along this line by the church members, especially in gettting people to sign pledges. He said that the pasters and the people were doing excellent work in conjunction with the different temperance organizations, but that they were not doing enough as Methodists. Rev. C. A. Priesing, formerly pastor of the Stanton-avenue Church, was transferred to the California confer-He is now in Chico, Henry J. ed., from Bertha, Minn., in the Northern German Conference, epted as a member of the Pacific Con-

Following the receipt of information that efforts are being made by an attorney interested in Lovegrove's welfare to get Mrs. Lovegrove, who is in Gratton, Cal., to secure a divorce, Brannock hurried away to block the proceedings. He declares that an effort is being made to get Lovegrove di-vorced and thereby make any further prosecution of Lovegrove impossible as far as statutory charges are concerned.

Brannock Is in Earnest.

Before Brannock left he gave out the Before Brannock left he gave out the information that he intends to follow up the case and cause his wife and Lovegrove to be rearrested. He declared he would never stop until he had them in jail again.

I certainly would not have let the case go as far as the courts. I would have taken the law in my own hands. 'I am prepared to start out on this case anew, and I will never quit until I have won. I followed Lovegrove and my wife for two and a half years, and found them once, and I believe I can locate them again. I have some new information to work on now, and I don't think it will take me two years this time."

Sons to Be Given Home.

Mr. Brannock says he is first going to get a good home for his two sons, whom he recovered from Mrs. Bran-nock, and then he will begin his work. He said he had received information that an attorney was trying to get Mrs. Lovegrove to secure a divorce. He says he will block this proceeding. The office of the District Attorney

That the note which Attorney J. M. Haddock took from Lovegrove for conducting the defense and which was said to be of doubtful value, may yet be with the management of the Cale. ducting the defense and which was said to be of doubtful value, may yet be good, unless Lovegrove blocks pay-ment, appears from the fact that Love-grove alleges he has a considerable sum of money due him from the Ore-gon & Washington Trust Company, which has Portland offices in the Chamber of Commerce building.

Company Receives Notice.

Lovegrove appeared in the offices of the company Thursday morning and made a request that the note he had given Haddock be ignored as far as the company was concerned. Love-grove intimated he had a large amount of money due from the company through its officers in Seattle, Wash, and he did not wish Haddock to get it. He was informed that inasmuch as and he did not wish Haddock to get it. He was informed that inasmuch as nothing was known of Haddock's right to the money, he need have no fear of the note being paid. At that Lovegrove is said to have become very familiar in the office, saying among other things that he had deserted a wife and family in California and was living with another woman.

The presence of Lovegrove in the city Thursday was a matter of surprise to the officers who are looking for him, it being their belief that he had gone to Vancouver, Wash.
